REGULATORY APPROVAL PROCESS

In an effort to keep employees apprised of the regulatory approval process for the HUGHES/EchoStar merger, we have compiled a brief description of that process. There are four major regulatory milestones that must be reached as part of the transaction. Each may require a number of months to complete.

Our lawyers have provided an estimate of nine to twelve months to obtain all of the necessary regulatory approvals. Please note that this is only an estimate and that there are a number of factors that can influence the time required.

1. HART-SCOTT-RODINO (HSR) ANTITRUST CLEARANCE

The parties to the transaction must make filings with the government for antitrust clearance. The Department of Justice (DOJ) has 30 days after the filing to either issue a second request for information or permit the merger to proceed.

2. INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE (IRS)

GM will seek a private letter ruling from the IRS to the effect that, among other things, the separation of HUGHES from GM will be tax-free to GM and its shareholders for U.S. Federal Income Tax purposes. This is the same process as that used in connection with the separation of Hughes Defense from GM in 1997.

3. SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION (SEC)

GM must prepare a Proxy/Consent Solicitation Statement relating to the GM stockholder vote on the proposed transactions, which will be filed together with other SEC filings of HUGHES and EchoStar. The document will include a prospectus relating to the issuance of HUGHES common stock in exchange for GM Class H common stock. The document must be declared effective by the SEC prior to seeking stockholder approval for these transactions, including for an amendment of the GM Charter that enables the transactions.

4. FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION (FCC)

GM, HUGHES and EchoStar must file with the FCC for approval to transfer control of the FCC licenses held by HUGHES, EchoStar and their respective subsidiaries to the combined company in connection with the merger. That process will involve public notice and a public proceeding.

In connection with the proposed transactions, General Motors, Hughes and EchoStar intend to file relevant materials with the Securities and Exchange Commission, including one or more Registration Statement(s) on Form S-4 that contain a prospectus and proxy/consent solicitation statement. Because those documents will contain important information, holders of GM $1-2/3 and GM Class H common stock are urged to read them, if and when they become available. When filed with the SEC, they will be available for free at the SEC's website, www.sec.gov, and GM stockholders will receive information at an appropriate time on how to obtain transaction-related documents for free from General Motors. Such documents are not currently available.

General Motors and its directors and executive officers, Hughes and certain of its officers, and EchoStar and certain of its executive officers may be deemed to be participants in the solicitation of proxies or consents from the holders of GM $1-2/3 common stock and GM Class H common stock in connection with the proposed transactions. Information regarding the participants and their interests in the solicitation was filed pursuant to Rule 425 with the SEC by GM and Hughes on November 8, 2001. Investors may obtain additional information regarding the interests of the participants by reading the prospectus and proxy/consent solicitation statement if and when it becomes available.

This communication shall not constitute an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy, nor shall there be any sale of securities in any jurisdiction in which such offer, solicitation or sale would be unlawful prior to registration or qualification under the securities laws of any such jurisdiction. No offering of securities shall be made except by means of a prospectus meeting the requirements of Section 10 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.
