Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

On December 15, 2008, Cell Therapeutics, Inc., a Washington corporation ( CTI ), consummated the previously-announced transaction contemplated by the Purchase and Formation Agreement dated November 26, 2008 (the Purchase Agreement ) entered into with Spectrum Pharmaceuticals, Inc., a Delaware corporation ( Spectrum ), and RIT Oncology, LLC, a newly-formed Delaware limited liability company (the Joint Venture ), for the formation of a 50/50 owned joint venture to commercialize and develop Zevafifibritumomab tiuxetan) (the Zevalin Product ) in the United States. A copy of the Purchase Agreement is included as Exhibit 2.1 and is incorporated herein by reference.

At the closing of the joint venture transaction, CTI contributed all assets exclusively related to the Zevalin Product to the Joint Venture and in exchange received a fifty percent (50%) membership interest in the Joint Venture and an initial payment from the Joint Venture of $7.5 million. CTI will receive an additional payment of $7.5 million in early January 2009 and may receive up to $15 million in product sales milestone payments upon the Joint Venture s achievement of certain revenue targets. Also at the closing, the Joint Venture issued to Spectrum a fifty percent (50%) membership interest in the Joint Venture in exchange for its capital contribution, a portion of which funded the purchase price paid by the Joint Venture to CTI.

CTI and Spectrum are the sole members of the Joint Venture whose sole purpose is to commercialize the Zevalin Product in the United States. In connection with the formation of the Joint Venture, CTI and Spectrum entered into an amended and restated operating agreement for the Joint Venture (the LLC Agreement ), setting forth the terms of governance, capital contributions and distributions and certain buy-out and put rights (as further described below), among other things. The Joint Venture is governed by a Board of Managers comprised of an equal number of members from each of CTI and Spectrum. Both parties will equally provide for the future capital requirements of the Joint Venture and share equally in the profits and losses of the Joint Venture. At the closing, CTI made an initial $1.8 million capital contribution to the Joint Venture.

Under the terms of the LLC Agreement, among other rights, CTI holds a sale option exercisable in its sole discretion to sell all of its membership interest in the Joint Venture to Spectrum (the Sale Option ) for $18 million, subject to adjustment for any amounts owed between CTI and the Joint Venture at the time of such sale, payable in installments but no later than 90 days following the closing of such sale. The Sale Option may be exercised by CTI at any time from January 15, 2009 through July 15, 2009.

As a condition to the closing, each of CTI and Spectrum pledged their respective membership interests in the Joint Venture to each other to secure certain obligations set forth in the Purchase Agreement and the LLC Agreement, pursuant to the terms of those certain LLC Membership Interest Pledge Agreements (collectively, the Pledge Agreements ). In addition, each of CTI and Spectrum entered into a master services agreement with the Joint Venture pursuant to which CTI and Spectrum will respectively perform various services for the benefit of the Joint Venture to develop, market and sell Zevalin Product in the United States.

CTI acquired the U.S. rights to develop, market and sell the Zevalin Product from Biogen Idec Inc. ( Biogen ) on December 21, 2007 pursuant to that certain Asset Purchase Agreement dated August 15, 2007. In connection with the closing of the joint venture transaction, CTI entered into the First Amendment to Asset Purchase Agreement (the APA Amendment ) with Biogen, among other things, to amend the $10 million milestone payment due upon approval from the FDA to expand the labeling for the Zevalin Product with respect to an indolent non-Hodgkin s lymphoma indication. As part of the milestone restructuring, (i) concurrently with the execution of the APA Amendment, CTI paid to Biogen $0.2 million (which was reimbursed to CTI by the Joint Venture from the initial capital contributions made by CTI and Spectrum), (ii) at the closing of the joint venture transaction, the Joint Venture (as a successor to CTI under the APA Amendment) paid to Biogen $2 million, and (iii) upon receiving approval from the FDA to expand the labeling for Zevalin with respect to an indolent non-Hodgkin's lymphoma indication on or prior to December 31, 2011, the Joint Venture (as a successor to CTI under the APA Amendment) will be required to deliver to Biogen a reduced milestone payment ranging from $5.5 million to $9 million, depending on when the milestone is actually achieved. If the milestone is achieved on or after January 1, 2012, the milestone payment will remain $10 million. At the closing of the joint venture transaction, the Asset Purchase Agreement and the related APA Amendment were assigned to the Joint Venture and consequently all milestone payments that may become due will be the responsibility of the Joint Venture.

As a condition to obtaining Biogen's consent to the closing of the joint venture transaction, CTI, Spectrum and the Joint Venture each entered into various agreements with Biogen, including the following:

(i) First Amendment to Supply Agreement dated December 15, 2008 between Biogen and CTI relating to the manufacture and supply of Zevalin Product to the Joint Venture (the "Supply Agreement Amendment"), modifying certain of the pricing and manufacturing technology transfer terms contained in the original Supply Agreement dated December 21, 2007 between CTI and Biogen (the "Original Supply Agreement"), and also providing that the end of the term of the agreement may be accelerated by Biogen in certain instances in the event of a mid-term manufacturing technology transfer. CTI's rights and obligations, including its payment obligations to Biogen, under the Original Supply Agreement, as amended by the Supply Agreement Amendment, were assigned to and assumed by the Joint Venture in connection with the closing of the joint venture transaction.

(ii) Amended and Restated Security Agreement dated December 15, 2008 between Biogen and CTI, pursuant to which Biogen's first priority security interest in any Zevalin Product related assets held by CTI and any proceeds thereof, including CTI's fifty percent (50%) membership interest in the Joint Venture, continues to secure certain payment, indemnification and other obligations of CTI to Biogen.

(iii) Security Agreement dated December 15, 2008 between Biogen and the Joint Venture pursuant to which the Joint Venture granted to Biogen a first priority security interest in all of the Joint Venture's assets (including any proceeds thereof), including the assets contributed to the Joint Venture by CTI in connection with the closing of the joint venture transaction, to secure certain payment, indemnification and other obligations of the Joint Venture to Biogen.

(iv) Guarantee dated December 15, 2008 executed and delivered by CTI in favor of Biogen, which guarantees the performance of the Joint Venture's obligations to Biogen with respect to the Zevalin Product, and Guarantee dated December 15, 2008 executed and delivered by Spectrum in favor of Biogen, for the same purpose; provided that under the terms of the Pledge Agreements, notwithstanding the joint and several responsibility under the foregoing Guarantees, as amongst each other, CTI and Spectrum have agreed to allocate any liability arising under such Guarantees equally.

(v) Indemnification dated December 15, 2009 between Biogen and the Joint Venture, pursuant to which the Joint Venture has agreed to indemnify and hold harmless Biogen for any liability arising out of or in connection with the Joint Venture's breach or alleged breach of certain sub-license and license agreements to which the Joint Venture is a party.

A copy of the press release issued by CTI announcing the closing of the joint venture transaction is attached as Exhibit 99.1 hereto.
