SHENANDOAH TELECOMMUNICATIONS COMPANY AMENDS
SPRINT AFFILIATE AGREEMENTS

Edinburg, VA (February 2, 2004) - Shenandoah Telecommunications Company (Shentel; NASDAQ: SHEN) and its wireless subsidiary, Shenandoah Personal Communications Company, a PCS Affiliate of Sprint (NYSE: FON, PCS), announced the signing of an addendum to its management and services agreements with Sprint. The addendum provides greater certainty to the Company for certain future expenses and revenues during the term of the agreement, and simplifies the methods used to settle revenue and expenses.

The Company will continue to purchase from Sprint back office services such as billing, customer care, collections and certain network services. Prior to the addendum, Sprint charged the Company for these services individually. Under the addendum, Sprint will now charge the Company a flat, lump-sum monthly rate for many of these services through 2006. This change is expected to result in cost reductions to the Company of approximately $120,000 per month. The addendum also includes an agreement to extend the current reciprocal roaming rates between Sprint and the Company at the current $0.058 per minute for voice and $0.002 per kilobyte for data to the end of 2006.

The addendum provides the framework to determine rates for services provided by Sprint and reciprocal roaming rates after 2006. The agreement includes a most favored nation provision until the end of 2006 with respect to similar agreements with other PCS Affiliates of Sprint. In addition, the addendum defines certain Company rights related to limiting capital spending and customer program costs.
