ITEM 7.01. Regulation FD Disclosure.

HealthSouth Corporation (the “Company” or “HealthSouth”) will participate in the Morgan Stanley Global Healthcare Conference held at the Grand Hyatt in New York on September 9-11, 2013. HealthSouth President and Chief Executive Officer, Jay Grinney, will participate in a fireside chat presentation on Tuesday, September 10th at 10:00 a.m. ET and reference selected slides previously included in the Investor Reference Book attached as Exhibit 99.1 (the “Investor Reference Book”) to the Current Report on Form 8 K dated August 12, 2013.

The Company will also participate in the Baird's 2013 Health Care Conference held at the New York Palace in New York on September 10-11, 2013. Mr. Grinney will participate in a fireside chat presentation on Wednesday, September 11th at 2:55 p.m. ET and reference selected slides previously included in the Investor Reference Book. Both presentations will address, among other things, the Company's strategy and financial performance and discuss industry trends and dynamics. The presentations will be webcast live and will be available at <http://investor.healthsouth.com> by clicking on an available link.

The Company will provide its observation that it experienced solid discharge growth for July and August of 2013. The Company will also reiterate its 2013 guidance, as previously disclosed in the Current Reports on Form 8-K dated August 12, 2013 and July 25, 2013 and during the Company's earnings conference call held on July 26, 2013. That is, the Company still expects to be within the following ranges:

▲ Adjusted EBITDA of $520 to $530 million; and

◆ Earnings per share from continuing operations attributable to HealthSouth of $2.87 to $2.93.

As previously disclosed, the EPS guidance above reflects the higher interest expense and lower share count as a result of the purchase of approximately 9.1 million shares in the first quarter of 2013 through a tender offer and an income tax benefit of $115 million as a result of agreements entered into with the IRS on April 25, 2013.

In addition, underlying the guidance above are the following assumptions for the period of July through December 2013:

◆ Revenue growth before sequestration of between 5.0% and 6.0%;

◆ Discharge growth of between 3.0% and 4.0%;

◆ Revenue per discharge growth before sequestration of between 2.3% and 2.6%;

▲ Adjusted EBITDA reduction of approximately $16 million, net of noncontrolling interests, for sequestration;

- A planned merit increase in the fourth quarter of 2013;

◆ Increased operating expenses of approximately $2 million due to continued installation of new clinical information system; and

◆ Higher noncontrolling interests expense of $3 million due to changes at two joint ventures.

The information contained herein is being furnished pursuant to Item 7.01 of Form 8-K, “Regulation FD Disclosure.” This information shall not be deemed “filed” for purposes of Section 18 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”), or incorporated by reference in any filing under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the Exchange Act, except as shall be expressly set forth by specific reference in such a filing.

Note Regarding Presentation of Non-GAAP Financial Measures

The financial data contained in the Investor Reference Book includes non-GAAP financial measures, including the Company's leverage ratio and Adjusted EBITDA. The leverage ratio referenced therein is defined as the ratio of consolidated total debt to Adjusted EBITDA for the trailing four quarters. The Company believes its leverage ratio and Adjusted EBITDA are measures of its ability to service its debt and its ability to make capital expenditures. Additionally, the leverage ratio is a standard measurement used by investors to gauge the creditworthiness of an institution. The Company's credit agreement also includes a maximum leverage ratio financial covenant which allows the Company to deduct up to $75 million of cash on hand from consolidated total debt. The Company reconciles Adjusted EBITDA to net income and to net cash provided by operating activities.

The Company uses Adjusted EBITDA on a consolidated basis as a liquidity measure. The Company believes this financial measure on a consolidated basis is important in analyzing its liquidity because it is the key component of certain material covenants contained within the Company's credit agreement, which is discussed in more detail in Item 7, Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations, "Liquidity and Capital Resources," and Note 8, Long-term Debt, to the consolidated financial statements included in its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2012 (the “2012 Form 10-K”). These covenants are material terms of the credit agreement. Noncompliance with these financial covenants under the credit agreement—its interest coverage ratio and its leverage ratio—could result in the Company’s lenders requiring the Company to immediately repay all amounts borrowed. If the Company anticipated a potential covenant violation, it would seek relief from its lenders, which would have some cost to the Company, and such relief might not be on terms favorable to those in the Company’s existing credit agreement. In addition, if the Company cannot satisfy these financial covenants, it would be prohibited under the credit agreement from engaging in certain activities, such as incurring additional indebtedness, making certain payments, and acquiring and disposing of assets. Consequently, Adjusted EBITDA is critical to the Company’s assessment of its liquidity. In general terms, the credit agreement definition of Adjusted EBITDA, referred to as “Adjusted Consolidated EBITDA” there, allows the Company to add back to consolidated net income interest expense, income taxes, and depreciation and amortization and then add back to consolidated net income (1) all unusual or nonrecurring items reducing consolidated net income (of which only up to $10 million in a year may be cash expenditures), (2) costs and expenses related to refinancing transactions (in years prior to 2012), (3) any losses from discontinued operations and closed locations, (4) costs and expenses, including legal fees and expert witness fees, incurred with respect to litigation associated with stockholder derivative litigation, including the matters related to Ernst & Young LLP and Richard Scrushy discussed in Note 19, Contingencies and Other Commitments, to the consolidated financial statements accompanying the 2012 Form 10-K and Note 10, Contingencies and Other Commitments, to the condensed consolidated financial statements included in Part I, Item 1, Financial Statements (Unaudited), of the Company’s quarterly report on Form 10-Q for the quarterly period ended June 30, 2013 (the “June 2013 Form 10-Q”), and (5) share-based compensation expense. The Company also subtracts from consolidated net income all unusual or nonrecurring items to the extent they increase consolidated net income.

Under the credit agreement, the Adjusted EBITDA calculation does not include net income attributable to noncontrolling interests and includes (1) gain or loss on disposal of assets, (2) professional fees unrelated to the stockholder derivative litigation, and (3) unusual or nonrecurring cash expenditures in excess of $10 million. These items may not be indicative of the Company’s ongoing performance, so the Adjusted EBITDA calculation presented here includes adjustments for them.

Adjusted EBITDA is not a measure of financial performance under generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America (“GAAP”), and the items excluded from Adjusted EBITDA are significant components in understanding and assessing financial performance. Therefore, Adjusted EBITDA should not be considered a substitute for net income or cash flows from operating, investing, or financing activities. Because Adjusted EBITDA is not a measurement determined in accordance with GAAP and is thus susceptible to varying calculations, Adjusted EBITDA, as presented, may not be comparable to other similarly titled measures of other companies. Revenues and expenses are measured in accordance with the policies and procedures described in Note 1, Summary of Significant Accounting Policies, to the consolidated financial statements accompanying the 2012 Form 10-K.

The Company also uses adjusted free cash flow as an analytical indicator to assess its performance. Management believes the presentation of adjusted free cash flow provides investors an efficient means by which they can evaluate the Company’s capacity to reduce debt, pursue development activities, and return capital to its common stockholders. The calculation of adjusted free cash flow and a reconciliation of net cash provided by operating activities to adjusted free cash flow is included in the Investor Reference Book. This measure is not a defined measure of financial performance under GAAP and should not be considered as an alternative to net cash provided by operating activities. The Company’s definition of adjusted free cash flow is limited and does not represent residual cash flows available for discretionary spending. Because this measure is not determined in accordance with GAAP and is susceptible to varying calculations, it may not be comparable to other similarly titled measures presented by other companies. See the consolidated statements of cash flows included in the 2012 Form 10-K and the condensed consolidated statements of cash flows included in the June 2013 Form 10-Q for the GAAP measures of cash flows from operating, investing, and financing activities.
