Management Comments

“Q2 was an excellent quarter, with record levels of revenues, profitability and operating cash flow” commented Gabi Seligsohn, President and CEO of Nova. “These results demonstrate the success of our strategy which has focused on expanding our product offering, increasing our fab foot print and displacing traditional metrology techniques with our differentiated products”.

“Semiconductor business fundamentals continue to be strong, as evidenced by 15 new fab announcements, some of which are moving much faster than was previously anticipated. The pace of technology transition continues to accelerate, and customers are adding our metrology solutions for a broader range of technology nodes and applications. In parallel, we have been able to increase the value we offer for existing products, through additional features and functionality, which have been very well received by our customers during the quarter”.

“Recent customer design wins have generated very strong demand for our metrology solutions, and will result in significant revenue increase in the second half of the year, as fab expansion rates continue to rise. In parallel, our recently announced customer penetrations in the standalone metrology area lay solid foundation for further growth in the future. The fact that Nova now plays a much more significant role for the semiconductor manufacturing arena is clearly driving the company to an exceptional growth rate”.
