Announcement of Company Split (Small-scale Company Split) from Sony Corporation into NSF Engagement Corporation in connection with the Transfer of Business related to General Affairs, Facility Management and Other Services to NSF Engagement Corporation

As part of the procedure for establishing a joint venture in the facility management and workplace solutions business, Sony Corporation (“Sony” and, together with its consolidated subsidiaries, “Sony Group”) today decided to transfer certain rights and obligations pertaining to its business related to general affairs, facility management and other services to NSF Engagement Corporation (“NSFE”) by an “absorption-type company split,” as set forth below and as stated in the attached press release.

Certain information is omitted from this announcement since this is an absorption-type company split with Sony’s wholly-owned subsidiary.

1. Purpose of the company split

As set forth in the attached press release, Sony Corporate Services (Japan) Corporation (“SCOS”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Sony, and NTT Facilities, Inc. (“NTT Facilities”), have decided to establish a joint venture in the facility management and workplace solutions business for the purpose of further improving the quality of the general affairs, facility management and other services that support the Sony Group while also developing facility management and workplace solutions services for new customers. This absorption-type company split will be executed as part of the procedure for establishing the joint venture.

2. Summary of the company split

(1) Schedule of the company split

Approval of the company split agreement

(by the representative corporate executive officer) Undetermined

Execution of the company split agreement Undetermined

Effective date of the company split (“Effective Date”) October 1, 2019 (scheduled)

Sony will perform the contemplated company split without obtaining shareholder approval of the company split *agreement pursuant to the provisions of the “small-scale company split” set forth in Paragraph 2 of Article 784 of the Companies Act of Japan.

(2) Method of the company split

The method of the contemplated company split is an absorption-type company split between Sony (as the splitting company) and NSFE (as the successor company).

(3) Details of consideration allotted upon the company split

Upon the completion of the contemplated company split, NSFE is scheduled to issue shares of common stock of NSFE to Sony, the number of which is to be separately agreed between the parties, in exchange for the assets, liabilities, agreements, and other rights and obligations transferred to NSFE by Sony.

(4) Treatment of stock acquisition rights and bonds with stock acquisition rights of the splitting company

Edgar Filing: SONY CORP - Form 6-K

There will be no changes to the treatment of stock acquisition rights or bonds with stock acquisition rights of Sony upon the completion of the contemplated company split.

(5) Increase or decrease of share capital upon the company split

There will be no increase or decrease of share capital upon the contemplated company split.

Edgar Filing: SONY CORP - Form 6-K

(6) Rights and obligations to be succeeded by the successor company

NSFE, as the successor company, will succeed to certain rights and obligations pertaining to Sony's business related to general affairs, facility management, risk management, insurance solutions, travel management and real estate management, as set forth in the company split agreement.

(7) Expectation on the performance capabilities of each party's obligations

Sony expects that the contemplated company split will have no material impact on the capability of NSFE to perform its obligations which become due after the Effective Date.

3. Summary of both parties (the information shown below for Sony is as of March 31, 2018 and the information shown below for NSFE is projected as of the date before the Effective Date for NSFE)

NTT Facilities, Inc.
Sony Corporation
Sony Corporate Services (Japan) Corporation

NTT Facilities and Sony Form “NSF Engagement,” a Joint Venture in the Facility Management and Workplace Solutions Business that Promotes Engagement Between People and Their Workplaces

NTT Facilities, Inc. (Headquarters: Minato-ku, Tokyo; Representative Director and President: Atsushi Ichihoshi; “NTT Facilities”) and Sony Corporation (Headquarters: Minato-ku, Tokyo; Representative Corporate Executive Officer, President and CEO: Kenichiro Yoshida; “Sony,” and together with its consolidated subsidiaries, “Sony Group”) today announced that NTT Facilities and Sony Corporate Services (Japan) Corporation (Headquarters: Minato-ku, Tokyo; Representative Director: Shigeru Hiromatsu; “Sony Corporate Services”), a consolidated subsidiary of Sony, have signed a definitive agreement for the establishment of NSF Engagement Corporation (“NSF Engagement”), a joint venture in the facility management and workplace solutions business. NSF Engagement will continue to provide the general affairs, facility management and other services to Sony Group previously provided by Sony Corporate Services, while also developing facility management and workplace solutions services for new customers.

NTT Facilities provides customers with reliable facility management and workplace solutions services based on the technological strength that underpins Japan's telecommunications infrastructure, while Sony Corporate Services provides general affairs, facility management and other services to the Sony Group. By establishing this joint venture, NTT Facilities aims to enter the facility management and workplace solutions business within the manufacturing industry, and Sony Corporate Services expects to realize further improvement of the quality of the general affairs, facility management and other services that support the Sony Group.

Objective of Establishing NSF Engagement

Japanese society and industry face various challenges including a shrinking workforce, global environmental problems, a need to revitalize local communities and changes brought to the business environment by Artificial Intelligence and the Internet of Things. Under these circumstances, it is increasingly important to promote employee engagement for the purpose of securing valuable human resources, and local communities increasingly seek corporate social responsibility.

NSF Engagement's vision is to "promote engagement between people and their workplaces." The company aims to engage with a wide variety of stakeholders by functioning as a one-stop resource offering planning, managing and operating solutions for diverse workplaces ranging from offices to manufacturing centers. NSF Engagement will strive to:

- Improve work environments and enhance job satisfaction for its customers
- Make enhanced contributions to the global environment and local communities
- Promote professionalism and innovation among NSF Engagement employees
