Item 5. Other Events

On January 24, 2001, Hawaiian Electric Industries, Inc. (HEI) held a teleconference call and webcast to discuss December 31, 2001 yearend earnings. Several forward-looking statements were made on that call that were not included in HEI's earnings press release filed on Form 8-K on January 24, 2002 or other filings made with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including forward-looking statements about pension credits, interest rate spread and the operating loss for the "other" segment. The Company is providing information about these items in written form, as well as correcting information disclosed about the operating loss for the "other" segment.

Edgar Filing: HAWAIIAN ELECTRIC INDUSTRIES INC - Form 8-K

Pension credits

The market performance of the assets in HEI's master pension trust and a change in the discount rate in 2001 is currently projected to negatively impact Hawaiian Electric Company, Inc.'s net income by $2 million in 2002 compared to 2001.

Interest rate spread

In December 2001, the interest rate spread at American Savings Bank, F.S.B. (ASB) was 3.37% and ASB endeavors to maintain that spread into 2002.

Operating loss for the "other" segment

The operating loss for the "other" segment is estimated to be between $10-12 million and not $15.5 million as was disclosed on the call. The $10-12 million contemplates the current level of administrative and general expenses, does not include interest expense or income taxes and is subject to variability (e.g. for performance-based incentive compensation). Operating loss for the "other" segment for the year ended December 31, 2001 includes $8.7 million of investment losses related to investment securities acquired by the holding company in connection with the disposition of certain trust securities by ASB. The remaining book value of these investment securities amounted to $15.5 million as of December 31, 2001.

Other forward-looking statements were made on the call, including, but not limited to, forward-looking statements about the outlook for the Hawaii and national economy. These statements and the statements detailed above are subject to risks and uncertainties. Forward-looking statements are statements that are predictive in nature, depend upon or refer to future events or conditions, and usually include words such as expects, anticipates, intends, plans, believes, predicts, estimates or similar expressions. Forward-looking statements in this filing should be read in conjunction with "Forward-looking statements" set forth on page v of HEI's Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2001 (incorporated by reference herein) and in HEI's future periodic reports that discuss important factors that could cause HEI's results to differ materially from those anticipated in such statements. Forward-looking statements speak only as of the date of this filing.
