Item 8.01 Other Events.

The Dutch and European Investors' Associations (together, "VEB") have informed Mylan N.V. ("Mylan") that they have fallen short of soliciting the support from Mylan shareholders for VEB's actions in respect to Mylan's proposed acquisition of Meda AB ("Meda").

While Mylan understands VEB has its role, in this case there simply is no basis in law that would require Mylan to submit the offer to acquire Meda for a vote of Mylan's shareholders.

Compliance with the letter and spirit of the laws applicable to Mylan has always been foremost among Mylan's driving principles and practices. The Meda transaction is no different.

Mylan has informed VEB that they are of course free to pursue legislative changes to the current law if they are so inclined to have it amended. Until such time, if any, that changes to the law are actually implemented, Mylan will continue to adhere to the current law. It is worth noting that two of the leading Dutch corporate law firms NautaDutilh and Stibbe - have consistently advised Mylan accordingly.

Mylan has also informed VEB that should they continue to misconstrue both the letter and the spirit of the Dutch Civil Code in a way that is inconsistent with the current law and facts, they risk causing substantial harm to the interests of both Mylan shareholders - the very group which they purport to protect - as well as Meda's shareholders.

Mylan has met with and spoken to a majority of its top shareholders and Mylan has been pleased with the strong support it has heard from them directly for this accretive transaction since its announcement, and Mylan is confident that they clearly recognize the strong short- and long-term strategic and financial logic of this combination.

Mylan will continue to work to pursue this exciting opportunity for its shareholders and other stakeholders, and Mylan looks forward to completion of this combination in the third quarter.
