Economic Scenario

The outlook for the global economy is one of an increase in the pace of growth, mainly due to the recovery of the developed nations, favored by the monetary stimuli. The IMF expects GDP growth of 3.7% this year and 3.9% in 2015, versus an estimated 3.0% in 2013.

Demand moved up in the advanced economies in the second half of 2013, while the improvement in activity in the emerging markets was mainly due to the recovery of exports. After reaching 55.5 points in October, its highest level for 32 months, the global Purchasing Managers Index (PMI) closed December at 54.0 points, giving 15 consecutive months of expansion.

USA

The U.S. activity indicators disclosed at the end of 2013 were grounds for celebration. Preliminary figures from the Department of Commerce point to annualized GDP growth of 3.2% in 4Q13, fueled by the increase in household consumption, exports and investments. For the year as a whole, the estimate is 1.9%.

December's manufacturing PMI recorded 55.0 points, the highest level in the last 11 months, while industrial production moved up by 0.3%, giving annual growth of 3.7%. Installed capacity use closed the year at 79.2%, higher than the 77.8% recorded at the end of 2012, while unemployment fell from 7.9% to 6.7% in the same period.

With the agreement between the government and the opposition at the beginning of 2014, the Congressional impasse over the federal budget finally came to an end, avoiding any further suspensions of government business and the negative economic consequences.

Given the improved scenario, the FED announced a gradual reduction in the monetary stimuli as of January 2014, with low interest rates for a longer period due to uncertainties regarding the impact of the reduction in the stimuli on economic activity. As a result, the FED expects GDP growth of between 2.8% and 3.2% in 2014.

Europe

The economic recovery in the Eurozone remained modest. Annualized GDP growth in 4Q13 inched up by 0.3% over the previous quarter, with Germany, France and Italy recording 0.4%, 0.3% and 0.1%, respectively. In the year as a whole, the region's GDP grew by 0.4% over 2012.

The Eurozone's compound PMI reached 52.1 points in December, the second-largest figure in the last two and a half years. Industry continued to lead the recovery, with a substantial upturn in the export segment, while services posted more modest growth, reflecting the fragility of certain economies where unemployment remained high. Greece recorded unemployment of 27.8% in November, the region's highest figure, followed by Spain, with 25.8% in December.

Given this scenario, the European Central Bank reduced interest rates to 0.25% p.a., their lowest ever level. The ECB estimates Eurozone growth of 1.1% in 2014 and 1.5% in 2015.

The UK economy has been recording growth in recent quarters. GDP moved up by 0.7% over the previous quarter in 4Q13 and by 1.9% in the year as a whole, pushed by services and construction. Industrial production also recorded an improvement, increasing by 1.8%. The manufacturing PMI averaged 57.2 points in the fourth quarter, the highest since 1Q11. The GDP growth consensus for 2014, reported by the UK Treasury, is 2.6%.

Asia

Amid fears of a slowdown in activity, the Chinese economy maintained its growth pace in 2013, with GDP posting an expansion of 7.7%, identical to last year's figure and above the 7.5% target. The government incentives proved to be highly successful, with growth being driven mainly by investments in fixed assets, which increased by 17.6% in the year. December's manufacturing PMI stood at 50.5 points, expanding for the fifth consecutive month, while industrial production in the same month moved up 9.7% year-on-year. The IMF estimates Chinese GDP growth of 7.5% in 2014.

On the structural front, in 2013 the country initiated a series of reforms which may influence the course of the economy in the long term. The goals include the reorganization of the government structure, fiscal responsibility, reform of the financial sector and market competitiveness, among others.

In Japan, the measures to stimulate economic activity and combat inflation appear to be working and the country's economy is undergoing moderate expansion. The consumer price index recorded an upturn of 0.4% in 2013, the first in five years, while GDP increased by 1.6%, pushed by domestic demand. Given this scenario, the BoJ (Bank of Japan) maintained the so-called "Abenomics" program, which consists of monetary easing, with bond buybacks, maintaining the benchmark interest rate at between 0% and 0.1% p.a. The Monetary Policy Committee estimates Japanese GDP growth of 1.4% in 2014 and 1.5% in 2015.

Brazil

Third-quarter GDP posted growth of 2.2% over the same period last year, primarily reflecting the 7.3% upturn in gross fixed capital formation. In the 12 months through September, year-on-year growth came to 2.4%. The Central Bank's FOCUS report expects GDP growth of 2.3% in 2013 and 1.67% in 2014.

Industrial production in December fell by 2.3% over December 2012, while annual output increased by 1.2%, led by vehicles, whose production grew by 9.9% according to ANFAVEA. Installed Capacity Use (NUCI), calculated by the FGV, reached 84.3% in December 2013, flat over the same month the year before.

Inflation measured by the IPCA (expanded consumer price index) stood at 5.91% in 2013, above the mid-point of the inflationary target defined by the Monetary Policy Committee (COPOM). As a result, the COPOM raised the Selic benchmark interest rate for the sixth consecutive time at its last meeting in 2013, so that it closed the year at 10.0%. Subsequently, in January 2014, the Committee introduced yet another hike, this time to 10.5% p.a. For 2014, mean projections are pointing to inflation of 5.98% and an end-of-year Selic of 11.25%.

According to the Monthly Employment Survey, published by the IBGE, unemployment closed 2013 at 4.3%, 0.3 p.p. down on November and its lowest ever figure. The annual average was 5.4%, slightly lower than the 2012 average.

In 2013, the real suffered a strong devaluation against the U.S. dollar, especially in the second half, due to the uncertainties associated with the normalization of U.S. monetary policy. The dollar closed the year at R$2.34, 14.6% up in the year.

The trade balance narrowed from US$19.4 billion in 2012 to US$2.5 billion in December 2013, a decline of 86.8% and the worst result since 2000, while foreign reserves totaled US$375.8 billion, US$2.8 billion less than at the end of 2012. On the fiscal front, the 2013 primary surplus of R$91.3 billion, equivalent to 1.9% of GDP, was the lowest since November 2002.

Adoption of IFRS 10/11

As of January 1, 2013, the Company adopted IFRS 10 – Consolidated Financial Statements, corresponding to CPC 36 (R3) -Demonstrações Financeiras Consolidadas, approved by the CVM in December 2012, and IFRS 11 – Joint Arrangements, corresponding to CPC 19 (R2) - Negócios em Conjunto, approved by the CVM in November 2012. Given that the proportional consolidation method is no longer permitted, the Company has ceased to consolidate its jointly-owned subsidiaries, Namisa, MRS Logística and CBSI, and now recognizes them in accordance with the equity accounting method. The main impacts were on net revenue, cost of goods sold, gross profit, the financial result, the equity result and net income. For comparison purposes, the consolidated financial statements for 2012 were reclassified to reflect this alteration.

In addition, due to the partial spin-off of Transnordestina Logística S/A on December 27, 2013 and the consequent entry into effect of the new shareholders' agreement, the Company ceased to consolidate Transnordestina Logística S/A and began recognizing it in accordance with the equity accounting method.

Net revenue totaled a record R$17,312 million in 2013, 14% up on 2012, chiefly due to increased revenue from steel and mining operations.

Fourth-quarter net revenue came to R$4,949 million, 6% more than in 3Q13 and also a new record, basically due to increased revenue from mining operations.

Annual COGS totaled R$12,423 million in 2013, 10% up on 2012, chiefly due to higher steel sales volume and increased steel production costs.

Fourth-quarter COGS came to R$3,292 million, in line with 3Q13.

Annual gross profit amounted to R$4,890 million, 23% up on 2012, due to the factors mentioned above.

Fourth quarter gross profit came to R$1,657 million, 18% higher than in 3Q13 thanks to the upturn in net revenue.

SG&A expenses totaled R$1,360 million in 2013, 10% up on 2012, reflecting the Company's stronger sales efforts.

Fourth-quarter SG&A expenses totaled R$355 million, 13% more than in 3Q13, chiefly due to the non-recurring effect from administrative provisions.

In 2013, Other Operating Revenue/Expenses amounted to R$568 million, 79% down on the year before, particularly due to the non-recurring impact in 2012 of the reclassification of accrued losses from investments in financial instruments classified as available for sale.

In 4Q13, Other Operating Revenue/Expenses came to R$196 million, 48% more than in 3Q13, basically due to the partial non-recurring effect of R$130 million from the Company's adherence to the Income Tax Settlement Program (REFIS) on net income of the Company's foreign subsidiaries.

EMBITDA

The Company uses Adjusted EBITDA to measure the segments' performance and operating cash flow capacity. It comprises net income before the net financial result, income and social contribution taxes, depreciation and amortization, results from investees and other operating revenue (expenses).

Adjusted EBITDA considers the Company's proportional interest in Namisa, MRS Logística and CBSI and is on a comparable basis with the amounts published in 2012.

Adjusted EBITDA totaled R$5,404 million in 2013, 19% more than in 2012, fueled by the contribution from mining and steel operations. The adjusted EBITDA margin came to 28%, up by 1 p.p.

Fourth-quarter adjusted EBITDA came to R$1,756 million, 6% up on the previous quarter, primarily due to the mining segment, accompanied by an adjusted EBITDA margin of 32%, 1 p.p. more than in 3Q13.

Financial Result and Net Debt

The 2013 net financial result was negative by R$2,512 million, chiefly due to the following factors:

- Interest on loans and financing totaling R$2,255 million;
- Expenses of R$277 million in interest on debits related to Tax Settlement Program (REFIS);
- Expenses of R$72 million with the monetary restatement of tax payment installments;
- Other financial expenses totaling R$136 million.

These negative effects were partially offset by consolidated financial revenue of R$172 million and monetary and foreign exchange variations of R$56 million.

In 4Q13, CSN's consolidated net financial result was negative by R$929 million, mainly the result of the following factors:

- Interest on loans and financing totaling R$638 million
- Expenses of R$277 million in interest on debits related to the Tax Settlement Program (REFIS);
- Expenses of R$19 million with the monetary restatement of tax payment installments;
- Other financial expenses totaling R$26 million.

These negative effects were partially offset by consolidated financial revenue of R$15 million and monetary and foreign exchange variations of R$16 million.

Gross debt, net debt and the net debt/EBITDA ratio presented below reflect the Company's proportional interest in Namisa, MRS Logística and CBSI, as well as the impact from the above-mentioned partial spin-off of Transnordestina Logística S/A.

On December 31, 2013, consolidated net debt totaled R$15.7 billion, a substantial R$2.1 billion reduction over the R$17.8 billion posted on September 30, 2013, chiefly due to the consolidation cease, by the end-of-December 2013, of Transnordestina Logística S/A's net debt, totaling R$3.0 billion and 4Q13 adjusted EBITDA of R$1.8 billion. The reduction was partially offset by the following factors:

- Payment of dividends and interest on equity totaling R$0.5 billion;
- Investments of R$0.9 billion in fixed assets;
- A R$0.6 billion effect related to the cost of debt;
- A R$0.2 billion effect from adherence to the Tax Settlement Program (REFIS);
- A R$0.1 billion increase in working capital.
- Other Effects of R$0.4 billion.

The net debt/EBITDA ratio based on LTM adjusted EBITDA closed the fourth quarter at 2.91x, 0.74x down on the ratio recorded at the end of the previous quarter.

Equity Result

The consolidated equity result totaled R$158 million in 2013, basically due to the positive result of the jointly-controlled subsidiary Namisa.

In the fourth quarter, the equity result was a loss of R$350 million, primarily due to the participation of the jointly-controlled subsidiary Namisa in the REFIS program, which had an impact of R$534 million proportional to our interest in this subsidiary.

CSN posted consolidated net income of R$534 million in 2013, R$1.0 billion more than in 2012, due to the upturn in gross profit and the non-recurring effects mentioned above.

In the fourth quarter, the Company recorded a net loss of R$487 million, primarily due to the decision to participate in the REFIS program, which generated an impact of R$403 million on CSN's net results, and the negative equity pick-up. Excluding the REFIS effect, the Company would have posted 4Q13 net income of R$450 million.

Investments reflect the Company's proportional interest in Namisa, MRS Logística and CBSI and are on a comparable basis with the amounts published in 2012.

CSN invested R$2,827 million in 2013, R$1,659 million of which in the parent company, allocated as follows:

- ü Casa de Pedra mine and Port of Itaguaí: R$638 million;
- ü Long steel: R$351 million;
- ü Expansion of cement production capacity: R$239 million.

The remaining R$1,168 million went to subsidiaries or joint subsidiaries, mostly in the following projects:

- ü Transnordestina: R$667 million;
- ü MRS: R$247 million;
- ü Container terminal - Tecon: R$115 million;
- ü Namisa: R$40 million.

CSN invested R$874 million in 4Q13, R$610 million of which in the parent company, as follows:

- ü Casa de Pedra mine and Port of Itaguaí: R$222 million;
- ü Expansion of cement production capacity: R$216 million;
- ü Long steel: R$36 million.

The remaining R$264 million went to subsidiaries or joint subsidiaries, mostly in the following projects:

- ü Transnordestina: R$118 million;
- ü MRS: R$72 million;
- ü Container terminal - Tecon: R$39 million;
- ü Namisa: R$13 million.

The Company ceased to consolidate its investment in Transnordestina Logística S/A, due to the partial spin-off on December 27, 2013 and the consequent entry into effect of the new shareholders' agreement.

Working capital allocated to the Company's businesses closed 2013 at R$2,535 million, R$80 million up on the R$2,455 million recorded in September 2013, chiefly due to the reduction in the suppliers line. The average supplier payment period narrowed by five days, offset by the reduction of three days in the inventory turnover period and two days in the average receivables period.

Compared to the close of 2012, working capital increased by R$886 million, chiefly due to the decrease in the suppliers line. In this period, the average supplier payment period, the average inventory turnover period and the average receivables period narrowed by thirty-six, fourteen and two days, respectively.

Results by Segment

The Company maintains integrated operations in five business segments: steel, mining, logistics, cement and energy. The main assets and/or companies comprising each segment are presented below:

The information on CSN's five business segments is derived from the accounting data, together with allocations and the apportionment of costs among the segments.

Results by segment reflect the Company's proportional interest in Namisa, MRS Logística and CBSI and are on a comparable basis with the amounts published in 2012.

Due to the partial spin-off of Transnordestina Logística S/A on December 27, 2013 and the consequent entry into effect of the new shareholders' agreement, the Company ceased to consolidate Transnordestina Logística S/A and began recognizing it in accordance with the equity accounting method.

CSN is a highly integrated company, with steel, mining, cement, logistics and energy businesses. The Company operates throughout the entire steel production chain, from the mining of iron ore to the production and sale of a diversified range of high value-added steel products, including coated and galvanized, as well as tin plate. Thanks to its integrated production system and exemplary management, CSN's production costs are among the lowest in the global steel sector. CSN recorded consolidated net revenue of R$17.3 billion in 2013.

The Company uses Adjusted EBITDA to measure the segments' performance and operating cash flow capacity. It comprises net income before the net financial result, income and social contribution taxes, depreciation and amortization, results from investees and other operating revenue (expenses). Despite being an indicator used to measure the segments' results, EBITDA is not a measure recognized by the Brazilian accounting practices or IFRS, with no standard definition and therefore cannot be used as comparison basis with similar indicators adopted by other companies.

Net debt as presented is used by CSN to measure the Company's financial performance. However, net debt is not recognized as a measurement of financial performance according to the accounting practices adopted in Brazil, nor should it be considered in isolation, or as an indicator of liquidity.
