Limitation on Incorporation by Reference

In accordance with General Instruction B.2 of Form 8-K, the information in this Item 7.01 shall not be deemed "filed" for purposes of Section 18 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), or otherwise subject to the liabilities of that section, nor shall such information be deemed incorporated by reference in any filing under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, except as shall be expressly set forth by specific reference in such a filing.

Cautionary Statements Regarding Financial and Operating Data

The Company cautions investors and potential investors not to place undue reliance upon the information contained in the Monthly Operating Report, and it was not prepared for the purpose of providing the basis for an investment decision relating to any of the securities of any of the Debtors, or any other affiliate of the Company. There can be no assurance that, from the perspective of an investor or potential investor in the Company's securities, the Monthly Operating Report is complete. The Monthly Operating Report also contains information for periods which are shorter or otherwise different from those required in the Company's reports pursuant to the Exchange Act, and such information might not be indicative of the Company's financial condition or operating results for the period that would be reflected in the Company's financial statements or in its reports pursuant to the Exchange Act. Results set forth in the Monthly Operating Report should not be viewed as indicative of future results.

Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This Current Report and the exhibit hereto may contain forward-looking statements made in reliance upon the safe harbor provisions of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. These statements may be identified by their use of words, such as "anticipate," "estimates," "should," "expect," "guidance," "project," "intend," "plan," "believe" and other words and terms of similar meaning. Factors that could affect the Company's forward-looking statements include, among other things: the pace at which Kmart terminates its business relationship with the Company and the Company's ability to develop viable business alternatives to offset the termination of such relationship; the Company's ability to emerge from bankruptcy protection and operate as a going concern without those protections; the Company's ability to operate pursuant to the terms of its debtor in possession and exit financing facility and to otherwise obtain financing necessary to operate the Company's business on satisfactory terms both during and after its emergence from bankruptcy protection; the Company's ability to obtain Court approval and any other required approvals with respect to motions in the Chapter 11 Cases prosecuted by the Company from time to time; the Company's ability to develop, prosecute, confirm and consummate its plan of reorganization with respect to the Chapter 11 Cases; risks associated with third parties seeking and obtaining Court approval to propose and confirm their own plan of reorganization, to appoint a Chapter 11 trustee or to convert the Chapter 11 Cases to Chapter 7 cases; the Company's ability to obtain and maintain normal terms with vendors and service providers and the ability to maintain contracts that are critical to the Company's operations; the Company's compliance with the requirements of Sarbanes-Oxley; negative reactions from the Company's stockholders, creditors or vendors to the delay in providing financial information and the delisting of the Company's common stock from the New York Stock Exchange; the impact and result of any litigation (including private litigation), or any action by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") relating to the Company or the financial statement restatement process; the Company's ability to successfully implement internal controls and procedures that ensure timely, effective and accurate financial reporting; delays in the filing of required periodic or current reports with the SEC; the Company's ability to reduce overhead costs commensurate with any decline in sales; higher than anticipated employee levels, capital expenditures and operating expenses, including the Company's ability to reduce overhead and rationalize assets, both generally and with respect to changes made to address the results of the investigation and the restatement; adverse results on the Company's business relating to increased review and scrutiny by regulatory authorities, media and others of financial reporting issues and practices or otherwise; any adverse developments in existing commercial disputes or legal proceedings; intense competition in the markets in which the Company competes; and the Company's ability to attract and retain qualified personnel. Additionally, due to material uncertainties, it is not possible to predict the length of time the Company will operate under Chapter 11 protection, the outcome of the proceeding in general, whether the Company will continue to operate under its current organizational structure, or the effect of the proceeding on the Company's businesses and the interests of various creditors and security holders.

Because the information herein is based solely on data currently available, it is subject and should not be viewed as providing any assurance regarding the Company's future performance. Actual results and performance may differ from the Company's current projections, estimates and expectations and the differences may be material, individually or in the aggregate, to the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations, liquidity or prospects. Additionally, the Company assumes no obligation to update any of its forward-looking statements based on changes in assumptions, changes in results or other events subsequent to the date hereof.
