NEWS RELEASE

10 April 2007

CEMEX TO LIFT TAKEOVER OFFER FOR RINKER

TO US$15.85

Rinker board recommends shareholders accept the higher offer

in the absence of a superior proposal

The directors of Rinker Group Limited (Rinker) today announced that CEMEX S.A.B. de C.V (CEMEX) has agreed to lift its cash takeover offer from US$13.00 to US$15.85 per Rinker ordinary share. The higher price represents an increase over the original bid price of US$2.85 or 22%, or an increase of US$2.98 or 23%¹, assuming CEMEX had exercised its right to deduct the 13 US cents interim dividend¹ (for the year ending March 2007, or YEM07) from the original offer price.

For American Depositary Receipt holders, the higher offer represents US$79.25 per ADR US$14.90 or 23%¹ above the initial CEMEX offer.

The higher offer is equivalent to A$19.412 per Rinker ordinary share at the current A$-US$ exchange rate, or A$3.65¹ above the initial offer. It is within the US$15.85 US$17.74 valuation range of the Independent Expert's Report, included in the Target's Statement distributed to shareholders in November 2006³.

The increased CEMEX offer represents:

- a 40% premium² to the Rinker A$ordinary share price on 26 October 2006, the day before CEMEX launched their takeover bid
- a 50% premium to the ordinary share price, calculated in US$, on 26 October 2006⁴
- a 48% premium to the US ADR price on 26 October 2006
- a multiple of 10.4x EV/EBITDA (based on EBITDA for the 12 months to 31 December 2006)⁵, and
- a 5% premium to the closing share price on 5 April 2007, before the Australian Stock Exchange closed for the Easter break.

In relation to the Rinker YEM07 interim dividend of 16 Australian cents/13 US cents² per ordinary share (80 Australian cents / 65 US cents per ADR²), which was paid on 11 December last year, CEMEX's initial offer entitled CEMEX to deduct dividends paid during the offer period from the offer price. However, CEMEX has agreed not to reduce the higher US$15.85 offer by the amount of the interim dividend.

CEMEX also announced its intention, subject to obtaining any necessary ASIC modifications or Takeovers Panel approval, to give existing shareholders (for ordinary shares purchased prior to today's date), the option of a fixed Australian dollar price of A$19.50 per share, for their first 2,000 ordinary shares.

CEMEX has also agreed to waive all conditions to the bid, except the 90% minimum acceptance condition. If the required level of acceptances is not reached, the offer will lapse unless this condition is waived. CEMEX has described the offer as best and final, in the absence of a superior proposal.

Any Rinker shareholders who have already accepted the initial CEMEX offer will be eligible for the increased offer consideration announced today.

Rinker directors concluded unanimously that it is in the best interests of shareholders to recommend in the absence of a superior proposal that shareholders accept the increased CEMEX offer. Rinker directors intend to accept the higher offer for their own Rinker shares, in the absence of a superior proposal.

Rinker chairman John Morschel said: This recommendation has been made after careful consideration of available alternatives, and was not taken lightly. Over the past five months, Rinker directors and senior management have reviewed available options, with one objective in mind to maximise value for shareholders.

He said potential alternatives included transactions with industry participants and private equity investors, as well as a corporate restructure, involving the potential demerger of Rinker's Australian subsidiary, trading as Readymix, and the re-domicile of Rinker to the US.

Despite the temporary downturn in US residential construction, Rinker's profit result for YEM07 is expected to be within the guidance previously advised to the market. Whilst Rinker directors remain confident about the long term prospects of the Rinker business, the impact of the downturn on the current financial year (YEM08) is difficult to predict, said Mr Morschel.

In light of the above, and following evaluation of the available alternatives including relevant regulatory, timing and other execution risks directors concluded that, in the absence of a superior proposal, the higher CEMEX cash offer represents the best risk-adjusted return for shareholders. Directors also took into account that if the CEMEX offer was withdrawn, the Rinker share price may fall, he said.

On behalf of the directors, I would like to thank our employees for their exceptional performance in delivering Rinker's outstanding results in the four years since the demerger⁶. This has seen our A$ share price increase almost 295%, with a total shareholder return of 332% over that period⁷, and created the value that CEMEX has recognised with this takeover bid. I would also like to thank our shareholders for their loyalty, support and encouragement.

The CEMEX offer is currently scheduled to close at 7.00pm (Sydney time) on 18 May 2007 and 5.00am (New York time) on 18 May 2007, following a further extension announced today.

Full details of CEMEX's higher offer will be set out in a fourth Supplementary Bidder's Statement, expected to be mailed to shareholders shortly. The Rinker board's recommendation in relation to the higher offer will be issued in a Supplementary Target's Statement, which will also be mailed to shareholders. Shareholders are encouraged to read both of these documents and, if they consider it appropriate, seek professional advice before deciding how to respond to CEMEX's higher offer.

If they have any questions, Rinker shareholders should call the Rinker Shareholder Information Line⁸ during normal working hours on 1800 285 948 (toll-free in Australia), +61 2 9207 3855 (outside Australia) or 1 866 454 3170 (toll-free in the US).

A copy of the Bid Agreement between CEMEX and Rinker will be separately filed with the ASX.

Nothing in such an amended Hold Separate Stipulation and Order shall (1) commit or require the Target to make any divestiture, and Cemex and the Target further acknowledge that the fact and terms of any such divestiture of assets of the Target shall require the approval of the Target board (as reconstituted) after the occurrence of a Divestiture Trigger or (2) require the Target board to take or agree to take any action, or refrain from taking any action, that would or would be likely to be inconsistent with its fiduciary or statutory duties under Australian law. Cemex indemnifies the Target and each of its directors from any claim, action, damage, loss, liability, cost, expense or payment of whatever nature and however arising which the Target or any of its directors suffers, incurs or is liable for in connection with the Target's entry into and compliance with this clause 3.3(d) and the performance of obligations under any amended Hold Separate Stipulation and Order signed by the Target in the circumstances referred to in this clause 3.3(d). - (c) Subject to the Bidder complying with its obligations under clause 2.1 and subject also to clause 3.5, if a Competing Proposal is announced or is received by the Target which the Target directors consider is superior to the Takeover Offer and as a consequence of which the Target directors intend to change or withdraw their recommendation in respect of the Takeover Offer, the Target must notify the Bidder of the material terms of, but not the identity of the party making, the Competing Proposal (if it has not been publicly announced) and the Target directors must delay publicly announcing the change or withdrawal of their recommendation for 48 hours from the time that the Bidder became aware of the Competing Proposal (either by way of the public announcement of the Competing Proposal or by way of a notice from the Target).
- (d) Subject to the Bidder complying with its obligations under clause 2.1 and subject also to clause 3.5, if requested by the Bidder, at a time after the Bidder has received acceptances under the Takeover Offer in respect of more than 50% of the Target's issued shares, the Target must allow not more than 3 Representatives, notified by the Bidder to the Target and approved by the Target acting reasonably, to have access to information of the Target solely for the purpose of investigating whether assets of the Target the subject of the DOJ Settlement can be sold as self sustaining entities. Nothing in this clause 3.4(d) requires the Target to give the Bidder's Representatives (or any other person) access to information which the Target considers to be competitively or commercially sensitive. Before the Target will allow the Bidder's Representatives access to any information pursuant to this clause 3.4(d), the Bidder, Cemex and each of the 3 Representatives referred to above must enter into such confidentiality undertakings as may be reasonably required by the Target and must comply with such other reasonable requirements as the Target may direct in relation to such access.

3.5 Exceptions

Nothing in clauses 3.2, 3.3 or 3.4 prevents the Target or the Target Directors from taking or refusing to take any action provided that the Target Directors have determined, in good faith after having consulted with their external legal and financial advisers, that failing to take, or failing to refuse to take, such action would or would be likely to constitute a breach of the Target Directors' fiduciary or statutory obligations.

RINKER CHAIRMAN JOHN MORSCHER

COMMENTS ON HIGHER CEMEX TAKEOVER OFFER FOR RINKER

Thank you all for coming this morning especially at such short notice.

My name is John Morschel and I am the Chairman of Rinker Group.

With me by telephone from West Palm Beach in Florida today is our Chief Executive David Clarke, who unfortunately was unable to join us here in person.

Also with us are our Company Secretary Peter Abraham and our Vice President of Corporate Affairs and Investor Relations Debra Stirling.

We don't expect this to be a long meeting.

We don't have a presentation we just wanted to give you the opportunity to ask questions about the announcement earlier today, in connection with the CEMEX takeover bid for Rinker. The gist of the announcement is that CEMEX have agreed to lift their cash takeover offer for Rinker from US$13.00 to US$15.85 per ordinary share. This is an increase of US$2.85 or 22 per cent or 23 per cent¹ if you include the 13 US cents interim dividend that CEMEX was entitled to deduct from the offer price.

The revised bid values Rinker at an enterprise value of US$15.3 billion or A$18.7 billion² which I believe is the highest cash offer ever made for an Australian company.

The increase is 23 per cent or US$2.98 assuming CEMEX had exercised its right to reduce the original offer price, by the 16 Australian cents or 13 US cents per share interim dividend that we paid to shareholders on December 11 last year. Under the terms of the original bid, CEMEX has the right to deduct dividends paid during the offer period from the offer price.

However, CEMEX has agreed not to reduce their US$15.85 offer by the interim dividend amount.

For our US American Depositary Receipt holders, the revised bid represents US$79.25 per ADR which is US$14.25 or 22% above CEMEX's initial offer or US$14.90 and 23% higher, assuming CEMEX had deducted the interim dividend.

In Australian dollars, this higher offer is equivalent to A$19.41² per Rinker ordinary share using Thursday's Reserve Bank Mid-point Rate as the A$-US$ exchange rate.

This is A$3.65¹ above the initial offer price, which is A$15.76¹ if we assume CEMEX were to deduct the interim dividend from the offer price, as I explained earlier.

Although the offer is still denominated in US dollars, CEMEX has agreed, subject to obtaining any necessary ASIC modifications or Takeovers Panel approval, to give all shareholders (for shares purchased prior to today) the option of a fixed

Edgar Filing: RINKER GROUP LTD - Form 6-K

Australian dollar offer price of A$19.50 for their first 2,000 ordinary shares.

The higher offer is within the US$15.85 – US$17.74 valuation range of the Independent Expert's Report, which was included in the Target's Statement distributed to shareholders in November 2006.

The Independent Expert, Grant Samuel & Associates, has also verbally advised Rinker that the higher offer from CEMEX is within their current US$ valuation range³.

The higher offer represents:

- a 40%² premium, in Australian dollars, to the Rinker ordinary share price just before CEMEX launched its takeover bid on the 26th October last year and a 50%⁴ premium, in US dollars
- a 48% premium to the US ADR price, just before the bid was launched
- a multiple of 10.4x EV/EBITDA (based on 12 months trailing EBITDA to the 31st of December last year)⁵, and
- a 5% premium to the closing share price last Thursday, just before the Australian Stock Exchange closed for the Easter break.

CEMEX has also agreed to waive all conditions to the bid, except the 90 per cent minimum acceptance condition. If they reach the 90 per cent level, they can then proceed to compulsorily acquire the remaining shareholdings and move to 100 per cent ownership.

However, if the required level of acceptances is not reached the offer will lapse unless this condition is waived.

CEMEX has described the offer as best and final, in the absence of a superior proposal.

Any Rinker shareholders who may have already accepted the initial CEMEX offer will be eligible for the increased offer price announced today.

For the Rinker board, the increased offer was bitter sweet.

The directors have unanimously recommended that in the absence of a superior proposal it is in the best interests of shareholders to accept the increased CEMEX offer.

All Rinker directors intend to accept the higher offer for our own Rinker shares, again assuming no superior proposal arises.

But we have been working extremely hard to find an alternative to this bid.

Directors strongly rejected CEMEX's initial US$13 a share offer in October saying it was far too low.

It certainly was. Rinker has a great track record and has outperformed its global construction materials peers on many measures since we demerged from CSR.

CEMEX subsequently indicated to us after considerable negotiation that it would lift its bid to a best and final US$15.85 that is, within the Independent Expert Range if the Rinker board agreed to recommend the offer.

After careful consideration, the Rinker board came to the view that shareholders should be given the opportunity to consider the offer and accordingly, we have recommended that offer.

Our recommendation was made after five months of carefully considering a series of alternatives. Directors and senior management have together reviewed various options, as we sought to maximise the value for our shareholders.

Our benchmark was to find an alternative that would exceed the value of CEMEX's offer. In doing that of course, directors had to take into account the various regulatory, timing and other execution risks.

Edgar Filing: RINKER GROUP LTD - Form 6-K

In particular, we knew that many shareholders would prefer us to find an alternative that incorporated some substantive growth particularly in the US, which has been our primary growth focus for many years.

Since 1998, we have invested around two billion US dollars in more than 50 acquisitions and a further one billion dollars in new plants and quarries, and other expansion opportunities.

Unfortunately, we were not able to find a substantive growth option that would allow us to build further on that performance.

We looked at transactions involving other industry participants, private equity and corporate restructuring with or without partners and with or without the demerger of the Readymix operations here in Australia and including a re-domicile of Rinker to the US.

But we could not find an alternative that offered a better risk-reward combination for our shareholders than what the higher CEMEX bid offers.

Despite the slowdown in US residential construction, we again confirm Rinker's profit guidance for our financial year ended March 2007. Earnings per share is expected to be around the bottom of the 84 to 90 US cents range, excluding the tax consolidation gain and takeover defence costs.

Whilst as I indicated, Rinker's directors remain confident about the long term prospects of the Rinker business, the impact of the downturn on this current financial year is difficult to predict right now.

We also took into account that if the CEMEX offer was withdrawn, there was a risk that the Rinker share price may fall.

Overall, given the current uncertainty and our evaluation of the available alternatives, the Board agreed that in the absence of a superior proposal the revised CEMEX cash offer represents the best riskadjusted return for shareholders.

So that is the essence of our recommendation.

On behalf of Rinker's other directors, I would like to thank Rinker's employees for their outstanding performance over the past four years that has seen our A$ share price increase 295%, a Total Shareholder Return of 332%, and created the value that CEMEX recognised with this takeover bid.

I would also like to thank our shareholders for their loyalty, support and encouragement particularly over the past five months.

The CEMEX offer is currently scheduled to close on the 18th of May 2007, following a further extension announced today.

Having given our recommendation today, it is now up to our shareholders to decide whether they will accept the revised offer price or not.

That concludes my opening comments. Thank you for listening we will now open the floor to questions either to myself or to David Clarke on the phone.

Because this conference is being webcast, please use the microphone to ask questions, and tell us your name and the organisation you represent.

Thank you .
