Factors That May Affect Operating Results.

The operating results of the Company can vary significantly depending upon a number of factors, many of which are outside its control. General factors that may affect the Company's operating results include:

- market acceptance of and changes in demand for products and services;
- a small number of customers account for, and may in future periods account for, substantial portions of the Company's revenue, and revenue could decline because of delays in customer orders or the failure to retain customers;
- gain or loss of clients or strategic relationships;
- announcement or introduction of new services and products by the Company or by its competitors;
- price competition;
- the ability to upgrade and develop systems and infrastructure to accommodate growth;
- the ability to introduce and market products and services in accordance with market demand;
- changes in governmental regulation; and
- reduction in or delay of capital spending by clients due to the effects of terrorism, war and political instability.

Key Personnel.

The Company's success is largely dependent on the personal efforts and abilities of its senior management. The loss of certain members of the Company's senior management, including the Company's chief executive officer and chief financial officer, could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business and prospects.

The net cash used in operating activities was $113,323 for the nine months ended September 30, 2008 compared to net cash used of $27,188 for the nine months ended September 30, 2007. The increase is due primarily to the larger loss in 2008 versus 2007.

Further, there exist no agreements or understandings with regard to loan agreements by or with the Officers, Directors, principals, affiliates or shareholders of the Company.

ITEM 3. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

As a "smaller reporting company" as defined by Item 10 of Regulation S-K, the Company is not required to provide information required under this Item.

ITEM 4T: CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures.

The Company maintains disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rule 13a-15(e) and Rule 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended) that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in our periodic reports filed under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms, and that such information is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our principal executive officer, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

Because of the inherent limitations in all control systems, no evaluation of controls can provide absolute assurance that all control issues and instances of fraud, if any, will be or have been detected. These inherent limitations include the realities that judgments in decision-making can be faulty, and that breakdowns can occur because of simple error or mistake. Additionally, controls can be circumvented by the individual acts of some persons, by collusion of two or more people, and/or by management override of the control. The design of any system of controls also is based in part upon certain assumptions about the likelihood of future events, and there can be no assurance that any design will succeed in achieving its stated goals under all potential future conditions; over time, controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, and/or the degree of compliance with the policies and procedures may deteriorate. Because of the inherent limitations in a cost-effective internal control system, misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected.

Within the 90 days prior to the end of the period covered by this report, the Company carried out an evaluation of the effectiveness of the design and operation of its disclosure controls and procedures pursuant to Rule 13a-15 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (“Exchange Act”). This evaluation was done under the supervision and with the participation of the Company’s president. Based upon that evaluation, he concluded that the Company’s disclosure controls and procedures are not effective in gathering, analyzing and disclosing information needed to satisfy the Company’s disclosure obligations under the Exchange Act.

Changes in Disclosure Controls and Procedures.

There were no significant changes in the Company’s disclosure controls and procedures, or in factors that could significantly affect those controls and procedures, since their most recent evaluation.
