1) Sign-up fees

- The YoY and QoQ increase was due to increase in the number of new subscribers.

2) Monthly fees

- The YoY and QoQ increase was due to increase in average number of subscribers and increased number of premium monthly fee plan membership.

3) Call charges

- The YoY increase was mainly due to increase in average number of subscribers.

- The QoQ decrease was mainly due to decrease in MOU from the seasonal effect.

4) VAS & others

- The YoY and QoQ increase was mainly due to increase in roaming service revenue.

5) Wireless Internet sales

- The YoY increase was due to increase in 1) the number of data flat rate subscribers and 2) phone mail revenue driven by introduction of more contract-based SMS usage tariff plans, despite data tariff cut and suspension of adult contents.

- The QoQ decrease was due to data tariff cut and seasonal effect.

6) Interconnection revenue

- The YoY increase was mainly due to interconnection rate adjustment in 06 3Q and increase in traffic volume from increased number of subscribers.

- The QoQ decrease was mainly due to decrease in traffic volume from the seasonal effect.

1) Includes R&D related depreciation

2) For details, please refer to non-consolidated statements of income in appendix

1) Labor cost

- The QoQ increase in labor cost was due to incentive bonus payment.

2) Commissions paid- Marketing commissions:

The YoY increase in Marketing commissions was mainly due to higher initial commissions as a result of handset subsidy introduction which started from March 27th 2006.

The QoQ decrease was mainly due to the fall in retention commissions as the number of subscribers who received retention commissions decreased.

- Other commissions:

The QoQ decrease was mainly due to lower content provider commissions as a result of decrease in content usage revenue from seasonal effect.

3) Advertising cost

- The QoQ decrease was mainly due to the fact that there were new T brand-related advertising cost and year-end events in 4Q 06.

4) Depreciation

- The YoY increase resulted from the increase in depreciable assets as a result of nationwide WCDMA network roll-out.

- The QoQ decrease resulted from the lower CapEx spending in 1Q 07 compared to CapEx spending in 4Q 06.

5) Network interconnection cost

- The YoY decrease was due to adjustment in interconnection rate which was done in 06 3Q despite the increase in MM-related call traffic.
- The QoQ decrease was due to seasonal decrease in call traffic and the difference between interconnection rate in 2006 and that of 2007.

1) Interest Income / Expense

- The YoY and QoQ decrease in interest income was mainly due to decrease in average balance of cash.
- The YoY and QoQ decrease in interest expense was mainly due to decrease in average balance of debts.

2) Equity in Net losses of affiliates

- The YoY increase was largely due to increased losses from some of the SK Telecom affiliates such as HELIO and others.
- The QoQ decrease was mainly due to relatively higher losses incurred in 4Q 06, which included losses from Pantech.

3) Others in Non-Operating Income / Expenses

- The QoQ decrease in others in non-operating income was mainly due to relatively higher gains on the disposal of investment assets including WiderThan.Com in 4Q 06.
- The YoY decrease in others in non-operating expenses was mainly due to the one-off payment regarding the change in retirement allowance scheme in 1Q 06.

2) Debt/Equity Ratio = Interest-bearing financial debt / Shareholders equity

* Interest-bearing financial debt = Short-term borrowings + Current portion of long-term borrowings + Corporate bonds & long-term borrowings

1) Investment assets

- The YoY and QoQ increase was due to the purchase of China Unicom's CB (in July 2006) and valuation gain from investment securities including POSCO and China Unicom CB.

2) Total shareholder's equity

- The YoY increase was due to increase in earnings and valuation gains from investment securities including POSCO and China Unicom CB.

- Despite the decrease in retained earnings from dividend payout, total shareholder's equity increased QoQ due to the increase in earnings and valuation gains from investment securities.

3) Total liabilities

- Debt to Equity ratio decreased mainly due to debt payment and increase in shareholders equity.
