Gafisa Announces Sale of Stake in Construtora Tenda

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE - São Paulo, December 14, 2016 - Gafisa S.A. (Bovespa: GFSA3; NYSE: GFA) (“the Company”), a leading Brazilian real estate developer, announced today to its shareholders and the market in general that:

In accordance with the Material Fact released today, the Company has entered into a share purchase and sale agreement with Jaguar Growth Asset Management, LLC for the acquisition of up to 30% of the shares issued by Tenda at a price of R$8.13 per share. Under the terms of the agreement, Gafisa will receive cash proceeds of R$231.7 million, valuing Tenda’s full share capital at R$539.0 million. Jaguar Growth Asset Management, LLC is a real estate private equity firm focused exclusively on global growth markets outside of the United States, and founded by investment professionals with significant real estate market expertise and 15 years of experience in Brazil.

The transaction follows the decision by Gafisa’s Board of Directors to discontinue efforts to conduct a secondary public offering of Tenda’s shares, with the consequent cancellation of the application for registration of said Offering before the Brazilian Securities and Exchange Commission (CVM).

The execution of this transaction is subject to the verification of certain precedent conditions, among which the following are highlighted:

- (i) The reduction of Tenda's capital stock, without cancellation of shares, with a refund to Gafisa, currently its sole shareholder, of R$100.0 million adjusted based on the SELIC rate, being: (a) R$50.0 million with settlement by December 31, 2018; and (b) the balance to be paid by December 31, 2019, with the possibility of prepayment due to certain financial covenants provided for in the agreement;
- (ii) The reduction of Gafisa's capital stock in the form of a distribution of shares to its shareholders corresponding to 50% of Tenda's capital stock; and
- (iii) The conclusion of the proceedings related to the exercise by Gafisa shareholders of their preemptive rights for the acquisition of shares, at the price per share referenced in the transaction., noting that Gafisa will offer within this scope to its shareholders 50% of the shares representative of Tenda’s capital stock, and not only the 30% subject to the offer received from Jaguar, given Gafisa's decision to sell such shares.

Stock Spin Off

Since the conclusion of the sale of a 70% stake in Alphaville in December 2013 and as part of a broader plan implemented by management to improve and reinforce the ability of both business units to generate value, the Company informed the market via a Material Fact disclosed on February 7, 2014 that it was initiating studies to proceed with an operational and corporate separation of the Gafisa and Tenda business units.

In addition to maximizing value for shareholders, the main goals of the separation process were determined as follows:

- (i) To allow shareholders to allocate resources between the two companies according to their investment interests and strategies;
- (ii) To allow the two companies to respond more quickly to the opportunities in their target markets;
- (iii) To establish sustainable capital structures for each of the companies, based on their risk profile and strategic priorities;
- (iv) To give greater visibility to the market on the isolated performance of the companies, allowing for a more accurate evaluation of their intrinsic value;
- (v) To increase the capacity to attract and retain talent through the development of appropriate cultures and compensation structures consistent with the specific results of each business.

Over the past 3 years, the Company has been able to achieve a number of the requirements related to effectively separating the Gafisa and Tenda administrative structures, so that both would be prepared to move ahead with their operations in an independent manner. The closing of the transaction and consequent inflow of proceeds will contribute to the improvement of Gafisa's liquidity position and capital structure.

With the conclusion of the Tenda share purchase and sale agreement with Jaguar, and subsequent fulfillment of all precedent conditions, Gafisa will receive proceeds of at least R$231.7 million, implying a valuation multiple of 0.48x over 3Q16 Shareholders' Equity.

In addition, and as one of the aforementioned precedent conditions, the Company has consolidated the corporate separation and the consequent distribution, as of today, of 50% of Tenda's shares totaling 27 million shares to Gafisa shareholders, awarding them a relevant stake in Tenda's share capital upon completion of the transaction.

As a result, Gafisa's shareholders will be able to maximize their ability to generate value based on their exposure to Tenda and its operational excellence, lower level of risk, consistent profitability and the plan to expand and develop new projects within the New Business Model.

Finally, Gafisa's current shareholders will also have the option of exercising their preemptive rights, at the same price per share offered and as established by current legislation, on 50% of Tenda's shares currently owned by Gafisa. If the 20% additional shares offered by Gafisa, in addition to the 30% subject to the offer presented by Jaguar, are also sold within the scope of this transaction, Gafisa will receive additional proceeds of R$87.8 million, taking the transaction to a total consideration of R$319.5 million.

⁴ Value referring to the capital reduction of Tenda to Gafisa, with disbursement as scheduled and upon conditions laid out in the agreement.

The conclusion of this transaction and the consequent distribution of Tenda's stock capital to Gafisa's shareholders marks the final stage of a process that was initiated in 2011 with the development of a new strategic plan for Gafisa and Tenda. This process included the sale of a 70% stake in Alphaville, which resulted in an improvement in Gafisa's liquidity position and capital structure, and the effective operational and corporate separation of the Gafisa and Tenda business units. The Company's management considers that, with the conclusion of this process and the resulting new corporate structure, Gafisa's shareholders are being given a valuable opportunity to capture value in the Brazilian real estate market, through operational solidity, brand recognition and the strategic consolidation of both business units.

Gafisa remains committed to capital discipline, increasing profitability and generating value for its shareholders.
