Subsequent changes in fair value of the derivatives are recorded currently in earnings unless certain hedge accounting criteria are met. If the derivatives qualify for regulatory deferral subject to the provisions of SFAS No. 71, "Accounting for the Effects of Certain Types of Regulation," the derivatives are marked to fair value pursuant to SFAS No. 133 and are offset with a corresponding regulatory asset or liability.

Integrys Energy Group classifies mark-to-market gains and losses on derivative instruments not qualifying for hedge accounting or regulatory deferral as a component of revenues.

The following table shows Integrys Energy Group's assets and liabilities from risk management activities as of June 30, 2007, and December 31, 2006:

Utility Segments

The derivatives listed in the above table as "Commodity contracts" include a limited number of electric and natural gas purchase contracts as well as financial derivative contracts (NYMEX futures and options) used by both the electric and natural gas utility segments to mitigate the market price volatility of natural gas. The electric utility segment also uses financial instruments to manage transmission congestion costs, which are shown in the above table as "Financial transmission rights."

Derivative instruments at the utilities are entered into in accordance with the terms of the risk management policies approved by Integrys Energy Group's Board of Directors and, if applicable, by the respective regulatory bodies. Changes in the fair value of non-hedge derivative instruments are recognized as regulatory assets or liabilities as our regulators have allowed deferral of the mark-to-market effects of derivative instruments at the utilities. Thus, management believes any gains or losses resulting from the eventual settlement of these derivative instruments will be collected from or refunded to customers.

Additionally, PGL uses derivatives to hedge changes in the price of natural gas used to support operations. These instruments are designated as cash flow hedges, which allow for the effective portion of the unrealized change in value during the life of the hedge to be recorded in comprehensive income, net of taxes. Commodity contracts that are designated as cash flow hedges extend through September 2008. Cash flow hedge ineffectiveness recorded in operating and maintenance expense on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income related to commodity contracts was insignificant for the three and six months ended June 30, 2007. When testing for effectiveness, no portion of the derivative instruments was excluded. Amounts recorded in other comprehensive income related to these cash flow hedges will be recognized in earnings as the hedged transactions occur or if it becomes probable that the hedged transaction will not occur. The amount to be recognized in earnings over the next 12 months as the hedged transactions occur is insignificant.

Nonregulated Segments

The derivatives in the nonregulated segments not designated as hedges under generally accepted accounting principles are primarily commodity contracts used to manage price risk associated with natural gas and electric energy purchase and sale activities, and foreign currency contracts used to manage foreign currency exposure related to Integrys Energy Services' Canadian operations. In addition, Integrys Energy Services entered into interest rate swaps associated with long-term storage contracts as well as a series of derivative contracts (options) covering a specified number of barrels of oil in order to manage exposure to the risk of an increase in oil prices that could result in a phase-out of Section 29/45K federal tax credits from Integrys Energy Services' investment in a synthetic fuel production facility for 2007. See Note 12, "Commitments and Contingencies," for more information. Changes in the fair value of non-hedge derivatives are recognized currently in earnings.

Our nonregulated segments also enter into commodity derivative contracts that are designated as either fair value or cash flow hedges. Fair value hedges are used to mitigate the risk of changes in the price of natural gas held in storage. The changes in the fair value of these hedges are recognized currently in earnings, as are the changes in fair value of the hedged items. Fair value hedge ineffectiveness recorded in nonregulated revenue on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income was not significant for the three months ended June 30, 2007, and 2006. Fair value hedge ineffectiveness recorded in nonregulated revenue on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income was not significant for the six months ended June 30, 2007, and was a pre-tax gain of $2.6 million for the six months ended June 30, 2006. Changes in the difference between the spot and forward prices of natural gas were excluded from the assessment of hedge effectiveness and reported directly in nonregulated revenue. The amount excluded was a pre-tax gain of $2.1 million during the three months ended June 30, 2007, and was not significant during the three months ended June 30, 2007, and was not significant during the six months ended June 30, 2007, and was not significant during the six months ended June 30, 2007, and was not significant during the six months ended June 30, 2006.

Commodity contracts that are designated as cash flow hedges extend through February 2011, and are used to mitigate the risk of cash flow variability associated with the future purchases and sales of natural gas, oil, and electricity. To the extent they are effective, the changes in the values of these contracts are included in other comprehensive income, net of taxes. Cash flow hedge ineffectiveness recorded in nonregulated revenue on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income related to commodity contracts was not significant for the three months ended June 30, 2007, and was a pre-tax gain of $2.8 million for the three months ended June 30, 2006. Cash flow hedge ineffectiveness recorded in nonregulated revenue on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income related to commodity contracts was a pre-tax loss of $5.9 million for the six months ended June 30, 2007, and a pre-tax gain of $4.1 million for the six months ended June 30, 2006. When testing for effectiveness, no portion of the derivative instruments was excluded. Amounts recorded in other comprehensive income related to these cash flow hedges will be recognized in earnings when the hedged transactions occur, which is typically as the related contracts are settled, or if it is probable that the hedged transaction will not occur. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2007, and 2006, the amounts reclassified from other comprehensive income into earnings as a result of the discontinuance of cash flow hedge accounting for certain hedge transactions were not significant. In the next 12 months, subject to changes in market prices of natural gas and electricity, we expect that a pre-tax gain of $14.8 million will be recognized in earnings as the hedged transactions occur. We expect this amount to be substantially offset by settlement of the related nonderivative contracts that are being hedged.

As a result of the merger with PEC, Integrys Energy Group assumed a fixed to floating interest rate swap. This swap is designated as a fair value hedge and is used to hedge the changes in fair value of $50.0 million of PEC Series A 6.9% notes due January 15, 2011, from movements in interest rates. The changes in the fair value of this hedge are recognized currently in earnings, as are the changes in fair value of the hedged notes. Fair value hedge ineffectiveness recorded in nonregulated revenue on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income was not significant for the three and six months ending June 30, 2007. When testing for effectiveness, no portion of the derivative instruments was excluded.

-11-

In the second quarter of 2005, two interest rate swaps were designated as cash flow hedges to fix the interest rate on an unsecured term loan at Integrys Energy Group. Since the designation of these contracts as cash flow hedges, the changes in the fair value of the effective portion of these swaps are included in other comprehensive income, net of taxes, while changes related to the ineffective portion are recorded in earnings. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2007, and 2006, cash flow hedge ineffectiveness recorded in earnings related to these swaps was not significant. Amounts recorded in other comprehensive income related to these swaps will be recognized as a component of interest expense when the interest expense on the related debt is recognized in earnings. The amount to be reclassified as interest expense over the next 12 months is insignificant. Integrys Energy Group did not exclude any component of the derivative instruments' change in fair value from the assessment of hedge effectiveness.

In 2006, Integrys Energy Group entered into two forward-starting interest rate swaps with ten-year terms to hedge a portion of the interest rate risk associated with the planned issuance of $200.0 million of fixed-rate, long-term debt securities. Because both swaps qualified for cash flow hedge treatment, changes in the fair value of the swaps were recorded in other comprehensive income, net of taxes. Both swaps were settled in 2006, and in December 2006, Integrys Energy Group issued $300.0 million of junior subordinated notes. Amounts remaining in accumulated other comprehensive income for the forward-starting swaps are being reclassified to interest expense over a ten-year period beginning in December 2006 to correspond with the first ten years of interest on the related debt. The amount to be reclassified to interest expense over the next 12 months is not significant.

NOTE 4--DISCONTINUED OPERATIONS

PEP

In February 2007, Integrys Energy Group announced its plans to divest of PEP. SFAS No. 141 "Business Combinations," states that assets acquired in a business combination that will be sold should be recognized at fair value less costs to sell in accordance with SFAS No. 144, "Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets." SFAS No. 144 requires that long-lived assets classified as held for sale be measured at the lower of their carrying amount or fair value, less costs to sell, and to cease depreciation, depletion, and amortization. At the date of the merger, the assets and liabilities of PEP were classified as held for sale and results of operations and related cash flows occurring subsequent to the merger were reported as discontinued operations. Integrys Energy Group is working with a financial advisor on this transaction and anticipates the divesture to be completed by December 31, 2007.

At June 30, 2007, the assets and liabilities associated with PEP that will be transferred in the sale have been classified as held for sale. No adjustments to write down the PEP assets to fair value less costs to sell were required during the time period subsequent to the merger through June 30, 2007. The major classes of assets and liabilities held for sale at June 30, 2007, for PEP are as follows:

(Millions)	2007
Accounts receivable	41.3
Other current assets	3.5
Property, plant, and equipment, net	783.6
Total assets held for sale	828.4
Accounts payable	35.2
Other current liabilities	5.4
Asset retirement obligations	5.7
Liabilities held for sale	46.3

A summary of the components of discontinued operations recorded in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income related to PEP for the three months ended June 30 was as follows:

-12-

(Millions)	2007
Nonregulated revenue	$ 52.6
Operating and maintenance expense	12.0
Taxes other than income	2.2
Income before taxes	38.4
Income tax provision	14.4
Discontinued operations, net of tax	$ 24.0

A summary of the components of discontinued operations recorded in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income related to PEP for the time period subsequent to the merger through June 30, 2007, were as follows:

(Millions)	2007
Nonregulated revenue	70.8
Operating and maintenance expense	16.0
Taxes other than income	3.7
Income before taxes	51.1
Income tax provision	18.9
Discontinued operations, net of tax	32.2

It has been Integrys Energy Group's policy to not allocate interest to discontinued operations unless the asset group being sold has external debt obligations. For the period ended June 30, 2007, PEP did not have any external debt obligations.

WPS Niagara Generation, LLC

In January 2007, Integrys Energy Services completed the sale of WPS Niagara Generation, LLC, which owned a 50-megawatt merchant generation facility located near Niagara Falls, New York, for approximately $31 million, subject to post closing adjustments. The pre-tax gain recorded in 2007 was $24.6 million, $14.8 million after-tax, and was included as a component of discontinued operations. This facility was a merchant facility and sold power on a wholesale basis when market conditions were economically favorable.
