Dr. Fredric N. Eshelman Issues Statement Regarding Puma Biotechnology, Inc.

NEW YORK - Dr. Fredric N. Eshelman today issued the following statement regarding Puma Biotechnology, Inc. (the Company) in response to the Company's statements in its November 2, 2015 Form 8-K:

As disclosed in Dr. Eshelman's preliminary consent statement dated October 28, 2015, Dr. Eshelman in July requested from the Company certain board minutes and related board materials pursuant to Delaware General Corporation Law Section 220 to evaluate his continued investment in the Company. The Company has repeatedly rejected those requests for materials. A copy of those requests, and copies of related correspondence between counsel, are attached hereto.

Dr. Eshelman has made a personal investment in the Company worth millions of dollars. His level of ownership more than satisfies the requirements of Delaware law to demand an inspection of Company records and gives him a significant stake in the future governance and operations of the Company.

The materials attached show that the Company's statements in its November 2, 2015 Form 8-K mischaracterize the tenor and substance of those communications and seek to create a false impression that Dr. Eshelman is unwilling to engage with Company management. In fact, Dr. Eshelman has been stonewalled by a management team that has denied him the basic transparency and accountability that Delaware law requires. Management's suggestion of a potential willingness to meet at some unspecified date and location, communicated by e-mail through company counsel on August 28, 2015, more than six weeks after Dr. Eshelman's initial request for copies of board minutes, ignored Dr. Eshelman's repeated requests under Delaware law. There was no reason to pursue a meeting before the requested materials were provided.

During the summer, in one of several discussions between counsel to Dr. Eshelman and company counsel relating to the demand for board materials under Delaware law, counsel to Dr. Eshelman mistakenly overstated his ownership level. Because Delaware law permits any shareholder regardless of ownership level to make such demands for corporate records, counsel to Dr. Eshelman saw no need to immediately correct the earlier statement. The filings last week by Dr. Eshelman with the SEC contained a complete and accurate description of Dr. Eshelman's beneficial ownership.

The Company's statement on Monday underscores the concerns that led Dr. Eshelman to make a demand under Delaware law for board minutes in the first place and confirms the need to adopt the proposals set forth in the preliminary consent statement in order to ensure transparency and accountability for all of the Company's shareholders. Dr. Eshelman believes that management should not waste Company resources resisting an effort to expand the board and add four highly qualified individuals. Despite the Company's professed interest in engagement, the Company has not yet responded to Dr. Eshelman's offer, communicated through counsel October 29, to make the nominees available to meet with the Company's board and to work with the board collaboratively to implement the board expansion that Dr. Eshelman is proposing.
