Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Temporary Suspension of Mining Operations at Yangchong Mine

Due to the depressed market price, it is not currently economical to conduct mining activities at Yangchong Mine, the Company's sole operating asset, and exploitation will be temporarily suspended on December 27, 2015. Management expects to resume mining activities when market conditions improve. Notwithstanding the resumption of mining activities, depletion of probable reserves at Yangchong Mine is likely to occur soon thereafter. Following depletion of probable reserves, the Company intends to continue mining inferred resources at the mine. The amount of inferred resources cannot accurately be predicted. The Company also continues to explore opportunities to acquire other projects in China that can generate cash and add value to our shareholders.

The increase was mainly comprised of (i) an increase in the sales volume of iron concentrates by 263.17% to 29,258 tonnes during the period from 8,056 tonnes for the same period of 2014; and (ii) an increase in the sales volume of zinc concentrates to 131 tonnes during the period from nil for the same period of 2014, which was partially offset by (i) the drop in average selling price of iron concentrate from CNY851 (US$137) per tonne in the six months ended June 30, 2014 to CNY469 (US$76) in the same period in 2015; and (ii) a decrease in the sales of sulfur concentrate to 0.42 million (US$0.07 million) in the six months ended June 30, 2015 from 1.04 million (US$0.17 million) in the same period in 2014.

Sales for the second quarter of 2015 totaled CNY12.06 million (US$1.95 million), a 157.43% increase over the same period last year. This increase was mainly due to the increase in the sales volume of iron concentrates by 433.27% to 21,274 tonnes during the period from 4,910 tonnes for the same period of 2014. The reasons for the change were the same as above.

The overall gross profit margin decreased from a profit of 23.65% for the six months ended June 30, 2014 to a loss of 13.41% for the same period of 2015. The drop was mainly due to a sharp decline in the average selling price of iron concentrates. The sharp drop in the selling prices was caused by the cyclical movement in the iron markets.

The drop in gross profit margin for the second quarter of 2014, from a profit of 19.62% to a loss of 13.41% was caused by the same reason.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

The Company's primary liquidity needs are to fund operating expenses and capital expenditures. To date, the Company has financed its working capital requirements primarily through internally generated cash, and loans from the Shareholder. Depressed prices for iron concentrates continue to pressure our ability to generate cash internally. Due to the depressed market price, it is not currently economical to conduct mining activities at Yangchong Mine, the Company's sole operating asset, and exploitation will be temporarily suspended on December 27, 2015. Management expects to resume mining activities when market conditions improve. Notwithstanding the resumption of mining activities, depletion of probable reserves at Yangchong Mine is likely to occur soon thereafter. Following depletion of probable reserves, the Company intends to continue mining inferred resources at the mine. The amount of inferred resources cannot accurately be predicted. The Company also continues to explore opportunities to acquire other projects in China that can generate cash and add value to our shareholders.
