Item 8.01. Other Events.

In connection with the proposed merger between Valera Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (Nasdaq: VLRX) and Indevus Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (Nasdaq: IDEV), on March 12, 2007, Indevus' Registration Statement on Form S-4, which includes the joint proxy statement/prospectus relating to both Indevus' and Valera's stockholder meetings, was declared effective by the Securities and Exchange Commission. Each company will hold a special meeting of its stockholders on April 17, 2007 to approve matters relating to the proposed merger.

Stockholders of record as of March 12, 2007 will be mailed the joint proxy statement/prospectus in connection with the proposed merger and will be entitled to vote at the respective company's special stockholder meeting. The joint proxy statement will be mailed to stockholders of both companies on or about March 14, 2007. The merger is subject to customary closing conditions, including requisite approvals by the stockholders of both companies. The parties expect to close the proposed merger transaction soon after the companies conduct their special stockholder meetings and receive the requisite stockholder approvals.

About Valera Pharmaceuticals

Valera is a specialty pharmaceutical company focused on developing, acquiring, and commercializing products to treat urology and endocrinology diseases and disorders. Utilizing its innovative Hydron technology, Valera is developing soft, compact and flexible hydrogel-based implants which can be designed to release therapeutic agents at a controlled rate for up to twelve months. VANTAS[®], a patent protected once-per-year implant currently marketed by Valera for the palliative treatment of advanced prostate cancer, employs this drug delivery technology. A second product, SUPPRELIN[®]-LA is a twelve-month implant currently under review by the FDA for the treatment of central precocious puberty. Forward-Looking Statements

This Current Report on Form 8-K contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements involve a number of risks and uncertainties. Valera cautions readers that any forward-looking statement is not a guarantee of future performance and that actual results could differ materially from those contained in the forward-looking statement. Such forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, statements about the benefits of the proposed business combination transaction involving Valera and Indevus, including future financial and operating results, Valera's plans, objectives, expectations and intentions, the expected timing of completion of the transaction, and other statements that are not historical facts. Important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those indicated by such forward-looking statements are set forth in Valera's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. These include risks and uncertainties relating to: the ability to obtain the requisite Valera and Indevus stockholder approvals; the ability to obtain regulatory approvals of the transaction on the proposed terms and schedule; the risk that the businesses will not be integrated successfully; the risk that the cost savings and any other synergies from the transaction may not be fully realized or may take longer to realize than expected; market acceptance for the transaction and approved products; disruption from the transaction making it more difficult to maintain relationships with customers, employees or suppliers; competition and its effect on pricing, spending, third-party relationships and revenues; the need to acquire and develop new products; reliance on intellectual property and having limited patents and proprietary rights; general worldwide economic conditions and related uncertainties; and the effect of changes in governmental regulations. Valera undertakes no obligation to publicly update any forward-looking statement, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.
