Changes to BASF's Supervisory Board

LUDWIGSHAFEN, Germany--(BUSINESS WIRE)--March 11, 2003--

The shareholders' representatives on BASF's Supervisory Board are to be re-elected at this year's Annual Meeting on May 6, 2003. Four of the previous members of the Supervisory Board - Etienne Graf Davignon, Dr. Wolfgang Jentzsch, Professor Dr. Berthold Leibinger and Dr. Henning Schulte-Noelle - are no longer available for re-election.

In their place, the Supervisory Board today proposed Dr. Renate Kocher, managing director of the Allensbach Institute of Opinion Research, and Michael Diekmann, member of the Board of Executive Directors of Allianz Aktiengesellschaft, for election to the Supervisory Board. Dr. Jurgen F. Strube and Max Dietrich Kley - the chairman and vice chairman of the Board of Executive Directors of BASF Aktiengesellschaft up to the end of the Annual Meeting on May 6, 2003 - were already proposed for election to the Supervisory Board in July 2002.

Dr. Renate Kocher studied economics, journalism and sociology in Mainz and Munich. She has been managing director of the Allensbach Institute of Opinion Research since 1988. Her research focuses on the acceptance of new technologies such as genetics, financial market research, the effects of new media on information gathering and comparative analyses of the old and new federal German states.

Michael Diekmann studied law and philosophy in Gottingen. He has worked for the Allianz Group of insurance companies since 1988. He was appointed to the board of Allianz in 1998, where he is now responsible for North and South America as well as for Group-wide human resources at Allianz Aktiengesellschaft.

The 10 employee representatives who will sit on BASF Supervisory Board were elected on February 25, 2003. Volker Obenauer, who was for many years deputy chairman of the Supervisory Board and is the former chairman of the works council of BASF Aktiengesellschaft and the joint works council of the BASF Group, has retired from the Supervisory Board. Ralf Bastian, member of the works council of BASF Aktiengesellschaft, has been newly appointed to the Supervisory Board. Eva Kraut, chairwoman of the works council of BASF IT Services GmbH Ludwigshafen, who replaced Ellen Schneider on the Supervisory Board last August, has now been elected for an entire electoral period. Robert Oswald, chairman of the works council of BASF Aktiengesellschaft, who was appointed to the Supervisory Board in 2000 to replace Gunter Klein, has also been elected for an entire electoral period.

BASF is the world's leading chemical company. It aims to increase and sustain its corporate value through growth and innovation. BASF offers its customers a range of high-performance products, including chemicals, plastics, coatings systems, dispersions, agricultural products, fine chemicals as well as crude oil and natural gas. BASF's distinctive approach to integration, known in German as "Verbund," is its strength. It enables the company to achieve cost leadership and gives it a competitive advantage. BASF acts in accordance with the principles of Sustainable Development. In 2001, BASF had sales of EUR32.5 billion (circa $29 billion) and over 90,000 employees worldwide. BASF shares are traded on the stock exchanges in Frankfurt (BAS), London (BFA), New York (BF), Paris (BA) and Zurich (BAS). Further information on BASF is available on the Internet at www.basf.com.
