Edgar Filing: BRITISH SKY BROADCASTING GROUP PLC - Form 6-K

announcing Board Changes released on 07 December, 2007

BSkyB Group plc announces Board changes

- .Rupert Murdoch steps down from the Board
- .James Murdoch appointed Non-Executive Chairman
- .Jeremy Darroch appointed Chief Executive Officer
- .Selection process underway for new Chief Financial Officer

The Board of British Sky Broadcasting Group plc ("Sky" or the "Company") today announced that Rupert Murdoch has decided to step down as Chairman and as a Director of the Company. He is succeeded as Non-Executive Chairman by James Murdoch, who was appointed to Sky's Board as a Non-Executive Director in February 2003 and has served as Chief Executive Officer since November 2003. The appointment was made following consultation with major shareholders. James Murdoch is leaving his post as CEO to take a new executive position at News Corporation.

The Board has appointed Jeremy Darroch, previously Sky's Chief Financial Officer, as Chief Executive Officer. The decision follows a review of potential candidates from inside and outside the Company by the Independent Non-Executive Directors.

Since joining Sky in August 2004, Mr Darroch has worked closely with James Murdoch in setting strategic direction for the Company and has been deeply involved in the running of the business at all levels. He joined Sky from retail group DSG International plc (then Dixons Group plc), where he held the position of Group Finance Director. Prior to DSG, he spent 12 years at Procter & Gamble in a variety of roles in the UK and Europe. Mr Darroch is also a Non-Executive Director and Chairman of the Audit Committee of Marks & Spencer plc.

The Board has initiated the process to select a new Chief Financial Officer. A further announcement will be made in due course.

The changes were overseen by Nicholas Ferguson, Sky's Senior Independent Non-Executive Director, working in close consultation with Lord Rothschild, Deputy Chairman, and Lord Wilson of Dinton, Chairman of the Corporate Governance and Nominations Committee, and were approved unanimously by the Board.

Speaking on behalf of the Board, Nicholas Ferguson said:

"With these changes, the Board has taken action to ensure continuity of world-class leadership at Sky. Jeremy has played a crucial role in the company's transformation. He is the first Chief Executive to be appointed from within Sky and is the unanimous choice of the Board to lead the company's continued growth. Under James and Jeremy, Sky has accelerated its rate of growth and, with the outstanding management team in place, is prospering in both entertainment and communications.

"We are delighted that James has accepted the appointment as Non-Executive Chairman. The Board is committed to high standards of corporate governance and seeks to comply with the Combined Code. We are well aware of its terms with respect to independence. Sky has strong Independent Directors and we were quite clear that our overriding duty in selecting a Chairman was to do what was in the best interest of the Company and its shareholders. We were unanimous in our decision that the appointment of James meets this key test given his deep knowledge and understanding of the strategic issues facing the Company and the industries in which we operate, his commitment to Sky, and the continuity this provides.

"Under the leadership of Jeremy, and with James as Non-Executive Chairman, this is the right, strong team to take Sky forward with an effective strategy for growth in the fast changing media and communications marketplace.

"Finally, on behalf of the whole Board and the shareholders, I would like to express our warmest gratitude for, and pay tribute to, the unparalleled contribution made by Rupert Murdoch over the last eighteen years. His spirit and vision have been instrumental in building one of Britain's great companies."

Rupert Murdoch became a Director of the Company in 1990 and has served as Chairman since 1999. Over the course of his involvement, Sky has grown from a start-up to Europe's most valuable pay TV company, reaching one in three households in the UK and Ireland.

Rupert Murdoch said:

"Sky is a special company with a deeply held belief that people benefit from increased choice. Today more customers are choosing Sky than ever before as the company strives to offer the best choice, quality and value in an expanding marketplace. This progress has been achieved by an accomplished executive team under the leadership of James and Jeremy. I am confident that they and their colleagues will continue to set the pace in our industry."

James Murdoch said:

"The team at Sky has demonstrated the success that can be achieved with an appetite for change and a single-minded focus on customers. I am pleased to have the opportunity to become Non-Executive Chairman and I look forward to supporting Jeremy in his role as Chief Executive. Sky's transformation is progressing well and both Jeremy and I are committed to seeing it through."

Jeremy Darroch said:

"Few companies of Sky's scale have its capacity for moving quickly, seizing opportunities and thriving on a culture of change. Sky's success is a testament to the talent of my colleagues and I'm excited and privileged to lead a company that touches so many families across the UK and Ireland. We are well positioned and I am committed to pursuing a strategy that further deepens our customer relationships and creates significant value for shareholders."
