Item 1.01. Entry into Material Definitive Agreement.

On November 4, 2010, Central Pacific Financial Corp. (the “Company”) entered into separate investment agreements (the “Investment Agreements”) with an affiliate of The Carlyle Group (“Carlyle”) and an affiliate of Anchorage Capital Group, L.L.C. (“Anchorage” and collectively with Carlyle, the “Investors”), pursuant to which each Investor agreed, subject to certain conditions, to invest approximately $98 million in common stock, no par value, of the Company (the “Common Stock”) (each an “Investment” and, collectively, the “Investments”). Each Investor will receive a number of shares of Common Stock at the closing equal to 24.9% of the outstanding shares of Common Stock (after giving effect to the transactions contemplated by its Investment Agreement but excluding any shares issuable upon exercise of options or warrants or in connection with stock appreciation rights), valuing each share at $0.75. The Investments are part of an expected aggregate $325 million capital raise by the Company from institutional and other investors in a private placement.

Each Investment is subject to certain closing conditions, including, among others: (i) investments by other investors that, together with the Investments, total not less than approximately $325 million; (ii) the exchange of the Company’s preferred stock issued to the U.S. Treasury (“Treasury”) for common stock having a value of the sum of 25% of the liquidation preference of the preferred stock and 100% of the amount of accrued and unpaid dividends on the preferred stock as of the closing date; (iii) amendment of the warrant issued to the Treasury to reduce the exercise price to $0.75 per share; (iv) the receipt of certain required governmental approvals including approvals from banking regulators and antitrust clearance; (v) receipt of approval from the New York Stock Exchange (“NYSE”) to issue Common Stock in the capital raise in reliance on Section 312.05 of the NYSE Listed Company Manual (or, in the event that the NYSE does not provide such approval, receipt of shareholder approval of the issuance of Common Stock in the capital raise); (vi) the absence of burdensome regulatory conditions; (vii) maintenance of minimum liquidity levels; (viii) satisfaction of the capital ratios required by the consent order at the closing; (ix) no material change in tax laws relating to deferred tax assets; (x) receipt of a tax opinion and (xi) no material adverse effect.

Each Investment Agreement contains interim covenants of the Company to conduct its businesses in the ordinary course and to refrain from taking certain actions during such period, including amendments to organization documents, dividends or other distributions, reclassifications, stock splits and stock repurchases, issuances and sale of equity securities, hiring and termination of employees, change in compensation, employment agreements and other benefit arrangements, incurrence of liabilities outside of the ordinary course and indebtedness, changes to accounting policies or practices, settlement of litigation, tax elections and sale of certain assets, in each case subject to certain exceptions or limitations.

Each Investor is entitled to a board seat and an observer so long as it holds a specified minimum ownership percentage. Each Investor is also entitled to certain preemptive rights and registration rights. The Company and each Investor have agreed to provide each other certain indemnities .

Pursuant to the terms of the Investment Agreements, the Company has agreed to commence a rights offering (the “Rights Offering”) following the closing of the capital raise whereby shareholders of record as of the close of business on the trading day immediately preceding the closing date would receive transferable rights to purchase newly issued shares of Common Stock at a purchase price equal to $0.75 per share (the “Rights”). The Rights will provide for the purchase of up to $20 million of Common Stock by holders of such Rights. In the event that the Rights Offering is over-subscribed, subscriptions by holders of the Rights shall be reduced proportionally based on such holders’ pro rata ownership of the Rights.

The foregoing description of the Investments and the Investment Agreements do not purport to be complete and are qualified in their entirety by reference to the Investment Agreements (including the exhibits thereto), which are filed as Exhibits 10.1 and 10.2 hereto, and are incorporated into this report by reference. The Investment Agreements and the above description of the Investment Agreements have been included to provide investors and security holders with information regarding the terms of the Investment Agreements. They are not intended to provide any other factual information about the Company or its subsidiaries and affiliates.

Item 3.02. Unregistered Sales of Equity Securities.

On November 4, 2010 the Company entered into definitive agreements providing for the sale of Common Stock for an aggregate combined total of approximately $195 million, as described above under Item 1.01. To the extent required by Item 3.02 of Form 8-K, the information contained or incorporated in Item 1.01 of this Form 8-K is incorporated by reference in this Item 3.02.

The issuance and sale of the Common Stock to the Investors is exempt from registration pursuant to Section 4(2) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. The Company has not engaged in general solicitation or advertising with regard to the issuance and sale of the Common Stock to the Investors and is not offering securities to the public in connection with the Investments.
