Dear Fellow Blockbuster Stockholder:

Gregory S. Meyer, CFA ("Meyer", "we" or the "Proponent") is the beneficial owner of 620,000 shares of Class A common stock and 25,000 shares of Class B common stock of Blockbuster Inc. ("Blockbuster" or the "Company"), representing approximately 0.44% of the outstanding shares of Class A common stock of the Company. For the reasons set forth in the attached Proxy Statement, we believe that the Board of Directors of the Company (the "Board") has not acted in the best interests of its stockholders. Specifically, we believe the Board lacks sufficient expertise and alignment of interests with shareholders which has led to a significant loss of shareholder value over the past several years. We believe the overall strength of the Board would be improved with the addition to the Board of Gregory S. Meyer, CFA. We are therefore seeking your support at the annual meeting of stockholders of the Company (the "Annual Meeting") scheduled to be held on May 26, 2010 at 10:00 a.m. Central Standard Time and at any adjournments, postponements or continuations thereof at 1201 Elm Street, 42nd Floor, Dallas, Texas 75270 for the following:

1. To elect Gregory S. Meyer, CFA to the Company's Board of Directors instead of James W. Crystal and to elect six other nominees for a one-year term ending in 2011;

2. To [] the following advisory (non-binding) resolution:

RESOLVED, that the stockholders hereby ratify the compensation of the named executive officers set forth in the Summary Compensation Table and the accompanying narrative disclosure in this proxy statement of material factors provided to understand the Summary Compensation Table (but excluding the Compensation Discussion & Analysis).

3. To ratify the appointment of PriceWaterhouseCoopers LLP to serve as independent accountants for fiscal 2010;

4. To [] an amendment to Blockbuster's second amended and restated certificate of incorporation, as amended, to (a) effect the conversion of each outstanding share of Class B common stock into one share of Class A common stock and rename the Class A common stock as "common stock;" (b) eliminate provisions relating to the Class B common stock and Blockbuster's dual class common stock structure, and (c) effect a reverse stock split of Blockbuster's issued and outstanding common stock at an exchange ratio that will be within a range of 1-for-15 and 1-for-25 and that will be determined by Blockbuster's Board of Directors; and

5. To consider such other matters, if any, as may properly come before the Annual Meeting.

We are not seeking control of the Board. Rather, we are seeking one (1) out of seven (7) seats on the Board to ensure that the interests of the stockholders, the true owners of the Company, are vigorously represented in the boardroom by truly qualified and independent representatives. Through the attached Proxy Statement, we are soliciting proxies to elect not only Gregory S. Meyer, CFA as a director, but also the candidates who have been nominated by the Company other than James W. Crystal. This gives stockholders the ability to vote for the total number of directors up for election at the Annual Meeting. The names, backgrounds and qualifications of the Company's nominees, and other information about them, can be found in the Company's proxy statement. There is no assurance that any of the Company's nominees will serve as directors if our nominee is elected.

We urge you to carefully consider the information contained in the attached Proxy Statement and then to support our efforts by signing, dating and returning the enclosed GOLD proxy card today.

REASONS FOR THE SOLICITATION

We are concerned about the future of Blockbuster and the ability of the incumbent Board to stabilize the Company, position it for future growth, and increase shareholder value. We believe the incumbent Board has presided over a massive destruction of shareholder value that should not go unrecognized. In particular, we remain concerned with the misalignment of the current Board's interests with those of the Company's shareholders and the lack of certain core competencies and relevant experience on the Board to today's rapidly evolving home entertainment industry. We believe that the election of a truly independent director with a fresh perspective and highly relevant industry experience will significantly enhance the ability of the Company's stockholders to regain lost stockholder value and create future gains.

Lack of Alignment of Current Board with Shareholders

Mr. Meyer owns more shares of Blockbuster than any non-management director and more shares than any executive of the Company with the exception of CEO and Chairman Jim Keyes. Further, in contrast to Mr. Meyer, who purchased all of the shares he owns in the open market with his own money, the incumbent non-management directors have a shockingly low share ownership, even though each director has been awarded thousands of shares each year he/she has served on the Board. In our opinion, the current directors' economic incentives are not aligned with those of the Company's shareholders.

Mr. Meyer is the beneficial owner of 620,000 shares of the Company's Class A common stock and 25,000 shares of the Company's Class B commons stock. Mr. Meyer invested in Blockbuster because of its historically dominant market share position, strong brand awareness, and a belief that the multi-channel distribution strategy advocated by Blockbuster CEO and Chairman Jim Keyes had the potential to be successful if executed properly. We believe the CEO should be supported by a well-informed and strategically minded Board that understands the rapidly evolving home entertainment industry. Mr. Meyer intends to work constructively with current management by providing important strategic insight, guidance, support and monitoring in a manner only one with a significant stake and relevant industry know-how can provide. We believe Blockbuster shareholders and management deserve a better, more effective Board.

A Discussion of James W. Crystal, the director Mr. Meyer seeks to replace

As discussed in more detail below, we believe that James W. Crystal epitomizes what is wrong with Blockbuster's board today, including: low share ownership, lack of relevant experience/understanding of the Company's core business, and lack of focus due to overboarding.

Alignment of Interests/Share Ownership

On a Board that is notable for the low stock ownership of its non-management directors, Mr. Crystal is notable for holding the lowest number of shares of Blockbuster among all the directors. According to the Company's preliminary proxy statement filed April 6, 2010, Mr. Crystal owns just 143,689 shares of Blockbuster's Class A Common Stock, representing less than 0.1% of the outstanding Class A Common Stock. He owns no shares of Class B Common Stock. Mr. Crystal owns fewer than 24% of the number of shares of Class A Common Stock owned by Mr. Meyer. Additionally, it is worth noting that many of Mr. Crystal's shares were the result of stock awards from the Company. Further, every year since Mr. Crystal joined the Board, he has elected to take his director's compensation using the minimal number of shares and the maximum amount of cash. This would seem difficult to justify given Blockbuster's cash-strapped position over the past few years and puts into question Mr. Crystal's faith in the Company.

Relevant Experience

It is not clear which part of Mr. Crystal's background provides direct, or even indirect, relevance to Blockbuster's business. According to Blockbuster's preliminary proxy filing, Mr. Crystal currently serves as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Frank Crystal & Company, a privately owned insurance brokerage firm, and has served in such capacities since 1958. It appears that Mr. Crystal has no experience in the video rental industry, nor even any experience in the broader home entertainment industry or retail sector. According to the Company's preliminary proxy statement, "Mr. Crystal provides the Board with risk assessment, risk management and financial expertise resulting from his more than 40-year career as an executive in the insurance industry. This is particularly important to Blockbuster at the current time given that the business is facing unprecedented competitive and industry challenges." It is difficult to see what good Mr. Crystal's 'risk management' has done for Blockbuster shareholders over the past three years given that significant market share has been lost to competitors and the value of the stock has been decimated.

By contrast, as discussed in further detail below, Mr. Meyer has spent the last eight years in the fastest growing segment of the video rental industry and was one of the pioneers in the DVD rental kiosk space which comprises one of Blockbuster key future distribution channels as it diversifies away from brick-and-mortar stores.

Overboarding = Lack of Focus

Mr. Crystal serves on more boards than any other current Blockbuster Director. According to the Company's preliminary proxy statement, Mr. Crystal sits on no fewer than seven (7) boards that, in addition to Blockbuster, include Frank Crystal & Company, Stewart & Stevenson, LLC, Banco di Caribe, ENNIA Caribe Holding, N.V., Auto Resources, Inc. (located in Beverly Hills, CA), and Atlantic International Insurance Co., Ltd. (located in Bermuda).

It is difficult to believe that any one individual can devote a sufficient amount of time and focus to act as an effective monitor to any company when sitting on 7 boards, let alone a company like Blockbuster that is in the midst of financial distress and a major transformation in the rapidly evolving home entertainment industry. Mr. Crystal represents a classic example of overboarding that defies best-practice corporate governance guidelines. Blockbuster shareholders deserve a director who can dedicate the necessary amount of time and attention to providing prudent guidance to the Company during these challenging times.

Track Record

Mr. Crystal was appointed as a director of Blockbuster in February 2007 when the price of the Company's Class A common stock was over $6.50 per share. As of this writing, the stock trades at $.30 per share, representing a loss of over 95% of its value. That is not an impressive track record of value creation by any standard. By contrast, one of Blockbuster's competitors, Netflix, was trading below $24 per share in February 2007 and trades today at $80 per share, representing a gain of over 300% during the time that Blockbuster lost 95% of its value. Mr. Meyer believes this startling disparity of outcomes is a result of cumulative poor decisions made on behalf of the Blockbuster Board, largely due to a lack of aligned interests with the shareholders.

Judgment : The Circuit City Offer

Stockholders should also remember that Mr. Crystal was a sitting Blockbuster director when the Company announced on April 14, 2008 that it had offered to acquire (now-defunct) Circuit City for between $6.00 and $8.00 per share in cash, subject to due diligence. The offer was made in a letter sent to Circuit City CEO Philip Schoonover on February 17, 2008 on behalf of the Blockbuster Board of Directors, which stated that it fully supported the offer. The Board should have been focusing on the core business of Blockbuster rather than speculating on the acquisition of other struggling retailers. We believe it was this lack of focus and poor judgment at the Board level that contributed to the rapid loss of market share and the declining stock price of Blockbuster over the past several years.

Related Party Transactions: Mr. Crystal's Company is Blockbuster's Insurance Broker

Per Blockbuster's preliminary proxy statement, the Company has "entered into a Broker Service Agreement, effective October 1, 2009, with Frank Crystal & Company whereby Frank Crystal & Company will serve as our exclusive insurance broker of record through October 1, 2010. Mr. Crystal is Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Frank Crystal & Company. We will pay Frank Crystal & Company a service fee under the Broker Service Agreement."

The Company's proxy statement goes on further to say that as a result of its arrangement with Frank Crystal & Company the Board has determined that '(1) while Mr. Crystal technically meets the heightened standards of independence applicable to audit committee members contained in Rule 10A-3 promulgated under the Exchange Act, the Board prefers that he not serve as a member of the Audit Committee due to this relationship, and (2) while Mr. Crystal meets the heightened standards of independence applicable to compensation committee members contained in Rule 16b-3 promulgated under the Exchange Act, he does not meet the heightened standards of independence applicable to compensation committee members contained in Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code").

In other words, the Board has determined that the only committee it is comfortable with Mr. Crystal serving on is the Compensation Committee which met a total of 3 times in 2009. Mr. Meyer will act with uncompromised independence and a total commitment to stockholder interests.

A Comparison of the Nominee Candidates: Crystal vs. Meyer

	Gregory S. Meyer, CFA	James W. Crystal
Direct Experience in Home Entertainment Industry	YES	NO
Substantial Shares Purchased with his own money	YES	NO
Brings Fresh Perspective to Board	YES	NO
Director since BBI was trading at $6.50 per share	NO	YES
Serves on at least 7 boards	NO	YES
CEO of company that acts as Blockbuster's insurance broker	NO	YES

Which Candidate will provide more value to the Company?

We question whether Mr. Crystal is the right nominee for the Company and whether he has added value and will add value to the Company when compared to Mr. Meyer who has significantly greater share ownership, all paid for out of his own pocket, and more relevant industry experience. We believe Mr. Meyer will bring much needed insight, accountability and a fresh and relevant perspective to the Board that is desperately needed at the present time.

Mr. Meyer will serve you, the stockholders and true owners of Blockbuster and will bring expertise and a fresh perspective to Blockbuster.

Mr. Meyer, if elected, will comprise a minority of the Board and will be wholly independent, with no vested interest in any single strategic direction, other than taking the steps necessary to enhance stockholder value and capitalize on the opportunities available to the Company.

BLOCKBUSTER STOCKHOLDERS HAVE AN ALTERNATIVE: MR. MEYER IS A HIGHLY QUALIFIED & INDEPENDENT DIRECTOR CANDIDATE

Mr. Meyer is a candidate who is committed to taking the necessary steps to enhance stockholder value. Mr. Meyer has the necessary experience and skill set to execute on this commitment, both operationally and strategically. Mr. Meyer is independent of management and the current Board and is committed to selecting and executing the right plans, operationally and strategically, for the optimization of value for all Blockbuster stockholders and the realization of a share price worthy of Blockbuster's intrinsic value.

The following are highlights of the relevant operational and strategic experience of Mr. Meyer:

Direct Relevant Industry Expertise

Mr. Meyer spent the last eight years of his career in the highest growth segment of the video rental industry. He founded, built, successfully operated, and sold one of the leading companies in the DVD rental kiosk space. Mr. Meyer has developed a broad and deep understanding of all aspects of the home entertainment retail marketplace and is very familiar with brick-and-mortar, by-mail, kiosk-based, and online distribution strategies for home entertainment products. Mr. Meyer will bring a fresh perspective and clearly complimentary business experience to the Board of Blockbuster if elected.

Mr. Meyer founded DVDXpress in 2001, a pioneer in the DVD rental kiosk industry and as CEO built that company to 1,000 locations in 30 US States and the UK. Mr. Meyer sold DVDXpress to Coinstar Inc. in 2007 and served as Managing Director responsible for the DVDXpress division within Coinstar from 2007 to 2009 when it was merged with Redbox. The combined DVD kiosk division within Coinstar now comprises over 23,000 kiosks accounting for over 18% of the US DVD rental market and responsible for the majority of Coinstar's revenue and EBITDA.

Financial Expertise

Mr. Meyer's prior experience includes the founding of an Internet-based trading platform for fixed-income securities, and acting as vice president in the Fixed Income Division of a bulge bracket Wall Street firm. We believe this experience in the bond market is highly relevant to understanding the various debt restructuring options that Blockbuster is considering at the moment. Mr. Meyer is particularly concerned that Blockbuster selects the optimal restructuring option, if one is indeed required, that results in the lowest possible dilution, if any, of shareholders.

Mr. Meyer serves on the Board of Advisors of Value Movies, a 501(c)3 organization that encourages children ages 8-17 to regularly view movies with positive messages and uplifting inspirational lessons that build character and foster a sense of ethics.

Mr. Meyer received a BA degree, summa cum laude, in Economics and French from Dartmouth College and an MBA with a concentration in finance/accounting from the Tuck School of Business at Dartmouth. Mr. Meyer holds the Certified Financial Analyst designation.
