Item 7: Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

The discussion and analysis presented below refers to and should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and related notes included in this Form 10-K. Unless otherwise indicated, throughout this Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations, discussion of matters in the Company's consolidated financial statements refers to continuing operations. The Company's discussion of results of operations is presented in four parts: Company Overview, Consolidated Results of Operations, Segment Results of Operations and Other Matters.

Company Overview

Strategic Overview

Cardinal Health is a leading provider of products and services that improve the safety and productivity of healthcare. The Company is one of the largest distributors of pharmaceuticals and medical supplies focusing on making supply chains more efficient. The Company distributes approximately one-third of all pharmaceuticals prescribed in the United States and also distributes or manufactures products that are used in approximately 50% of all surgeries in the United States. The Company develops market-leading technologies, including Alaris infusion pumps, Pyxis automated dispensing systems, MedMined[™] electronic infection surveillance, Viasys respiratory care products and the Care Fusion[™] patient identification system. The Company's Pyxis and Alaris systems distribute approximately 8.5 million doses of medication every day. Customers include hospitals and clinics, some of the largest drug store chains in the United States and many other healthcare providers and retail outlets. The Company believes that its depth and breadth of products is unique in the industry and gives it a competitive advantage.

Cardinal Health's mission is to make the practice and delivery of healthcare safer and more productive for healthcare providers. Over the last fiscal year the Company made three major changes to better pursue its mission:

the Company reorganized its businesses and reportable segments;

the Company divested the PTS Business to focus on the healthcare provider in both the retail and hospital settings; and the Company made strategic acquisitions that broaden and enhance product offerings.

First, the Company reorganized its reportable segments effective the first quarter of fiscal 2007 and began reporting its financial information within the following five reportable segments: Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical; Healthcare Supply Chain Services Medical; Clinical Technologies and Services; Pharmaceutical Technologies and Services; and Medical Products Manufacturing. This change in segment reporting resulted from a realignment of the individual businesses to better correlate the operations of the Company with the needs of its customers. This change had no effect on the Company's reported net earnings or net earnings per Common Share.

Second, during the fourth quarter of fiscal 2007, the Company completed the sale of the PTS Business for approximately $3.2 billion in cash. The Company used the after-tax net proceeds of approximately $3.1 billion to repurchase its Common Shares. The Company recognized an after-tax book gain of approximately $1.1 billion from this transaction. The assets and liabilities of the PTS Business were classified as held for sale in prior periods and its operating results were classified within discontinued operations for all periods presented. See Note 8 in the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information on the Company's discontinued operations.

The Company's remaining four segments after the sale of the PTS business align within two sectors: the Healthcare Supply Chain Services sector, which includes the Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical and Healthcare Supply Chain Services Medical segments, and the Clinical and Medical Products sector, which includes the Clinical Technologies and Services and Medical Products Manufacturing segments. The Healthcare Supply Chain Services sector focuses on delivering best-in-class distribution and logistics services to its customers. The sector generates 95% of total segment revenue, approximately three-quarters of total segment profit (as defined below in the Segment Results of Operations section) and consistent and reliable cash flow. The Clinical and Medical Products sector focuses largely on developing innovative products for hospitals and other providers of care. The sector, with its higher margin products and services and faster growing segment profit has grown to contribute approximately one-fourth of total segment profit.

Third, during fiscal 2007, the Company acquired Viasys, MedMined and Care Fusion along with other acquisitions. Viasys is a leader in respiratory care through the development and marketing of systems for critical care and diagnostic use and offers products and services directed at critical care ventilation, respiratory diagnostics and clinical services, neurological, vascular, audio, homecare, orthopedics, sleep diagnostics and other medical and surgical products markets. The value of the transaction, including the assumption of Viasys's debt, totaled approximately $1.5 billion. Viasys is being integrated into the Medical Products Manufacturing segment. The Company also acquired MedMined, a leader in tracking and predicting infection management opportunities within major hospitals and Care Fusion, which focuses on bedside bar code utilization for tracking hospital samples. Both businesses are being integrated into the Clinical Technologies and Services segment. For further information regarding the Company's acquisitions see Item 1 Business Acquisitions and Divestitures, Other Matters Acquisitions below and Note 2 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements.

For further information regarding the Company's business, see Item 1 Business within this Form 10-K.

Financial Overview

Continued demand for the Company's products and services in fiscal 2007 led to revenue of $86.9 billion, up 9% from fiscal 2006. Operating earnings, which were negatively impacted by special items ($772 million), decreased 26% to approximately $1.4 billion. The significant increase in special items related to reserves for litigation settlements ($655 million) and in-process research and development (IPR&D) expenses primarily in connection with the Viasys acquisition ($85 million). The year-over-year operating earnings comparison was favorably impacted by increased gross margin ($431 million) partially offset by increases in selling, general and administrative expenses ($200 million). Net earnings, which included the gain from the sale of the PTS Business ($1.1 billion), were $1.9 billion and net diluted earnings per Common Share were $4.77.

Fiscal 2007 cash from operating activities decreased $898 million to $1.2 billion primarily due to the payment of litigation settlement reserves and government fines ($690 million) as discussed in the Special Items section below. Cash provided by investing activities was $1.5 billion due primarily to net proceeds from the PTS Business divestiture ($3.1 billion) offset by cash paid for acquisitions ($1.6 billion). Cash used in financing activities was $2.6 billion due to the Company's cash payments for treasury shares ($3.7 billion) offset by net proceeds from borrowings ($631 million) and issuance of shares ($553 million).

During fiscal 2007, the Company repurchased approximately $3.8 billion of its Common Shares under a $4.5 billion repurchase authorization of which $3.7 billion was settled prior to year-end. On August 8, 2007, the Company announced a new $2.0 billion share repurchase program which expires on August 31, 2009. See the table under Item 5 Market for Registrant's Common Equity, Related Stockholder Matters and Issuer Purchases of Equity Securities for more information regarding the share repurchases. Also during fiscal 2007, the Company paid $144 million in dividends or $0.36 per share. In the fourth quarter of fiscal 2007, the Board of Directors raised the quarterly dividend by 33% to $0.12 per share. The share repurchase activity (apart from the use of net proceeds from the PTS Business divestiture) and increased dividend payments support the Company's previously stated long-term goal to return 50% of net cash provided by operating activities from continuing operations to shareholders and to increase its dividend payout to 20% of earnings per share.

- (1) Change is calculated as the percentage increase or (decrease) for a given year as compared to the immediately preceding year.
- (2) During the second quarter of fiscal 2007, the Company changed the classification of certain immaterial implementation costs associated with the sale of medication and supply storage devices in the Clinical Technologies and Services segment from selling, general and administrative expenses to cost of products sold. Prior period amounts have been reclassified to conform to the new presentation.

- (3) Equity-based compensation expense was $138 million, $208 million and $9 million, respectively, for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2007, 2006 and 2005.

Revenue

Revenue increased $7.2 billion or 9% during fiscal 2007 due to growth in each of the Company's four reportable segments, including revenue growth of $6.5 billion within the Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical segment, due primarily to growth in revenue from bulk customers ($4.0 billion). The increase in revenue from bulk customers was due to certain existing customers deciding to purchase a greater volume of product from the Company rather than directly from the manufacturer and to pharmaceutical price appreciation. The Company uses the internal metric pharmaceutical price appreciation index to evaluate the impact of pharmaceutical and consumer product price appreciation on revenue from the pharmaceutical supply chain business. This metric is calculated using the change in the manufacturer's published price at the beginning of the period as compared to the end of the period weighted by the units sold by the pharmaceutical supply chain business during the period. The pharmaceutical price appreciation index was 6.3% during fiscal 2007. The Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical segment represents approximately 86% of total segment revenue. Refer to Segment Results of Operations below for further discussion of the specific factors affecting revenue in each of the Company's reportable segments.

Revenue increased $7.0 billion or 10% during fiscal 2006 due to increased revenue within each of the Company's four reportable segments, including revenue growth of $6.4 billion within the Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical segment, due primarily to growth in revenue from bulk customers ($5.8 billion). The increase in revenue from bulk customers was due to overall market growth and certain existing customers deciding to purchase a greater volume of product from the Company rather than directly from the manufacturer. The pharmaceutical price appreciation index was 5.6% during fiscal 2006.

Cost of Products Sold

Cost of products sold increased $6.8 billion or 9% and $6.6 billion or 10%, respectively, for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2007 and 2006. The increases in cost of products sold were mainly due to the respective 9% and 10% growth in revenue for fiscal 2007 and 2006. See the Gross Margin discussion below for further discussion of additional factors impacting cost of products sold.

Gross Margin

Gross margin increased $431 million or 9% for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2007 over the prior fiscal year. The increase in gross margin was primarily due to revenue growth of $7.2 billion. Factors favorably impacting gross margin included increased sales of clinical and medical products and related services ($204 million), increased manufacturer cash discounts ($193 million), generic pharmaceutical margin ($192 million) and distribution service agreement fees and pharmaceutical price appreciation (combined impact of $171 million). Gross margin was negatively impacted by the increase in customer discounts within the Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical and Healthcare Supply Chain Services Medical segments ($324 million) due to increased sales and competitive pricing pressures. Refer to the Segment Results of Operations below for further discussion of the specific factors affecting gross margin in each of the Company's reportable segments.

Due to the competitive markets in which the Company's businesses operate, the Company expects competitive pricing pressures to continue; however, the Company expects the margin impact of these pricing pressures will be mitigated through sales growth of higher margin manufactured products, effective product sourcing, realization of synergies through integration of acquired businesses and continued focus on cost controls.

Gross margin increased $354 million or 8% for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2006. The increase in gross margin was primarily due to revenue growth of $7.0 billion. Gross margin was favorably impacted by increased gross margin in clinical and manufactured products and related services ($211 million) and manufacturer cash discounts ($139 million) and distribution service agreement fees and pharmaceutical price appreciation (combined impact of $134 million) from the pharmaceutical supply chain business within the Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical segment. Gross margin was negatively impacted by increased customer discounts ($232 million) in the pharmaceutical supply chain business.

Selling, General and Administrative (SG&A) Expenses

SG&A expenses increased $200 million or 7% during fiscal 2007 primarily in support of revenue growth. Additional items impacting SG&A expenses included increases due to acquisitions ($72 million) and the Company's charitable contribution to the Cardinal Health Foundation ($30 million). SG&A expenses were favorably impacted by the year-over-year reduction in equity-based compensation expense ($70 million). The reduction in equity-based compensation expense was due in part to changes made to the Company's equity compensation program and the grant of stock appreciation rights in the prior year. Refer to Segment Results of Operations below for further discussion of the specific factors affecting SG&A expenses in each of the Company's reportable segments.

The Company expects SG&A expenses to grow in fiscal 2008 in support of sales growth and new product and service offerings and as a result of the impact of acquisitions and continued investment in research and development projects and international expansion; however, the Company does expect to generate expense efficiencies through the integration of acquired companies and other cost controls.

SG&A expenses increased $385 million or 15% during fiscal 2006 primarily in support of the $7.0 billion revenue growth and as a result of increased equity-based compensation expense ($199 million), primarily due to the adoption of SFAS No. 123(R). See Other Matters Adoption of SFAS No. 123(R) below and Note 18 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information regarding equity-based compensation. Additional items impacting SG&A expenses included increased incentive compensation expense ($36 million) due to improved operating performance, incremental expenses associated with the Company's global restructuring program ($38 million) and increased legal expenses ($15 million) due to then-outstanding litigation.

Impairment Charges and Other

The Company recognized impairment charges and other of $17 million, $6 million and $38 million, respectively, for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2007, 2006 and 2005. See Note 3 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information regarding impairment charges and other.

Special Items

The following is a summary of the Company's special items for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2007, 2006 and 2005 (in millions):

| | 2007 | 2006 | 2005 |
|---------------------------------|----------|---------|----------|
| Restructuring charges | $ 40.1 | $ 47.6 | $ 80.3 |
| Acquisition integration charges | 101.5 | 25.4 | 48.3 |
| Litigation and other | 630.4 | 7.5 | 12.9 |
| Total special items | $ 772.0 | $ 80.5 | $ 141.5 |

Fiscal 2007 special items charges primarily related to reserves for litigation settlements ($655 million) and IPR&D expenses ($85 million) primarily in connection with the Viasys acquisition. The Company recorded litigation charges and made payment of $655 million during fiscal 2007 related to the settlement of the Cardinal Health federal securities litigation ($600 million), Cardinal Health ERISA litigation ($40 million) and other matters. These charges were offset by $29 million of income related to pharmaceutical manufacturer antitrust litigation. In addition, the Company settled and made payment for the penalty associated with the SEC investigation ($35 million), which was reserved in fiscal 2006 and 2005. These settlements resolve some of the Company's most significant outstanding litigation as well as the SEC investigation. In fiscal 2008, the Company expects to recognize approximately $58 million in proceeds as income from insurance policies upon final settlement of all claims in shareholder derivative actions. See Note 12 of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for further discussion of these matters and other outstanding legal proceedings and regulatory matters.

During fiscal 2007, the Company recorded $85 million of IPR&D charges primarily associated with the Viasys acquisition. The IPR&D charges represent the estimated fair value of the research and development projects in-process at the time of the acquisition. These projects had not yet reached technological feasibility, were deemed to have no alternative use and, accordingly, were immediately charged to operating expense at the acquisition date.

Fiscal 2006 and 2005 special items charges primarily related to the Company's restructuring programs, the SEC investigation and Audit Committee internal review, the integration costs of certain acquisitions and settlements received from vitamin antitrust litigation. See Note 3 of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for details of the Company's special items.

Operating Earnings

Operating earnings decreased $471 million or 26% during fiscal 2007, which includes increased special items charges ($692 million) and impairment and other charges ($12 million). Operating earnings were favorably impacted by gross margin growth ($431 million) and negatively impacted by increased SG&A expenses ($200 million).

Operating earnings increased $63 million or 4% during fiscal 2006. Operating earnings were favorably impacted by gross margin growth ($354 million) and the year-over-year decrease in special items charges ($61 million) and impairment charges and other ($33 million). Fiscal 2006 operating earnings were negatively impacted by increased SG&A expenses ($385 million).

Interest Expense and Other

Interest expense and other increased $17 million or 16% during fiscal 2007 primarily due to increased borrowing levels and interest rates. Interest expense and other decreased $13 million during fiscal 2006 primarily due to an increase in investment income ($7 million) and foreign exchange gains ($4 million).

Provision for Income Taxes

The provisions for income taxes relative to earnings before income taxes and discontinued operations were 32.9%, 33.2% and 35.9% of pretax earnings in fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005, respectively. Generally, fluctuations in the effective tax rate are due to changes within international and U.S. state effective tax rates resulting from the Company's business mix and changes in the tax impact of special items, which may have unique tax implications depending on the nature of the item and the taxing jurisdiction. The Company's effective tax rate reflects tax benefits derived from increasing operations outside the United States, which are generally taxed at rates lower than the U.S. statutory rate of 35%. The Company has tax incentive agreements in several non-U.S. tax jurisdictions which will expire in fiscal years 2009 through 2024 if not renewed. The Company does not believe that potential changes from existing tax incentive agreements will have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial position or results of operations.

The Company's fiscal 2007 provision for income taxes relative to earnings before income taxes and discontinued operations was $412.6 million and the effective tax rate was 32.9%. The fiscal 2007 effective tax rate benefited by 0.2 percentage points from equity-based compensation expense, which is deductible at a tax rate higher than the average tax rate. The fiscal 2007 effective tax rate was adversely impacted by 0.75 percentage points due to the non-deductibility of certain special items and impairments, principally the IPR&D charge related to the Viasys acquisition.

With few exceptions, the Company is no longer subject to U.S. federal or non-U.S. income tax audits by tax authorities for fiscal years ending before June 30, 2001. The years subsequent to fiscal 2000 contain matters that could be subject to differing interpretations of applicable tax laws and regulations as it relates to the amount and/or timing of income, deductions and tax credits. The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) currently has ongoing examinations of open years from 2001 through 2005. Although the outcome of tax audits is always uncertain, the Company believes that adequate amounts of tax and interest have been provided for any adjustments that are expected to result for these years. While it is not currently possible to predict the impact of settlements or other IRS audit activity on income tax expense or cash flows during the next 12 months, the Company does not expect any significant impact on financial position.

During the first quarter of fiscal 2007, the effective tax rate from continuing operations was favorably impacted by a $9.9 million adjustment to the tax reserves primarily due to the issuance of a final IRS Revenue Agent Report that related to fiscal years 2001 and 2002. During the second quarter of fiscal 2007, the effective tax rate from continuing operations was negatively impacted by a $7.3 million adjustment to the tax reserves related to an ongoing international tax audit. During the third quarter of fiscal 2007, the Company entered into an agreement with the IRS to close the fiscal years 1996 through 2000 federal audits. As a result, the Company reversed tax reserves of approximately $8.9 million.

The Company's fiscal 2006 provision for income taxes relative to earnings before income taxes and discontinued operations was $577.1 million and the effective tax rate was 33.2%. The fiscal 2006 effective tax rate was adversely impacted by 0.2 percentage points due to the non-deductibility of certain special items.

A provision of the American Jobs Creation Act of 2004 (AJCA) created a temporary incentive for U.S. corporations to repatriate undistributed income earned abroad by providing an 85% dividends received deduction for certain dividends from non-U.S. subsidiaries. During the fourth quarter of fiscal 2005, the Company determined that it would repatriate $500 million of accumulated non-U.S. earnings in fiscal 2006 pursuant to the repatriation provisions of the AJCA, and accordingly, the Company recorded a related tax liability of $26.3 million as of June 30, 2005. The $500 million is the maximum repatriation available to the Company under the repatriation provisions of the AJCA. During fiscal 2006, the Company repatriated $494 million of qualifying accumulated foreign earnings in accordance with its plan adopted during fiscal 2005. An additional tax liability of $0.4 million was recorded during fiscal 2006 due to new state legislation with respect to the AJCA, bringing the Company's total tax liability related to the repatriation recorded through June 30, 2006 to $26.7 million. Uses of repatriated funds included domestic expenditures related to non-executive salaries, capital asset investments and other permitted activities. See Note 11 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information.

Discontinued Operations

Earnings from discontinued operations, net of tax increased by $1.3 billion during fiscal 2007 primarily due to the after-tax gain on the sale of the PTS Business ($1.1 billion) and impairment charges from prior year ($185 million). See Note 8 in Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for further information on the Company's discontinued operations.

Segment Results of Operations

Reportable Segments

The Company's operations are organized into four reportable segments: Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical; Healthcare Supply Chain Services Medical; Clinical Technologies and Services; and Medical Products Manufacturing. The Company evaluates the performance of the individual segments based upon, among other things, segment profit. Segment profit is segment revenue less segment cost of products sold, less segment SG&A expenses. Segment SG&A expense includes equity compensation expense as well as allocated corporate expenses for shared functions, including corporate management, corporate finance, financial shared services, human resources, information technology, legal and legislative affairs and the integrated sales organization. Corporate expenses are allocated to the segments based upon headcount, level of benefit provided and ratable allocation. Information about interest income and expense and income taxes is not provided at the segment level. In addition, special items, impairment charges and other and investment spending are not allocated to the segments. See Note 17 in the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information on the Company's reportable segments.

Revenue increased in each of the Company's four reportable segments during fiscal 2007, including double-digit growth in the Medical Products Manufacturing (12%) and Clinical Technologies and Services (11%) segments. Segment profit increased in each of the Company's four reportable segments, including double-digit growth in the Medical Products Manufacturing (20%), Clinical Technologies and Services (20%) and Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical (14%) segments.

The following table summarizes segment revenue for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2007, 2006 and 2005 (in millions):

| | Growth(1) | | Segment Revenue | | |

(1) Growth is calculated as the percentage change (increase or decrease) for a given year as compared to the immediately preceding year.

(2) Bulk customers consist of customers centralized warehouse operations and customers mail order businesses. Non-bulk customers include retail stores, hospitals, alternate care sites and other customers not specifically classified as bulk customers. Most deliveries to bulk customers consist of product shipped in the same form as received from the manufacturer. See discussion below within the Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical section for the Company's description of revenue from bulk customers.

(3) Corporate revenue consists of the elimination of inter-segment revenue for all periods presented.

The following table summarizes segment profit for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2007, 2006 and 2005 (in millions):

- (1) Growth is calculated as the percentage change (increase or decrease) for a given year as compared to the immediately preceding year.
- (2) A portion of the corporate costs previously allocated to the former Pharmaceutical Technologies and Services segment have been reclassified to the remaining four segments based upon each segment's respective proportion of allocated corporate expenses. In addition, equity-based compensation has been allocated to the segments based upon the forecasted equity-based compensation expense for the respective segment plus one-fourth of the forecasted corporate equity-based compensation expense. Prior period information has been adjusted to reflect these changes in methodology.

- (3) Equity-based compensation expense was $138 million, $208 million and $9 million, respectively, for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2007, 2006 and 2005.
- (4) During the first quarter of fiscal 2006, the Healthcare Supply Chain Services – Pharmaceutical segment recorded a charge reflecting credits owed to certain vendors ($32 million) for prior periods. During the fourth quarter of fiscal 2007, an adjustment ($4 million) was recorded to reduce a portion of the reserve based upon a revised estimate.
- (5) During the third quarter of fiscal 2007, the Company revised the method used to allocate certain shared costs between the Healthcare Supply Chain Services – Medical segment and the Medical Products Manufacturing segment to better align costs with the segment that receives the related benefits. Prior period information has been adjusted to reflect this change in methodology.
- (6) For fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005, corporate operating earnings include special items, impairment charges and other and certain other Corporate investment spending described below:

Special items – Corporate operating earnings include special items of $772 million, $81 million and $142 million for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2007, 2006 and 2005, respectively (see Note 3 in the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for discussion of special items).

Impairment charges and other – See Note 3 in the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for further discussion of impairment charges and other.

Investment spending – The Company has encouraged its business units to identify investment projects which will provide future returns. These projects typically require incremental strategic investments in the form of additional capital or operating expenses. As approval decisions for such projects are dependent upon Corporate management, the expenses for such projects are retained at the Corporate segment. Investment spending for fiscal years, 2007, 2006 and 2005 was $22 million, $19 million and $18 million, respectively.

Healthcare Supply Chain Services – Pharmaceutical Performance

During fiscal 2007, Healthcare Supply Chain Services – Pharmaceutical segment revenue increased $6.5 billion or 9% primarily from revenue from bulk customers. Segment profit increased $157 million due to revenue growth, increased generic pharmaceutical margin and increased distribution service agreement fees and pharmaceutical price appreciation, offset by increased customer discounts and increased SG&A expenses. The pharmaceutical distribution market remains highly competitive and the Company expects that customer discounts will continue to increase. However, the Company expects that increased manufacturer cash discounts and distribution service agreement fees, both of which increase with revenue growth, combined with increased generic margin and continued pharmaceutical price appreciation will enable the Company to offset increased customer discounts. The Company's results could be adversely affected if sales of pharmaceutical products decline, the frequency of new generic pharmaceutical launches decreases or pharmaceutical price appreciation decreases from its historical rate. Alternatively, the Company's results could benefit if sales of pharmaceutical products increase, the frequency of new generic pharmaceutical launches increases or pharmaceutical price appreciation exceeds its historical rate.

Revenue from bulk customers, described below, increased $4.0 billion during fiscal 2007 with additional volume from existing customers ($2.7 billion) and new customers ($1.3 billion). Revenue from non-bulk customers increased $2.5 billion. Growth in revenue from non-bulk customers was driven by additional sales volume from existing customers and pharmaceutical price appreciation ($4.0 billion). The pharmaceutical price appreciation index was 6.3% for fiscal 2007. Acquisitions ($1.2 billion), mainly Dohmen and ParMed, also had a favorable impact on the year-over-year revenue comparison. Negatively impacting growth in revenue from non-bulk customers was the loss of existing customers due to competition ($1.0 billion) and the sale of a significant part of the specialty distribution business ($1.7 billion) in the fourth quarter of fiscal 2006.

Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical segment profit increased $157 million or 14% in fiscal 2007. Gross margin increased segment profit by $202 million primarily due to the segment's revenue growth and increased generic pharmaceutical margin ($192 million) due to new product launches and competitive vendor pricing. Gross margin also was favorably impacted by increased manufacturer cash discounts due to sales volume growth ($187 million) and distribution service agreement fees and pharmaceutical price appreciation (combined impact of $171 million). Gross margin was negatively impacted by increased customer discounts ($319 million) due to increased sales volume and competitive pressures. The Company expects continued customer discounting due to the competitive market in which it operates. Increases in segment SG&A expenses negatively impacted segment profit by approximately $45 million for fiscal 2007. Increases in SG&A expenses were in support of the increased sales volume and due to the impact of acquisitions ($37 million). Favorably impacting SG&A expenses was the reduction in equity-based compensation expense ($14 million). Segment profit was negatively impacted by the prior year sale of a significant portion of the specialty distribution business ($43 million).

The Company estimates that branded pharmaceuticals with industry-wide sales volume domestically of $21.8 billion and $4.4 billion came off of patent protection during fiscal 2007 and 2006, respectively, which allowed for generic pharmaceutical competition. The Company's estimate of industry-wide branded pharmaceutical sales volume is internally developed using industry sales data for significant branded pharmaceuticals adapted for the Company's fiscal period. Generic pharmaceuticals negatively impact revenue because they are offered at lower prices than branded pharmaceuticals; however, generic pharmaceuticals positively impact gross margin and operating earnings due to competitive vendor pricing. The Company generally earns the highest margins on generic pharmaceuticals during the period immediately following the initial launch of a generic product to the marketplace because generic pharmaceutical selling prices are generally deflationary. The Company expects a similar level of branded pharmaceuticals will come off of patent protection during fiscal 2008 compared with fiscal 2007.

During fiscal 2006, Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical segment revenue increased $6.4 billion or 10%. Revenue from bulk customers increased $5.8 billion. Centralized warehouse and mail order customers contributed $5.0 billion and $0.8 billion, respectively, of the bulk customer revenue growth. The additional sales volume was due in significant part to certain existing warehouse customers deciding to purchase from the Company rather than directly from the manufacturer. Revenue from non-bulk customers increased $604 million based upon pharmaceutical price appreciation and additional sales volume from new and existing customers. Revenue growth was negatively impacted as a result of the decision of the specialty distribution business's largest customer to begin self distribution on January 1, 2006 and the sale of a significant portion of the specialty distribution business in the fourth quarter ($190 million). The pharmaceutical price appreciation index was 5.6% for fiscal 2006.

Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical segment profit decreased $81 million or 7% in fiscal 2006. Gross margin increased segment profit by $70 million due primarily to the segment's revenue growth and increased manufacturer cash discounts ($139 million) due to increased sales within the pharmaceutical supply chain business. In addition, gross margin was favorably impacted by distribution service agreement fees and pharmaceutical price appreciation (combined impact of $134 million). Other factors favorably impacting gross margin included generic pharmaceuticals ($32 million) due to sales growth, competitive vendor pricing, the introduction of new generic pharmaceuticals within the pharmaceutical supply chain business, the addition of new vendors to the segment's National Logistics Center ($27 million) and a last-in, first-out (LIFO) reserve reduction ($26 million) primarily due to price deflation within generic pharmaceutical inventories.

Increased customer discounts within the pharmaceutical supply chain business negatively impacted segment profit by $232 million due to increased sales volume and competitive pressures. Segment profit was also negatively impacted by an adjustment ($32 million), as described in detail below. Increases in segment SG&A expenses negatively impacted segment profit by approximately $151 million for fiscal 2006 compared to fiscal 2005. Increases in these expenses were in support of the increased sales volume and increased equity-based compensation expense

($67 million) due primarily to the adoption of SFAS No. 123(R).

As noted above, Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical segment profit was negatively impacted by an adjustment recorded in the first quarter of fiscal 2006. The Company discovered it had inadvertently and erroneously failed to process credits owed to a vendor in prior years. After a thorough review, the Company determined it had failed to process similar credits for a limited number of additional vendors. These processing failures, specific to a limited area of vendor credits, resulted from system programming, interface and data entry errors relating to these vendor credits which occurred over a period of years. As a result, the Company recorded a charge ($32 million) in the first quarter of fiscal 2006 reflecting its estimate of the credits owed to these vendors.

Bulk and Non-Bulk Customers. The Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical segment differentiates between bulk and non-bulk customers because bulk customers generate significantly lower segment profit as a percentage of revenue than non-bulk customers. Bulk customers consist of customers centralized warehouse operations and customers mail order businesses. All other customers are classified as non-bulk customers (for example, retail stores, pharmacies, hospitals and alternate care sites). Bulk customers include the warehouse operations of retail chains whose retail stores are classified as non-bulk customers. For example, a single retail chain pharmacy customer may be both a bulk customer with respect to its warehouse operations and a non-bulk customer with respect to its retail stores. Bulk customers have the ability to process large quantities of products in central locations and self-distribute these products to their individual retail stores or customers. Substantially all deliveries to bulk customers consist of product shipped in the same form as the product is received from the manufacturer, but a small portion of deliveries to bulk customers are broken down into smaller units prior to shipping. Non-bulk customers, on the other hand, require more complex servicing by the Company. These services, all of which are performed by the Company, include receiving inventory in large or full case quantities and breaking it down into smaller quantities, warehousing the product for a longer period of time, picking individual products specific to a customer's order and delivering that smaller order to a customer location.

The Company tracks revenue by bulk and non-bulk customers in its financial systems. To assist the Company in managing its business, an internal analysis has been prepared to allocate segment expenses (total of segment cost of products sold and segment selling, general and administrative expenses) separately for bulk and non-bulk customers. The following table shows the allocation of segment expenses, segment profit and segment profit as a percentage of revenue for bulk and non-bulk customers for fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005 (in millions):

|---|-----------|-----------|-----------|
| Non-bulk customers: | | | |
| Revenue from non-bulk customers | $ 42,673 | $ 40,175 | $ 39,571 |
| Segment expenses allocated to non-bulk customers(1)(2) | 41,565 | 39,215 | 38,475 |
| Segment profit from non-bulk customers(1)(2) | 1,108 | 960 | 1,096 |
| Segment profit from non-bulk customers as a percentage of revenue from non-bulk customers(1)(2) | 2.6% | 2.4% | 2.8% |
| Bulk customers: | | | |
| Revenue from bulk customers | $ 33,900 | $ 29,872 | $ 24,084 |
| Segment expenses allocated to bulk customers(1)(2) | 33,709 | 29,716 | 23,988 |
| Segment profit from bulk customers(1)(2) | 191 | 156 | 96 |
| Segment profit from bulk customers as a percentage of revenue from bulk customers(1)(2) | 0.6% | 0.5% | 0.4% |

- (1) Amounts shown are estimates based upon the internal analysis described above. The preparation of this internal analysis required the use of complex and subjective estimates and allocations based upon assumptions, past experience and judgment that the Company believes are reasonable. The core pharmaceutical distribution operation (Distribution) within the Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical segment services both bulk and non-bulk customers. Therefore, expenses associated with this operation were allocated between bulk and non-bulk customers as described below. The brokerage operation (Brokerage) within the Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical segment only services bulk customers, therefore, expenses associated with Brokerage are allocated to bulk customers. The remaining operations (i.e. excluding Distribution and Brokerage) within the Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical segment service non-bulk customers, therefore, expenses associated with these operations were allocated to non-bulk customers.

The following describes the allocation of the major components of cost of products sold for Distribution between bulk and non-bulk customers:

Cost of products sold for pharmaceutical products is determined by specifically tracking the manufacturer's designated price of products, at the time the products are sold, by bulk and non-bulk customers. The manufacturer's designated price is then reduced by other components impacting cost of products sold, including distribution service agreement fees, pharmaceutical price appreciation, manufacturer cash discounts and manufacturer rebates and incentives. In addition, other inventory charges and credits are added or subtracted, as appropriate, to arrive at cost of products sold. The Company used the following methods that it believes provide a reasonable correlation to allocate the remaining components of cost of products sold between bulk and non-bulk customers.

Distribution service agreement fees and pharmaceutical price appreciation are tracked by manufacturer. Therefore, the Company allocated the distribution service agreement fees and pharmaceutical price appreciation associated with each manufacturer among their products in proportion to sales of each product between bulk and non-bulk customers.

Manufacturer cash discounts are recognized as a reduction to cost of products sold when the related inventory is sold and were allocated in proportion to the manufacturer's published price of the product sold to bulk and non-bulk customers.

Manufacturers' rebates and incentives are based on the individual agreements entered into with manufacturers related to specific products. Rebates and incentives were grouped by contract terms and then allocated in proportion to sales to bulk and non-bulk customers.

Other inventory charges and credits include charges for outdated and returned inventory items and fluctuation in inventory reserves. The Company estimated the portion of these inventory charges and credits attributable to each product and then allocated them to bulk and non-bulk customers in proportion to the sales of these products.

The Company used methods that it believes provide a reasonable correlation to allocate the selling, general and administrative expenses for Distribution between bulk and non-bulk customers as follows:

Warehouse expense includes labor-related expenses associated with receiving, shipping and handling the inventory as well as warehouse storage costs including insurance, taxes, supplies and other facility costs. Warehouse expense was allocated in proportion to the number of invoice line items filled for each bulk or non-bulk customer because the Company believes that there is a correlation between the number of different products ordered as reflected in invoice lines and the level of effort associated with receiving, shipping and handling that order (bulk customers typically order larger quantities of products for each invoice line);

Delivery expense includes transportation costs associated with physically moving the product from the warehouse to the customer's designated location. Delivery expense was allocated in proportion to the number of invoices generated for each bulk or non-bulk customer on the assumption that each invoice generates a delivery;

Sales expense includes personnel-related costs associated with sales and customer service activities (such activities are the same for both bulk and non-bulk customers). Sales expense was allocated in proportion to the number of invoices generated for each bulk or non-bulk customer because customer invoices are a reasonable estimate of the amount of customer service calls and sales effort; and

General and administrative expenses were allocated in proportion to the units of products sold to bulk or non-bulk customers. These expenses were allocated on the assumption that general and administrative expenses increase or decrease in direct relation to the volume of sales.

- (2) Amounts exclude LIFO credit provisions of $0, $26 million and $32 million in fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005, respectively.

The internal analysis indicated segment expenses as a percentage of revenue were higher for bulk customers than for non-bulk customers because of higher segment cost of products sold partially offset by lower segment SG&A expenses. Bulk customers receive lower pricing on sales of the same products than non-bulk customers due to volume pricing in a competitive market and the lower costs related to the services provided by the Company. In addition, sales to bulk customers in aggregate generate higher segment cost of products sold as a percentage of revenue than sales to non-bulk customers because bulk customers' orders consist almost entirely of higher cost branded products. The higher segment cost of products sold as a percentage of revenue for bulk customers is also driven by lower manufacturer distribution service agreement fees and branded pharmaceutical price appreciation and lower manufacturer cash discounts. Manufacturer distribution service agreement fees and manufacturer cash discounts are recognized as a reduction to segment cost of products sold and are lower as a percentage of revenue due to the mix of products sold. Pharmaceutical price appreciation increases customer pricing which, in turn, results in higher segment gross margin for sales of inventory that was on-hand at the time of the manufacturer's price increase. Since products sold to bulk customers are generally held in inventory for a shorter time than products sold to non-bulk customers, there is less opportunity to realize the benefit of pharmaceutical price appreciation. Consequently, segment cost of products sold as a percentage of revenue for bulk customers is higher than for non-bulk customers and segment gross margin as a percentage of revenue is substantially lower for bulk customers than for non-bulk customers. Deliveries to bulk customers require substantially less services by the Company than deliveries to non-bulk customers. As such, the segment SG&A expenses as a percentage of revenue from bulk customers are substantially lower than from non-bulk customers. These factors result in segment profit as a percentage of revenue being significantly lower for bulk customers than for non-bulk customers.

The Company defines bulk customers based on the way in which the Company operates its business and the services it performs for its customers. The Company is not aware of an industry standard regarding the definition of bulk customers and based solely on a review of the Annual Reports on Form 10-K of other national pharmaceutical wholesalers, the Company notes that other companies in comparable businesses may, or may not, use a different definition of bulk customers.

During fiscal 2007, segment profit from bulk customers increased $35 million, or 0.1% of revenue from bulk customers, due to increased sales volume described above and the year-over-year increase in distribution service agreement fees and pharmaceutical price appreciation. Segment profit for non-bulk customers increased $148 million, or 0.2% of revenue from non-bulk customers, compared to fiscal 2006. This increase in segment profit from non-bulk customers was due primarily to the increase in sales volume described above and the impact of generic products which had a greater impact on the profitability of non-bulk customers due to the mix of pharmaceuticals distributed to non-bulk customers.

Fiscal 2006 segment profit from bulk customers increased $60 million, or 0.1% of revenue from bulk customers, due to increased sales volume described above and the year-over-year impact of new distribution service agreements and pharmaceutical price appreciation. The favorable impact of distribution service agreements and of pharmaceutical price appreciation had a greater impact on the profitability of bulk customers than on non-bulk customers in fiscal 2006 due to the mix of branded pharmaceuticals distributed to bulk customers. These positive factors were partially offset by an increase in allocated equity-based compensation expense of $10 million due to the adoption of SFAS No. 123(R). The fiscal 2006 segment profit for non-bulk customers declined $136 million, or 0.4% of revenue from non-bulk customers, compared to fiscal 2005. An increase in segment profit from non-bulk customers due to increased sales and new distribution service agreements was offset by increased customer discounts, an increase in segment SG&A expenses (which was largely due to sales growth and an increase in allocated equity-based compensation expense of $57 million due to the adoption of SFAS No. 123(R)), and a $32 million charge during the first quarter of fiscal 2006 reflecting credits owed to vendors.

Healthcare Supply Chain Services Medical Performance

During fiscal 2007, Healthcare Supply Chain Services' Medical segment revenue increased $315 million while segment profit remained relatively flat. The Company remains focused on improving operating performance within this segment through continued investment in customer service and restructuring the business. In the fourth quarter of fiscal 2007, the Company announced its plan to combine the headquarters of the Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical and Medical segments in order to promote sharing best practices and support functions to provide better service for its customers. Refer to Other Matters Global Restructuring Program below for further discussion of the Company's Healthcare Supply Chain Services Medical restructuring program.

Healthcare Supply Chain Services Medical segment revenue growth of $315 million or 4% during fiscal 2007 resulted primarily from increased volume from existing customers ($215 million) and new customer accounts ($100 million). Healthcare Supply Chain Services Medical segment profit increased $4 million or 1% during fiscal 2007. Gross margin increased segment profit by $27 million primarily as a result of revenue growth and the impact of increased manufacturer cash discounts ($6 million). Negatively impacting gross margin were increased customer discounts ($5 million) and trade receivable reserves ($7 million) related to the segment's customer service and shared service transition. Increases in SG&A expenses decreased segment profit by $23 million primarily in support of revenue growth and increased transportation costs ($5 million). Favorably impacting SG&A expenses was the reduction in equity-based compensation expense ($14 million).

During fiscal 2006, Healthcare Supply Chain Services' Medical segment revenue growth of $376 million or 6% resulted primarily from increased volume from existing customers ($244 million) and new customer accounts ($115 million). Healthcare Supply Chain Services' Medical segment profit decreased $53 million or 14% during fiscal 2006. Gross margin increased segment profit by $53 million as a result of revenue growth and the favorable impact of the mix of private-label and branded products ($9 million) due to emphasis being placed on selling Company branded products and other focused product categories and new products with higher margins ($4 million). Increases in SG&A expenses decreased segment profit by $106 million in support of revenue growth and an increase in equity-based compensation expense ($45 million) due primarily to the adoption of SFAS No. 123(R).

Clinical Technologies and Services Performance

During fiscal 2007, Clinical Technologies and Services segment revenue grew $257 million or 11%. Revenue growth was favorably impacted by new products ($119 million), increased sales volumes to existing customers ($90 million) due to renewals and expansion of product lines and new customers ($35 million). Acquisitions also favorably impacted the year-over-year comparison ($18 million).

Clinical Technologies and Services segment profit increased $65 million or 20%. Gross margin increased segment profit by $132 million primarily as a result of revenue growth. Gross margin was negatively impacted by the estimated costs of the Alaris SE pump corrective action plan and related consulting expenses ($18 million) due to the product recall. Increases in SG&A expenses decreased segment profit by $67 million in support of the revenue growth and as a result of the impact of acquisitions ($22 million) and increased investment in product quality and research and development costs ($11 million). Favorably impacting SG&A expenses was the reduction in equity-based compensation expense ($14 million).

During fiscal 2006, Clinical Technologies and Services segment revenue growth of $241 million or 11% resulted primarily from revenue growth within the Pyxis and Alaris product lines. Pyxis products revenue increased $83 million due to higher unit sales resulting from increased demand for the Medstation® 3000 product and improvements within the sales and installation cycles. Alaris products revenue increased $125 million due to competitive displacements driven by technological advantages and sales obtained through the Company's other relationships. These revenue increases were tempered by slower revenue growth in the clinical and consulting services ($52 million).

Clinical Technologies and Services segment profit increased $82 million or 35% during fiscal 2006. Gross margin increased segment profit by $180 million primarily as a result of revenue growth. Factors favorably impacting gross margin included sales mix ($49 million) and manufacturing efficiencies ($12 million) driven by higher sales volume. Also favorably impacting the year-over-year comparison were the inventory valuation adjustments to fair value from the Alaris acquisition ($24 million) with the adjusted higher value inventory being sold during the first two quarters of fiscal 2005. Increases in SG&A expenses decreased segment profit by $97 million due primarily to an increase in equity-based compensation expense ($55 million) due primarily to the adoption of SFAS 123(R) and in support of the revenue growth. Estimated integration synergies from the Alaris acquisition ($54 million) favorably impacted both gross margin and SG&A expenses.

Medical Products Manufacturing Performance

During fiscal 2007, Medical Products Manufacturing segment revenue grew $203 million or 12%. Revenue growth was favorably impacted by increased sales volume ($74 million) from existing customers and new customers won through new GPO contracts and competitor exits. Revenue growth was also favorably impacted by new product launches ($50 million), including innovations in gloves, respiratory products, surgical instruments and software, and international revenue growth ($62 million), which includes the impact of foreign exchange ($18 million). Acquisitions, including Denver Biomedical and Viasys, favorably impacted the year-over-year comparison ($37 million). Due to the acquisition of Viasys, the Company expects significant growth in the Medical Products Manufacturing segment.

Medical Products Manufacturing segment profit increased $33 million or 20% during fiscal 2007. Gross margin increased segment profit by $72 million primarily as a result of revenue growth. Factors favorably impacting gross margin included manufacturing cost reductions ($20 million) driven by strategic sourcing and expense control related to the Company's restructuring program and the integration of acquisitions ($21 million), primarily Denver Biomedical. Increases in SG&A expenses negatively impacted segment profit by $39 million primarily in support of the segment's revenue growth and from the impact of acquisitions ($13 million). Favorably impacting SG&A expenses was the reduction in equity-based compensation expense ($12 million).

During fiscal 2006, Medical Products Manufacturing segment revenue grew $96 million or 6% resulting from revenue growth from manufactured gloves and respiratory product lines ($45 million) due to new customer accounts ($14 million) and new products ($31 million) and international revenue growth ($16 million) from new customers.

Medical Products Manufacturing segment profit decreased $11 million or 6% during fiscal 2006. Gross margin increased segment profit by $31 million primarily as a result of revenue growth. Factors favorably impacting gross margin included manufacturing cost reductions driven by cost controls ($30 million) and expense control partially related to the Company's global restructuring program ($12 million). Increased raw materials costs ($25 million) negatively impacted gross margin. Increases in SG&A expenses negatively impacted segment profit by $42 million primarily due to the increase in equity-based compensation ($41 million) and in support of the segment's revenue growth. The latex litigation charge ($28 million) recorded during fiscal 2005 also favorably impacted the year-over-year comparison.

Other Matters

Acquisitions

During the fourth quarter of fiscal 2007, the Company acquired Viasys, which offered products and services directed at critical care ventilation, respiratory diagnostics and clinical services, neurological, vascular, audio, homecare, orthopedics, sleep diagnostics and other medical and surgical products markets. The value of the transaction, including the assumption of Viasys's debt, totaled approximately $1.5 billion. In addition, during fiscal 2007, the Company completed other acquisitions that individually were not significant. The aggregate purchase price of these other acquisitions, which was paid in cash, was approximately $165 million. Assumed liabilities of these acquired businesses were approximately $22 million. The consolidated financial statements include the results of operations from each of these business combinations from the date of acquisition. Had the transactions, including Viasys, occurred at the beginning of fiscal 2006, consolidated results of operations would not have differed materially from reported results. For further information regarding the Company's acquisitions see Item 1 Business Acquisitions and Divestitures and Note 2 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements.

During fiscal 2006, the Company completed acquisitions that individually were not significant. The aggregate purchase price of these acquisitions, which was paid in cash, was approximately $364 million. Assumed liabilities of these acquired businesses were approximately $149 million. The consolidated financial statements include the results of operations from each of these business combinations from the date of acquisition. Had the transactions occurred at the beginning of fiscal 2005, consolidated results of operations would not have differed materially.

During fiscal 2005, the Company completed acquisitions that individually were not significant. The aggregate purchase price of these acquisitions, which was paid in cash, was approximately $107 million. Assumed liabilities of these acquired businesses were approximately $27 million. The consolidated financial statements include the results of operations from each of these business combinations from the date of acquisition. Had the transactions occurred at the beginning of fiscal 2004, consolidated results of operations would not have differed materially.

The Company's trend with regard to acquisitions has been to expand its role as a provider of services and innovative products to the healthcare industry. This trend has resulted in expansion into areas that complement the Company's existing operations and provide opportunities for the Company to develop synergies with, and strengthen, the acquired business. As the healthcare industry continues to change, the Company evaluates possible candidates for acquisition and considers opportunities to expand its role as a provider of services to the healthcare industry through all its reportable segments. There can be no assurance, however, that the Company will be able to successfully take advantage of any such opportunity if and when it arises or consummate any such transaction, if pursued. If additional transactions are pursued or consummated, the Company would incur additional acquisition integration charges, and may need to enter into funding arrangements for such acquisitions. There can be no assurance that the integration efforts associated with any such transaction would be successful.

Sale of the PTS Business

On April 10, 2007, the Company completed the sale of the PTS Business to Phoenix Charter LLC (Phoenix), an affiliate of The Blackstone Group, pursuant to the Purchase and Sale Agreement between the Company and Phoenix, dated as of January 25, 2007 as amended (the Purchase Agreement). At the closing of the sale, the Company received approximately $3.2 billion in cash from Phoenix, which was the purchase price of approximately $3.3 billion as adjusted pursuant to certain provisions in the Purchase Agreement for the working capital, cash, indebtedness and earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization of the PTS Business. The Company recognized an after-tax book gain of approximately $1.1 billion from this transaction. The Company used the after-tax net proceeds of approximately $3.1 billion from the sale to repurchase shares. The Purchase Agreement contained customary indemnification provisions for sale transactions of this type.

Global Restructuring Program

During fiscal 2005, the Company launched a global restructuring program with a goal of increasing the value that the Company provides its customers through better integration of existing businesses and improved efficiency from a more disciplined approach to procurement and resource allocation. On April 30, 2007, the Company announced a third phase of its global restructuring program to move the headquarters of the Company's Healthcare Supply Chain Services Medical segment and certain corporate functions from Waukegan, Illinois to the Company's corporate headquarters in Dublin, Ohio. The Company expects this third phase to be substantially completed by the end of fiscal 2009. See the Company's Form 8-K filed on April 30, 2007 for additional information.

Adoption of SFAS No. 123(R)

During the first quarter of fiscal 2006, the Company adopted SFAS No. 123(R) applying the modified prospective method. SFAS No. 123(R) requires all equity-based payments to employees, including grants of employee options, to be recognized in the consolidated statement of earnings based on the grant date fair value of the award. Prior to the adoption of SFAS No. 123(R), the Company accounted for equity-based awards under the intrinsic value method, which followed the recognition and measurement principles of APB Opinion No. 25 and related Interpretations, and equity-based compensation was included as pro forma disclosure within the notes to the financial statements. In anticipation of the adoption of SFAS No. 123(R), the Company did not modify the terms of any previously-granted options. See Note 18 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information regarding equity-based compensation.

Pharmaceutical Supply Chain Business Model Transition

Historically, a significant portion of the pharmaceutical supply chain business gross margin was derived from the Company's ability to purchase pharmaceutical inventory, hold that inventory when a manufacturer increased prices, and sell that product at the higher price. Beginning in fiscal 2003, branded pharmaceutical manufacturers began to seek greater control over the amount of product available in the supply chain and, as a result, began to change their sales practices by restricting the volume of product available for purchase by wholesalers. In addition, manufacturers sought additional services from the Company, including providing data concerning product sales and distribution patterns. The Company believes that manufacturers sought these changes to provide them with greater visibility over product demand and movement in the market and to increase product safety and integrity by reducing the risks associated with product being available to, and distributed in, the secondary market. These changes significantly reduced the pharmaceutical price appreciation earned by the Company.

In response to these developments, the Company established a compensation system with branded pharmaceutical manufacturers that is significantly less dependent on manufacturers' pricing practices, and is based on the services provided by the Company to meet the unique distribution requirements of each manufacturer's products. During fiscal 2005, the Company worked with individual branded pharmaceutical manufacturers to define fee-for-service terms that compensate the Company based on the services being provided to such manufacturers. This transition was completed during fiscal 2006. These new arrangements have moderated the seasonality of earnings which have historically reflected the pattern of manufacturers' price increases.

Under the fee-for-service arrangements, reflected in written distribution service agreements, the Company's compensation for these services may be a fee or a fee plus pharmaceutical price appreciation. In certain instances, the Company must achieve certain performance criteria to receive the maximum fees under the agreement. The fee is typically a fixed percentage of either the Company's purchases from the manufacturer or the Company's sales of the manufacturer's products to its customers. The Company continues to generate gross margin from the sale of some manufacturers' products from pharmaceutical price appreciation without receiving distribution service agreement fees. If the frequency or rate of branded pharmaceutical price appreciation slows, the Company's results of operations and financial condition could be adversely affected.

Distribution service agreements between the Company and certain branded pharmaceutical manufacturers generally range from a one-year term with an automatic renewal feature to a five-year term. These agreements generally cannot be terminated unless mutually agreed by the parties, a breach of the agreement occurs that is not cured, or a bankruptcy filing or similar insolvency event occurs. Some agreements allow the manufacturer to terminate the agreement without cause within a defined notice period.

Critical Accounting Policies and Sensitive Accounting Estimates

Critical accounting policies are those accounting policies that can have a significant impact on the presentation of the Company's financial condition and results of operations, and require use of complex and subjective estimates based upon past experience and management's judgment. Other companies applying reasonable judgment to the same facts and circumstances could develop different estimates. Because of the uncertainty inherent in such estimates, actual results may differ from these estimates. Below are those policies applied in preparing the Company's consolidated financial statements that management believes are the most dependent on the application of estimates and assumptions. For additional accounting policies, see Note 1 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements.

Allowance for doubtful accounts

Trade receivables are amounts owed to the Company through its operating activities and are presented net of an allowance for doubtful accounts. The Company also provides financing to various customers. Such financing arrangements range from ninety days to ten years at interest rates that generally are subject to fluctuation. These financings may be collateralized, guaranteed by third parties or unsecured. Finance notes and accrued interest receivables are recorded net of an allowance for doubtful accounts and are included in other assets. Extending credit terms and calculating the required allowance for doubtful accounts involve the use of judgment by the Company's management.

In determining the appropriate allowance for doubtful accounts, which includes portfolio and specific reserves, the Company reviews accounts receivable aging, industry trends, customer financial strength, credit standing, historical write-off trends and payment history to assess the probability of collection. The Company continuously monitors the collectibility of its receivable portfolio by analyzing the aging of its accounts receivable, assessing credit worthiness of its customers and evaluating the impact of changes in economic conditions that may impact credit risks. If the frequency or severity of customer defaults change due to changes in customers' financial condition or general economic conditions, the Company's allowance for doubtful accounts may require adjustment.

The allowance for doubtful accounts was $128.9 million and $126.4 million at June 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively. This allowance represented 2.2% and 2.6% of customer receivables at June 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively. The allowance for doubtful accounts as a percentage of revenue was 0.15%, 0.16% and 0.16% at June 30, 2007, 2006 and 2005, respectively. The allowance for doubtful accounts was reduced by $28.4 million, $22.6 million and $21.2 million in fiscal 2007, 2006, and 2005, respectively, for customer deductions and write-offs and was increased by additional provisions of $24.0 million, $24.6 million and $7.7 million in fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005, respectively. A hypothetical 0.1% increase or decrease in the reserve as a percentage of trade receivables and sales-type leases to the reserve at June 30, 2007 would result in an increase or decrease in bad debt expense of approximately $5.9 million.

Reserve methodologies are assessed annually based on historical losses and economic, business and market trends. In addition, reserves are reviewed quarterly and updated if unusual circumstances or trends are present. The Company believes the reserve maintained and expenses recorded in fiscal 2007 are appropriate and consistent with historical methodologies employed. At this time, the Company is not aware of any internal process or customer issues that might lead to a significant future increase in the Company's allowance for doubtful accounts as a percentage of net revenue.

See Schedule II included in this Form 10-K which includes a rollforward of activity for these allowance reserves.

Inventories

A substantial portion of inventories (approximately 73% and 75% at June 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively) are stated at the lower of cost, using the LIFO method, or market. These inventories are included within the core distribution facilities within the Company's Healthcare Supply Chain Services - Pharmaceutical segment (core distribution facilities) and are primarily merchandise inventories. The LIFO impact on the consolidated statement of earnings in a given year is dependent on pharmaceutical price appreciation and the level of inventory. Prices for branded pharmaceuticals are primarily inflationary, which results in an increase in cost of products sold, whereas prices for generic pharmaceuticals are deflationary, which results in a decrease in cost of products sold.

Under the LIFO method, it is assumed that the most recent inventory purchases are the first items sold. As such, the Company uses LIFO to better match current costs and revenue. Therefore, reductions in the overall inventory levels resulting from declining branded pharmaceutical inventory levels generally will result in a decrease in future cost of products sold, as the remaining inventory will be held at a lower cost due to the inflationary environment. Conversely, reductions in the overall inventory levels created by declining generic pharmaceutical inventory levels would generally increase future cost of products sold, as the remaining inventory will be held at a higher cost due to the deflationary environment. The Company believes that the average cost method of inventory valuation provides a reasonable approximation of the current cost of replacing inventory within the core distribution facilities. As such, the LIFO reserve is the difference between (a) inventory at the lower of LIFO cost or market and (b) inventory at replacement cost determined using the average cost method of inventory valuation. In fiscal 2007, the Company did not record any LIFO reserve reductions. The LIFO reserve reduction in fiscal 2006 of $26.0 million was primarily due to price deflation within generic pharmaceutical inventories.

The remaining inventory is primarily stated at the lower of cost, using the first-in, first-out (FIFO) method, or market. If the Company had used the average cost method of inventory valuation for all inventory within the core distribution facilities, inventories would not have changed in fiscal 2007 or fiscal 2006. In fact, primarily due to continued deflation in generic pharmaceutical inventories, inventories at LIFO were $55.8 million and $1.0 million higher than the average cost value as of June 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively. However, the Company's policy is not to record inventories in excess of its current market value.

Inventories recorded on the Company's consolidated balance sheets are net of reserves for excess and obsolete inventory which were $95.8 million and $112.2 million at June 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively. The Company reserves for inventory obsolescence using estimates based on historical experiences, sales trends, specific categories of inventory and age of on-hand inventory. If actual conditions are less favorable than the Company's assumptions, additional inventory reserves may be required, however these would not be expected to have a material adverse impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

Business Combinations

Assumptions and estimates are used in determining the fair value of assets acquired and liabilities assumed in a business combination. A significant portion of the purchase price in many of the Company's acquisitions is assigned to intangible assets which require management to use significant judgment in determining fair value. In addition, current and future amortization expense for such intangibles is impacted by purchase price allocations as well as the assessment of estimated useful lives of such intangibles, excluding goodwill. The Company believes the assets recorded and the useful lives established are appropriate based upon current facts and circumstances.

In conjunction with the review of a transaction, the status of the acquired company's research and development projects is assessed to determine the existence of IPR&D. In connection with the acquisitions of Viasys and Care Fusion, the Company was required to estimate the fair value of acquired IPR&D which required selecting an appropriate discount rate and estimating future cash flows for each project. Management also assessed the current status of development, nature and timing of efforts to complete such development, uncertainties and other factors when estimating the fair value. Costs were not assigned to IPR&D unless future development was probable. Once the fair value was determined, an asset was established, and in accordance with FASB Interpretation No. 4, Applicability of FASB Statement No. 2 to Business Combinations Accounted for by the Purchase Method, was immediately written-off as a special item in the Company's consolidated statement of earnings. The Company recorded $83.9 million and $0.6 million as a special item in fiscal 2007 representing an estimate of Viasys's and Care Fusion's acquired IPR&D, respectively (see Note 3 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements).

Goodwill and Other Intangibles

The Company accounts for goodwill in accordance with SFAS No. 142 Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets. Under SFAS No. 142, purchased goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite lives are not amortized, but instead are tested for impairment annually or when indicators of impairment exist. Intangible assets with finite lives, primarily customer relationships and patents and trademarks, continue to be amortized over their useful lives. In conducting the impairment test, the fair value of the Company's reporting units is compared to its carrying amount including goodwill. If the fair value exceeds the carrying amount, then no impairment exists. If the carrying amount exceeds the fair value, further analysis is performed to assess impairment.

The Company's determination of fair value of the reporting units is based on a discounted cash flow analysis or a review of the price/earnings ratio for publicly traded companies similar in nature, scope and size. The methods and assumptions used to test impairment have been revised for the segment realignment for the periods presented. The discount rate used for impairment testing is based on the risk-free rate plus an adjustment for risk factors. The use of alternative estimates, peer groups or changes in the industry, or adjusting the discount rate used could affect the estimated fair value of the assets and potentially result in impairment. Any identified impairment would result in an adjustment to the Company's results of operations.

The Company performed its annual impairment tests in fiscal 2007 and 2006, neither of which resulted in the recognition of any impairment charges. Decreasing the price/earnings ratio of competitors used for impairment testing by one point or increasing the discount rate in the discounted cash flow analysis used for impairment testing by 1% would not have indicated impairment for any of the Company's reporting units for fiscal 2007 or 2006. See Note 9 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information regarding goodwill and other intangibles.

Special Items

The Company records restructuring charges, acquisition integration charges and certain litigation and other items as special items. A restructuring activity is a program whereby the Company fundamentally changes its operations such as closing facilities, moving a product to another location or outsourcing the production of a product. Restructuring activities may also involve substantial re-alignment of the management structure of a business unit in response to changing market conditions. Restructuring charges are recorded in accordance with SFAS No. 146, Accounting for Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities. Under this Statement, a liability is measured at its fair value and recognized as incurred.

Acquisition integration charges include costs to integrate acquired companies. Upon acquisition, certain integration charges are included within the purchase price allocation in accordance with SFAS No. 141, Business Combinations, and other integration charges are recorded as special items as incurred.

Certain litigation recorded in special items consists of settlements of significant lawsuits that are infrequent, non-recurring or unusual in nature. The Company also classified legal fees and document preservation and production costs incurred in connection with the SEC investigation and the Audit Committee internal review and related matters as special items.

The majority of the special items related to acquisition integration and restructurings can be classified in one of the following categories: employee-related costs, exit costs (including lease termination costs), asset impairments and other integration costs. Employee costs include severance and termination benefits. Lease termination costs include lease cancellation fees, forfeited deposits and remaining payments due under existing lease agreements less estimated sublease income. Other facility exit costs include costs to move equipment or inventory out of a facility as well as other costs incurred to shut down a facility. Asset impairment costs include the reduction in value of the Company's assets as a result of the integration or restructuring activities. Other integration costs primarily include charges directly related to the integration plan such as consulting costs related to information systems and employee benefit plans as well as relocation and travel costs directly associated with the integration plan. See Note 3 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information.

Vendor Reserves

The Company maintains reserves to cover areas of exposure with its vendors. In determining appropriate vendor reserves, the Company assesses historical experience and current outstanding claims. The Company has established various levels of reserves based on the type of claim and status of review. The Company researches and resolves various types of contested transactions based on discussions with vendors, Company policy and findings of research performed. Though the transaction types are relatively consistent, the Company has periodically refined its estimate methodology over the past few years by updating the reserve estimate percentages based upon historical experiences. Changes to the estimate percentages have resulted in a financial impact to the Company's cost of products sold in the period in which the change was made.

Vendor reserves were $72.6 million and $112.4 million at June 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively. Approximately 61% and 73% of the vendor reserve at June 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively, pertained to the Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical segment. Fluctuations in the reserve balance are caused by the variations of outstanding claims from period to period, timing of settlements and specific vendor issues, such as bankruptcies (significant events would be described above in Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations). Though vendor transactions remain relatively consistent from period to period, unforeseen events such as the deterioration in the financial condition of a large vendor or a settlement of numerous outstanding claims could cause the reserve to fluctuate, and thus, have a financial impact on the period's financial results.

At any given time, there are outstanding items in various stages of research and resolution. The ultimate outcome of certain claims may be different than the Company's original estimate and may require adjustment. However, the Company believes reserves recorded for such disputes are adequate based upon current facts and circumstances.

Self Insurance Accruals

The Company is self-insured for employee medical and dental insurance programs. The Company had recorded liabilities totaling $24.3 million and $24.1 million for estimated costs related to outstanding claims at June 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively. These costs include an estimate for expected settlements on pending claims, administrative fees and an estimate for claims incurred but not reported. These estimates are based on the Company's assessment of outstanding claims, historical analysis and current payment trends. The Company records an estimate for the claims incurred but not reported using an estimated lag period. This lag period assumption has been consistently applied for the periods presented. If the lag period was hypothetically adjusted by a period equal to a half month, the impact on earnings would be $6.0 million. If the amount of claims, medical or dental costs increase beyond what was estimated, the reserve might not be sufficient and additional expense could be required. However, the Company believes the liabilities recorded are adequate based upon current facts and circumstances.

Medical and dental insurance expense was $174.6 million, $140.5 million and $140.4 million in fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005, respectively.

Through a wholly owned insurance subsidiary, the Company has certain deductibles or is self-insured for various risks including general liability, product liability, pharmacist professional liability, auto liability, property and workers compensation. However, claims in excess of certain limits are insured with commercial insurers. The Company had recorded liabilities totaling $82.2 million and $76.3 million for anticipated costs related to liability, property and workers compensation at June 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively. These costs include an estimate for expected settlements on pending claims, defense costs, claims adjustment costs and an estimate for claims incurred but not reported. For certain types of exposures the Company uses third parties to assist in developing the estimate of expected ultimate costs to settle each claim which is based on specific information related to each claim. For claims incurred but not reported the liabilities are calculated by outside actuaries and are derived in accordance with generally accepted actuarial practices. The amount of ultimate liability in respect to these matters is dependent on future contingent events that cannot be predicted with certainty and may differ from these estimates. Although the Company believes that liability estimates are appropriate based on information available at June 30, 2007, it is possible, based on generally accepted actuarial analysis, that under adverse conditions the ultimate liability could exceed recorded expected liabilities as of June 30, 2007 by as much as $4.9 million. The insurance expense for general liability, product liability, pharmacist professional liability, auto liability, property and workers compensation was $70.4 million, $71.3 million and $66.5 million in fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005, respectively.

Provision for Income Taxes

The Company's income tax expense, deferred tax assets and liabilities and income tax reserves reflect management's assessment of estimated future taxes to be paid on items in the financial statements.

Deferred income taxes arise from temporary differences between financial reporting and tax reporting bases of assets and liabilities, as well as net operating loss and tax credit carry forwards for tax purposes. The Company had net deferred income tax assets of $394.2 million and $461.1 million at June 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively. The Company also had net deferred income tax liabilities of $1.7 billion at June 30, 2007 and 2006. Net deferred income tax assets included net federal, state and local, and international loss and credit carry forwards at June 30, 2007 and 2006 of $178.2 million and $84.9 million, respectively. The Company established a net valuation allowance of $180.5 million and $34.4 million at June 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively, against certain deferred tax assets, which primarily relates to federal and state loss carryforwards for which the ultimate realization of future benefits is uncertain. The Company established a $127.1 million valuation allowance in fiscal 2007 related to capital loss carryforwards resulting from the PTS Business divestiture for which the ultimate realization of future benefits is uncertain. Expiring carryforwards and the required valuation allowances are adjusted annually. After application of the valuation allowances described above, the Company anticipates no limitations will apply with respect to utilization of any of the other net deferred income tax assets described above.

In addition, the Company has established an estimated liability for federal, state and non-U.S. income tax exposures that arise and meet the criteria for accrual under SFAS No. 5, Accounting for Contingencies. The Company prepares and files tax returns based on its interpretation of tax laws and regulations and records estimates based on these judgments and interpretations. In the normal course of business, the Company's tax returns are subject to examination by various taxing authorities. Such examinations may result in future tax and interest assessments by these taxing authorities. Inherent uncertainties exist in estimates of tax contingencies due to changes in tax law resulting from legislation, regulation and/or as concluded through the various jurisdictions tax court systems.

The Company has developed a methodology for estimating its tax liability related to such matters and has consistently followed such methodology from period to period. The liability amounts for such matters are based on an evaluation of the underlying facts and circumstances, a thorough research of the technical merits of the Company's arguments and an assessment of the probability of the Company prevailing in its arguments. In all cases, the Company considers previous findings of the Internal Revenue Service and other taxing authorities. The Company generally consults with external tax advisers in reaching its conclusions. Amounts accrued for a particular period are adjusted when a significant change in facts or circumstances has occurred.

The Company believes that its estimates for the valuation allowances against deferred tax assets and tax contingency reserves are appropriate based on current facts and circumstances. However, other people applying reasonable judgment to the same facts and circumstances could develop a different estimate and the amount ultimately paid upon resolution of issues raised may differ from the amounts accrued.

In addition to income mix from geographical regions, the significant assumptions and estimates described in the preceding paragraphs are important contributors to the ultimate effective tax rate in each year. Although not material to the effective tax rate for the three fiscal years ended June 30, 2007, if any of the Company's assumptions or estimates were to change, an increase/decrease in the Company's effective tax rate by 1% on earnings before income taxes and discontinued operations would have caused income tax expense to increase/decrease by $12.5 million for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2007.

In the first quarter of fiscal 2008, the Company is required to adopt the provisions of FASB Interpretation (FIN) No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes. FIN No. 48 clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes recognized in the financial statements in accordance with SFAS No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes. This standard also provides that a tax benefit from an uncertain tax position may be recognized when it is more likely than not that the position will be sustained upon examination, including resolutions of any related appeals or litigation processes, based on the technical merits. The amount recognized is measured as the largest amount of tax benefit that is greater than 50% likely of being realized upon settlement. This interpretation also provides guidance on measurement, derecognizing, classification, interest and penalties, accounting in interim periods, disclosure and transition. The Company is currently assessing the impact of FIN No. 48 on its consolidated financial statements.

Loss Contingencies

The Company accrues for contingencies related to litigation in accordance with SFAS No. 5, which requires the Company to assess contingencies to determine degree of probability and range of possible settlement. An estimated loss contingency is accrued in the Company's consolidated financial statements if it is probable that a liability has been incurred and the amount of the settlement can be reasonably estimated. Assessing contingencies is highly subjective and requires judgments about future events. The Company regularly reviews contingencies to determine the adequacy of the accruals and related disclosures. The amount of ultimate settlement may differ from these estimates.

Equity-Based Compensation

During the first quarter of fiscal 2006, the Company adopted SFAS No. 123(R), Share-Based Payment, applying the modified prospective method. This Statement requires all equity-based payments to employees, including grants of options, to be recognized in the consolidated statement of earnings based on the grant date fair value of the award.

The fair values of options granted after the Company adopted this Statement were determined using a lattice valuation model and all options granted prior to adoption of this Statement were valued using a Black-Scholes model. The Company's estimate of an option's fair value is dependent on a complex estimation process that requires the estimation of future uncertain events. These estimates which are entered within the option valuation model include, but are not limited to, stock price volatility, the expected option life, expected dividend yield and option forfeiture rates. Effective with all options granted subsequent to the adoption of SFAS No. 123(R), the Company estimates its future stock price volatility based on implied volatility from traded options on the Company's Common Shares and historical volatility over a period of time commensurate with the contractual term of the option grant (7 years). The Company analyzed historical data to estimate option exercise behaviors and employee terminations to estimate the expected option life and forfeiture rates. The Company calculated separate option valuations for three separate groups of employees with similar historical exercise behaviors. Once employee stock option values are determined, current accounting practices do not permit them to be changed, even if the estimates used in the valuation model are different from actual results.

However, SFAS No. 123(R) requires the Company to compare its estimated option forfeiture rates to actual forfeiture rates and record any adjustments as necessary. See Note 18 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information regarding equity-based compensation.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Sources and Uses of Cash

The following table summarizes the Company's Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows for fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005 (in millions):

| | 2007 | 2006 | 2005 |
|---|------------|------------|------------|
| Net cash provided by/(used in) continuing operations: | | | |
| Operating activities | $ 1,003.0 | $ 1,850.2 | $ 2,475.6 |
| Investing activities | (1,611.5) | (1,087.2) | (693.9) |
| Financing activities | (2,593.4) | (1,015.8) | (1,652.7) |
| Net cash provided by/(used in) discontinued operations: | | | |
| Operating activities | $ 220.1 | $ 270.6 | $ 380.1 |
| Investing activities | 3,148.7 | (100.0) | (182.2) |
| Financing activities | (45.4) | (16.4) | (4.6) |

Operating activities. Net cash provided by operating activities from continuing operations during fiscal 2007 totaled $1.0 billion, a decrease of $847 million when compared to fiscal 2006. The decrease was a result of the decline in net income from continuing operations ($324 million) due to the litigation charges and cash settlements made in the fourth quarter of fiscal 2007 ($655 million). See Note 12 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for information regarding the litigation settlements. The increase in trade receivables ($783 million) was based on the repurchase of trade receivables ($550 million) under the Company's committed receivables program, as discussed in Note 19 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements. In line with the Company's focus on capital deployment, inventory levels declined $217 million and accounts payable increased $224 million.

Net cash provided by operating activities from continuing operations during fiscal 2006 totaled $1.9 billion, a decrease of $625 million when compared to fiscal 2005. The decrease was primarily a result of the net proceeds received during fiscal 2005 under the Company's committed receivables sales facility program ($550 million). See Note 19 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for information regarding this program. During fiscal 2006, the accounts payable increase ($1.5 billion) was partially offset by increased inventories ($356 million) and increased accounts receivable ($895 million). The accounts payable, trade receivable and inventory increases were due to new sales volume from an existing large retail chain customer and the timing of inventory purchases from vendors in the Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical segment.

Net cash provided by operating activities from discontinued operations during fiscal 2007 totaled $220 million. Net cash provided by operating activities from discontinued operations in fiscal 2007 was a result of earnings from discontinued operations ($1.1 billion) less the gain on the sale of the PTS Business ($1.1 billion).

Net cash provided by operating activities from discontinued operations during fiscal 2006 and 2005 totaled $271 million and $380 million, respectively. Net cash provided by discontinued operations in fiscal 2006 and 2005 was a result of the loss from discontinued operations ($163 million and $16 million, respectively), offset by the changes in the operating assets and liabilities from discontinued operations.

Investing activities. Net cash used by investing activities for continuing operations of $1.6 billion during fiscal 2007 reflected cash used to complete acquisitions to broaden and enhance product offerings, including Viasys within the Medical Products Manufacturing segment, MedMined and Care Fusion within the Clinical Technologies and Services segment and SpecialtyScripts within the Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical segment. See Acquisitions and Divestitures within Item 1 Business of this Form 10-K and Note 2 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for further information regarding the Company's acquisitions. Proceeds from the sale of short-term investments classified as available for sale ($367 million) were offset by capital spending ($357 million) to develop and enhance the Company's infrastructure including facilities, information systems and machinery and equipment. See Note 4 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for information regarding the Company's investments.

Net cash used in investing activities for continuing operations of $1.1 billion during fiscal 2006 reflected the Company's purchase of short-term investments classified as available for sale ($399 million) and capital spending ($340 million). In addition, during fiscal 2006, the Company used cash to complete acquisitions ($362 million) which expand its role as a provider of services to the healthcare industry and are primarily associated with the acquisitions of Dohmen and ParMed within the Healthcare Supply Chain Services' Pharmaceutical segment, Denver Biomedical within the Medical Products Manufacturing segment and the remaining minority interest of Source Medical within the Healthcare Supply Chain Services' Medical segment.

Net cash used in investing activities for continuing operations during fiscal 2005 of $694 million reflected the Company's capital spending ($340 million), the acquisitions of Alaris and Geodax ($273 million) and the purchase of short-term investments classified as available for sale ($100 million).

Net cash provided by investing activities for discontinued operations in fiscal 2007 of $3.1 billion reflected proceeds from the PTS Business divestiture ($3.2 billion) offset by capital spending ($108 million). Net cash used in investing activities for discontinued operations in fiscal 2006 and 2005 of $100 million and $182 million, respectively, primarily represents capital spending ($103 million and $214 million, respectively).

Financing activities. Net cash used in financing activities for continuing operations of $2.6 billion during fiscal 2007 reflected the Company's repurchase of its Common Shares ($3.7 billion) and dividend payments to shareholders ($144 million). See "Share Repurchases" below for additional information. The Company also used cash to repay long-term obligations ($784 million). Cash provided by financing activities included proceeds received from the issuance of long-term obligations, net of issuance costs ($1.5 billion) and proceeds received from shares issued under various employee stock plans ($553 million). See "Capital Resources" below for further discussion of the Company's financing activities.

Net cash used in financing activities for continuing operations of $1.0 billion during fiscal 2006 reflected the Company's repurchase of its Common Shares ($1.5 billion) and dividend payments to shareholders ($102 million). The Company also used cash to purchase certain buildings and equipment which were under capital lease agreements ($258 million) reflected in the reduction of long-term obligations. Cash provided by financing activities includes proceeds received from the issuance of long-term obligations, net of issuance costs ($497 million) and proceeds received from shares issued under various employee stock plans ($241 million).

Net cash used in financing activities for continuing operations of $1.7 billion during fiscal 2005 reflected the Company's decisions to retire debt ($1.9 billion) and commercial paper ($551 million) assumed in the Alaris acquisition. The Company also used cash to repurchase its Common Shares ($500 million) and pay dividends to shareholders ($52 million) as authorized by its Board of Directors. Cash provided by financing activities include proceeds received from the issuance of long-term obligations, net of issuance costs ($1.3 billion) and proceeds received from shares issued under various employee stock plans ($111 million).

Net cash used in financing activities for discontinued operations in fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005 reflected $39 million, $48 million and $22 million, respectively, in repayments on borrowings. Sources of cash for fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005 were additional borrowings of $4 million, $29 million and $17 million, respectively.

International Cash

The Company's cash balance of approximately $1.3 billion as of June 30, 2007 included approximately $707 million of cash held by its subsidiaries outside of the United States. Although the vast majority of cash held outside the United States is available for repatriation, doing so subjects it to United States federal income tax. See Note 11 of "Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements" for additional information regarding income taxes.

Share Repurchases

The Company repurchased approximately $5.8 billion of its Common Shares, in the aggregate, through share repurchase programs during fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005. During fiscal 2007, the Company repurchased $3.8 billion of its Common Shares under a $4.5 billion repurchase program or 53.8 million shares at an average price per share of $69.79. This $4.5 billion repurchase program will expire on June 30, 2008. On August 8, 2007, the Company announced a new $2.0 billion share repurchase program which expires on August 31, 2009. The share repurchase activity (apart from the use of net proceeds from the PTS Business divestiture) supports the Company's previously stated long-term goal to return 50% of net cash provided by operating activities from continuing operations to shareholders.

During fiscal 2006 and 2005 the Company repurchased $1.5 billion and $500 million, respectively, of Common Shares. The Company's fiscal 2006 and 2005 Common Share repurchases represent 22.0 million and 8.9 million shares at an average price per share of $68.39 and $56.76, respectively.

See Issuer Purchases of Equity Securities within Item 5 Market for Registrant's Common Equity, Related Stockholder Matters and Issuer Purchases of Equity Securities for further information regarding the Company's most recent share repurchase program.

Capital Resources

In addition to cash, the Company's sources of liquidity include a $1.5 billion commercial paper program backed by a $1.5 billion revolving credit facility and a committed receivables sales facility program with the capacity to sell $800 million in receivables.

The Company increased the commercial paper program from $1.0 billion to $1.5 billion on February 28, 2007. The Company had no outstanding borrowings from the commercial paper program at June 30, 2007.

On January 24, 2007, the Company amended certain terms of the revolving credit facility which is available for general corporate purposes. As part of the amendment, the amount of the facility was increased from $1.0 billion to $1.5 billion and the term was extended to January 24, 2012. At expiration, this facility can be extended upon mutual consent of the Company and the lending institutions. This revolving credit facility exists largely to support issuances of commercial paper as well as other short-term borrowings for general corporate purposes and remained unused at June 30, 2007, except for $79 million of standby letters of credit issued on behalf of the Company.

During the second quarter, the Company repurchased the aggregate $550 million of receivable interests outstanding under its committed receivables sales facility program with the capacity to sell $800 million in receivables. After these repurchases, the Company did not have any receivable interest sales outstanding under its receivables sales facility program. On October 31, 2006, the Company renewed the receivables sales facility program for a period of one year. See Note 19 in Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements for more information on the Company's committed receivables sales facility program.

The Company also maintains other short-term credit facilities and an unsecured line of credit that allows for borrowings up to $131 million, of which $29 million was outstanding at June 30, 2007.

The Company entered into a $500 million short-term loan facility on March 30, 2007 and it was terminated on April 10, 2007. The Company also terminated a $150 million extendible commercial note program in the third quarter of fiscal 2007.

On October 3, 2006, the Company sold $350 million aggregate principal amount of 2009 floating rate notes and $500 million aggregate principal amount of 5.80% notes due 2016 in a private offering. The proceeds of the debt issuance were used to repay $500 million of the Company's preferred debt securities, $127 million of the 7.30% notes due 2006 and other short-term obligations of the Company.

On June 8, 2007, the Company sold $300 million aggregate principal amount of 5.65% notes due 2012 and $300 million aggregate principal amount of 6.00% notes due 2017 in a private offering. The proceeds of the debt issuance were used to fund a portion of the purchase price of the Viasys acquisition and for general corporate purposes.

During fiscal 2001, the Company entered into an agreement to periodically sell trade receivables to a special purpose accounts receivable and financing entity (the Accounts Receivable and Financing Entity), which is exclusively engaged in purchasing trade receivables from, and making loans to, the Company. The Accounts Receivable and Financing Entity, which is consolidated by the Company as it is the primary beneficiary of the variable interest entity, issued $250 million and $400 million in preferred variable debt securities to parties not affiliated with the Company during fiscal 2004 and 2001, respectively. On October 26, 2006, the Company amended certain of the facility terms of the Company's preferred debt securities. As part of this amendment, the Company repaid $500 million of the principal balance with a portion of the proceeds of the October 2006 sale of notes discussed above and a minimum net worth covenant was added whereby the minimum net worth of the Company cannot fall below $5.0 billion at any time. The amendment eliminated a minimum adjusted tangible net worth covenant (adjusted tangible net worth could not fall below $2.5 billion) and certain financial ratio covenants. After the repayment, the Company had $150 million of preferred debt securities outstanding. These preferred debt securities are classified as long-term obligations, less current portion and other short-term obligations in the Company's consolidated balance sheet.

See Notes 10 and 19 in "Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements" for more information about the Company's capital resources.

From time to time, the Company considers and engages in acquisition transactions in order to expand its role as a leading provider of products and services that improve the safety and productivity of healthcare. The Company evaluates possible candidates for merger or acquisition and considers opportunities to expand its role as a provider of products and services to the healthcare industry through all its reportable segments. If additional transactions are entered into or consummated, the Company may need to enter into funding arrangements for such mergers or acquisitions.

The Company currently believes that, based upon existing cash, operating cash flows, available capital resources (as discussed above) and other available market transactions, it has adequate capital resources at its disposal to fund currently anticipated capital expenditures, business growth and expansion, contractual obligations and current and projected debt service requirements, including those related to business combinations.

Debt Ratings/Covenants

The Company's senior debt credit ratings from S&P, Moody's and Fitch are BBB, Baa2 and BBB+, respectively, and the commercial paper ratings are A-2, P-2 and F2, respectively. The Moody's and Fitch rating outlooks are stable and the S&P outlook is positive.

The Company's various borrowing facilities and long-term debt are free of any financial covenants other than minimum net worth which cannot fall below $5.0 billion at any time. As of June 30, 2007, the Company was in compliance with this covenant. A breach of this covenant would be followed by a grace period during which the Company may discuss remedies with the security holders, or extinguish the securities, without causing an event of default.

Interest Rate and Currency Risk Management

The Company uses foreign currency forward contracts and interest rate swaps to manage its exposure to cash flow variability. The Company also uses foreign currency forward contracts and interest rate swaps to protect the value of its existing foreign currency assets and liabilities and the value of its debt. See Notes 1 and 14 of "Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements" for information regarding the use of financial instruments and derivatives, including foreign currency hedging instruments.

Contractual Obligations

As of June 30, 2007, the Company's contractual obligations, including estimated payments due by period, are as follows (in millions):

- (2) Represents maturities of the Company's capital lease obligations included within long-term obligations on the Company's balance sheet and the related estimated future interest payments.
- (3) Represents cash outflows by period for certain of the Company's long-term liabilities in which cash outflows could be reasonably estimated. Certain long-term liabilities, such as deferred taxes, have been excluded from the table above as there are no cash outflows associated with the liabilities or the timing of the cash outflows cannot reasonably be estimated.
- (4) Represents minimum rental payments and the related estimated future interest payments for operating leases having initial or remaining non-cancelable lease terms as described in Note 12 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements.
- (5) Purchase obligations are defined as an agreement to purchase goods or services that is enforceable and legally binding and specifying all significant terms, including the following: fixed or minimum quantities to be purchased; fixed, minimum or variable price provisions; and approximate timing of the transaction. The purchase obligation amounts disclosed above represent estimates of the minimum for which the Company is obligated and the time period in which cash outflows will occur. Purchase orders and authorizations to purchase that involve no firm commitment from either party are excluded from the above table. In addition, contracts that can be unilaterally cancelled with no termination fee or with proper notice are excluded from the Company's total purchase obligations except for the amount of the termination fee or the minimum amount of goods that must be purchased during the requisite notice period. The significant amount disclosed within fiscal 2008, as compared to other periods, primarily represents obligations to purchase inventories within the Healthcare Supply Chain Services Medical segment.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Shareholders and the Board of Directors of Cardinal Health, Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Cardinal Health, Inc. and subsidiaries (the Company) as of June 30, 2007 and 2006, and the related consolidated statements of earnings, shareholders' equity, and cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended June 30, 2007. Our audits also included the financial statement schedule listed in the Index at Item 15(a)(2). These financial statements and schedule are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and the schedule based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Company as of June 30, 2007 and 2006, and the consolidated results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended June 30, 2007, in conformity with the U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. Also, in our opinion, the related financial statement schedule, when considered in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole, presents fairly in all material respects the information set forth therein.

As discussed in Note 18 to the consolidated financial statements, the Company adopted SFAS No. 123(R), Share-Based Payment, applying the modified prospective method at the beginning of fiscal year 2006.

We also have audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States), the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting as of June 30, 2007, based on criteria established in Internal Control-Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission and our report dated August 22, 2007 expressed an unqualified opinion thereon.

CARDINAL HEALTH, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Cardinal Health, Inc. is an Ohio corporation formed in 1979. Cardinal Health, Inc. is a leading provider of products and services that improve the safety and productivity of healthcare. References to the Company in these consolidated financial statements shall be deemed to be references to Cardinal Health, Inc. and its majority-owned subsidiaries unless the context otherwise requires.

The Company changed its reportable segments beginning with the first quarter of fiscal 2007. As of June 30, 2006, the Company conducted its business within the following four reportable segments: Pharmaceutical Distribution and Provider Services; Medical Products and Services; Pharmaceutical Technologies and Services; and Clinical Technologies and Services. Effective the first quarter of fiscal 2007, the Company began reporting its financial information within the following five reportable segments: Healthcare Supply Chain Services – Pharmaceutical; Healthcare Supply Chain Services – Medical; Clinical Technologies and Services; Pharmaceutical Technologies and Services; and Medical Products Manufacturing.

During the second quarter of fiscal 2007, the Company committed to plans to sell the Pharmaceutical Technologies and Services segment, other than certain generic-focused businesses (the segment, excluding the certain generic-focused businesses that were not sold, is referred to as the PTS Business). The Company completed the sale of the PTS Business during the fourth quarter of fiscal 2007. The following is an explanation of the fiscal 2007 changes, if any, from the Company's reportable segments as of June 30, 2006:

Healthcare Supply Chain Services – Pharmaceutical. The Healthcare Supply Chain Services – Pharmaceutical segment encompasses the businesses previously within the former Pharmaceutical Distribution and Provider Services segment, in addition to the nuclear pharmacy, third-party logistics support and certain generic-focused businesses previously within the former Pharmaceutical Technologies and Services segment and the therapeutic plasma distribution capabilities previously within the former Medical Products and Services segment.

Healthcare Supply Chain Services – Medical. The Healthcare Supply Chain Services – Medical segment encompasses the Company's medical products distribution business and the assembly of sterile and non-sterile procedure kits previously within the former Medical Products and Services segment.

Clinical Technologies and Services. There were no changes to the Clinical Technologies and Services segment.

Medical Products Manufacturing. The Medical Products Manufacturing segment encompasses the medical and surgical products manufacturing businesses previously within the former Medical Products and Services segment.

Basis of Presentation. The consolidated financial statements of the Company include the accounts of all majority-owned subsidiaries, and all significant inter-company amounts have been eliminated.

During fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005, the Company completed several acquisitions that were accounted for under the purchase method of accounting. The consolidated financial statements include the results of operations from each of these business combinations as of the date of acquisition. Additional disclosure related to the Company's acquisitions is provided in Note 2.

Effective the second quarter of fiscal 2007, the Company reclassified the PTS Business to discontinued operations. Effective the third quarter of fiscal 2006, the Company reclassified a significant portion of its healthcare marketing services business (HMS Disposal Group) and its United Kingdom-based Intercare pharmaceutical distribution business (IPD) to discontinued operations. In addition, effective the first quarter of fiscal 2006, the Company reclassified its sterile pharmaceutical manufacturing business in Humacao, Puerto Rico (Humacao) to discontinued operations. Prior period financial results were reclassified to conform to these changes in presentation. See Note 8 for additional information regarding discontinued operations.

During the second quarter of fiscal 2007, the Company changed the classification of certain immaterial implementation costs associated with the sale of medical and supply storage devices in the Clinical Technologies and Services segment from selling, general and administrative expenses to cost of products sold. Prior period financial results were reclassified to conform to these changes in presentation.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) in the United States requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect amounts reported in the consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes. Such estimates include, but are not limited to, allowance for doubtful accounts, inventory valuation, goodwill and intangible asset impairment, preliminary purchase accounting allocations including acquired in-process research and development costs (IPR&D), vendor reserves, equity-based compensation, income taxes, loss contingencies and restructuring charge reserves. Actual amounts may differ from these estimated amounts.

Cash Equivalents. The Company considers all liquid investments purchased with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents. The carrying value of these cash equivalents approximates fair value.

Short-term Investments. The Company's short-term investments at June 30, 2007 included $132.0 million in tax exempt auction rate securities. At June 30, 2006, the Company's short-term investments included $208.9 million in tax exempt variable rate demand notes and $289.5 million in tax exempt auction rate securities. These short-term investments are classified as available-for-sale on the Company's consolidated balance sheet. The Company's investments in these securities are recorded at cost, which approximates fair market value due to their variable interest rates. See Note 4 for additional information regarding short-term investments.

Receivables. Trade receivables are primarily comprised of amounts owed to the Company through its distribution businesses within the Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical and Healthcare Supply Chain Services Medical segments and are presented net of an allowance for doubtful accounts. See Note 5 for additional information.

Concentrations of Credit Risk and Major Customers. The Company maintains cash depository accounts with major banks throughout the world and invests in high quality short-term liquid instruments. Such investments are made only in instruments issued or enhanced by high quality institutions. These investments mature within three months and the Company has not incurred any related losses.

The Company's trade receivables, lease receivables, and finance notes and accrued interest receivables are exposed to a concentration of credit risk with customers in the retail and healthcare sectors. Credit risk can be affected by changes in reimbursement and other economic pressures impacting the hospital and acute care sectors of the healthcare industry. However, such credit risk is limited due to supporting collateral and the diversity of the customer base, including its wide geographic dispersion. The Company performs ongoing credit evaluations of its customers' financial conditions and maintains reserves for credit losses. Such losses historically have been within the Company's expectations.

The following table summarizes all of the Company's customers which individually account for at least 10% of the Company's revenue. The customers in the table below are serviced through the Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical segment.

| | Percent of Revenue | | |
|----------------------------|--------------------|------|------|
| | 2007 | 2006 | 2005 |
| CVS Corporation (CVS) | 21% | 22% | 22% |
| Walgreen Co. (Walgreens) | 19% | 15% | 10% |

At June 30, 2007 and 2006, CVS accounted for 20% and 27%, respectively, and Walgreens accounted for 27% and 28%, respectively, of the Company's gross trade receivable balance.

Certain of the Company's businesses have entered into agreements with group purchasing organizations (GPOs) which act as purchasing agents that negotiate vendor contracts on behalf of their members. In fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005, approximately 10%, 15% and 15%, respectively, of revenue was derived from GPO members through the contractual arrangements established with Novation, LLC and Premier Purchasing Partners, L.P., the Company's two largest GPO relationships in terms of revenue. However, the Company's trade receivable balances are with individual members of the GPO and therefore no significant concentration of credit risk exists with these types of arrangements.

Inventories. A substantial portion of inventories are stated at the lower of cost, using the last-in, first-out (LIFO) method, or market. The remaining inventory is primarily stated at the lower of cost, using the first-in, first-out (FIFO) method, or market. See Note 7 for additional information.

Cash Discounts. Manufacturer cash discounts are recorded as a component of inventory cost and recognized as a reduction of cost of products sold when the related inventory is sold.

Property and Equipment. Property and equipment are primarily stated at cost. Depreciation expense for financial reporting purposes is primarily computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets, including capital lease assets which are depreciated over the terms of their respective leases. The Company uses the following range of useful lives for its property and equipment categories: buildings and improvements 1 to 50 years; machinery and equipment 2 to 20 years; furniture and fixtures 3 to 10 years. Depreciation expense was $252.2 million, $238.7 million and $239.7 million for fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005, respectively. The Company expenses repairs and maintenance expenditures as incurred. Repairs and maintenance expense was $61.3 million, $52.2 million and $46.5 million for fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005, respectively. The Company capitalizes interest on long-term fixed asset projects using a rate of 5.9%, which approximates the Company's weighted average interest rate on long-term obligations. The amount of capitalized interest was immaterial for all fiscal years presented.

Goodwill and Other Intangibles. The Company accounts for purchased goodwill and other intangible assets in accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets. Under SFAS No. 142, purchased goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite lives are not amortized, but instead are tested for impairment at least annually. Intangible assets with finite lives, primarily customer relationships, patents and trademarks, continue to be amortized over their useful lives. SFAS No. 142 requires that impairment testing be conducted at the reporting unit level, which can be at the operating segment level as defined by SFAS No. 131, Disclosures about Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information, or one level below the operating segment. The Company has determined the reporting unit used for impairment assessment should be the operating segment level as the business units comprising the operating segments service a common group of customers, offer complementary products, and share a common strategy. In conducting the impairment test, the fair value of each of the Company's reporting units is compared to their respective carrying amounts including goodwill. If the fair value exceeds the carrying amount, then no impairment exists. If the carrying amount exceeds the fair value, further analysis is performed to assess impairment.

The Company's determination of fair value of the reporting units is based on a discounted cash flow analysis or a review of the price/earnings ratio for publicly traded companies similar in nature, scope and size. The methods and assumptions used to test impairment have been revised for the segment realignment for the periods presented. The discount rate used for impairment testing is based on the risk-free rate plus an adjustment for risk factors. The use of alternative estimates, peer groups or changes in the industry, or adjusting the discount rate could affect the estimated fair value of the reporting units and potentially result in impairment. Any identified impairment would result in an adjustment to the Company's results of operations. The Company performed its annual impairment test in fiscal

2007 and 2006, neither of which resulted in the recognition of impairment charges. See Note 9 for additional information regarding goodwill and other intangible assets.

Income Taxes. In accordance with the provisions of SFAS No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes, the Company accounts for income taxes using the asset and liability method. The asset and liability method requires recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities for expected future tax consequences of temporary differences that currently exist between tax bases and financial reporting bases of the Company's assets and liabilities. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates in the respective jurisdictions in which the Company operates. In assessing the ability to realize deferred tax assets, the Company considers whether it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized. Deferred taxes are not provided on the unremitted earnings of subsidiaries outside of the U.S. when it is expected that these earnings are permanently reinvested.

The Company repatriated $494.0 million of accumulated foreign earnings in fiscal 2006 pursuant to the repatriation provisions of the American Jobs Creation Act of 2004 (the AJCA) and had a total liability of $26.7 million at June 30, 2006. The maximum repatriation available to the Company under the repatriation provisions of the AJCA was $500.0 million. See Note 11 for additional information.

Accounting for Vendor Reserves. In the ordinary course of business, vendors may challenge deductions or billings taken against payments otherwise due to them from the Company. These contested transactions are researched and resolved based upon Company policy and findings of the research performed. At any given time, there are outstanding items in various stages of research and resolution. In determining an appropriate vendor reserve, the Company assesses historical information and current outstanding claims. The ultimate outcome of certain claims may be different than the Company's original estimate and may require adjustment. All adjustments to vendor reserves are included in cost of products sold.

Other Accrued Liabilities. Other accrued liabilities represent various obligations of the Company including certain accrued operating expenses and taxes payable. For the fiscal years ended June 30, 2007 and 2006, the largest component of other accrued liabilities were net current deferred tax liabilities of approximately $650.0 million and $606.9 million, respectively. Other significant components of other accrued liabilities were current income taxes payable and employee compensation and related benefit accruals. For fiscal 2007 and 2006, current income taxes payable were $119.7 million and $222.8 million, respectively, while employee compensation and related benefit accruals were $377.5 million and $323.5 million, respectively.

Equity-Based Compensation. During the first quarter of fiscal 2006, the Company adopted SFAS No. 123(R), Share-Based Payment, applying the modified prospective method. This Statement requires all equity-based payments to employees, including grants of options, to be recognized in the consolidated statement of earnings based on the grant date fair value of the award. The fair values of options granted after the Company adopted this Statement were determined using a lattice valuation model and all options granted prior to adoption of this Statement were valued using a Black-Scholes model. The Company's estimate of an option's fair value is dependent on a complex estimation process that requires the estimation of future uncertain events. These estimates include, but are not limited to, stock price volatility, the expected option life, expected dividend yield and option forfeiture rates.

The compensation expense recognized for all equity-based awards is net of estimated forfeitures and is recognized using the straight-line method over the awards' service period. The Company classifies equity-based compensation within selling, general and administrative expenses to correspond with the same line item as the majority of the cash compensation paid to employees. See Note 18 for additional information regarding equity-based compensation.

Dividends. The Company paid cash dividends per Common Share of $0.36, $0.24 and $0.12 for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2007, 2006 and 2005, respectively.

Revenue Recognition. In accordance with U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) Staff Accounting Bulletin (SAB) No. 104, Revenue Recognition, the Company recognizes revenue when persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, product delivery has occurred or the services have been rendered, the price is fixed or determinable and collectibility is reasonably assured. Revenue is recognized net of sales returns and allowances.

Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical

This segment records distribution revenue when title transfers to its customers and the business has no further obligation to provide services related to such merchandise. This revenue is recorded net of sales returns and allowances.

Revenue within this segment includes revenue from bulk customers. Most deliveries to bulk customers consist of product shipped in the same form as the product is received from the manufacturer. Bulk customers have the ability to process large quantities of products in central locations and self distribute these products to their individual retail stores or customers. Revenue from bulk customers is recorded when title transfers to the customers and the Company has no further obligation to provide services related to such merchandise.

Revenue for deliveries that are direct shipped to customer warehouses from the manufacturer whereby the Company acts as an intermediary in the ordering and delivery of products is recorded gross in accordance with FASB Emerging Issues Task Force (EITF) Issue No. 99-19, Reporting Revenue Gross as a Principal versus Net as an Agent. This revenue is recorded on a gross basis since the Company incurs credit risk from the customer, bears the risk of loss for incomplete shipments and does not receive a separate fee or commission for the transaction.

Radiopharmaceutical revenue is recognized upon delivery of the product to the customer. Service-related revenue, including fees received for analytical services or sales and marketing services, is recognized upon the completion of such services.

Through its Medicine Shoppe International, Inc. and Medicap Pharmacies Incorporated franchise operations (collectively, Medicine Shoppe), the Company has apothecary-style pharmacy franchisees in which it earns franchise and origination fees. Franchise fees represent monthly fees based upon franchisees sales and are recognized as revenue when they are earned. Origination fees from signing new franchise agreements are recognized as revenue when the new franchise store is opened.

Healthcare Supply Chain Services Medical

This segment recognizes distribution revenue when title transfers to its customers and the business has no further obligation to provide services related to such merchandise. This revenue is recorded net of sales returns and allowances.

Clinical Technologies and Services

Leasing revenue is accounted for in accordance with SFAS No. 13, Accounting for Leases. Revenue is recognized on sales-type leases when the lease becomes noncancellable. The lease is determined to be noncancellable upon completion of the installation, when the equipment is functioning according to material specifications of the user s manual and the customer has accepted the equipment, as evidenced by signing an equipment confirmation document. Interest income on sales-type leases is recognized in revenue using the interest method.

Consistent with sales-type leases, revenue is recognized on operating leases after installation is complete and customer acceptance has occurred. Operating lease revenue is recognized over the lease term as such amounts become receivable according to the provisions of the lease.

Revenue for safety systems which contain software essential to the functionality of the product are subject to the provisions of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants Statement of Position (SOP) No. 97-2

Software Revenue Recognition. The elements of safety system sales arrangements may contain some or all of the following: infusion devices, disposables, hardware, software, software maintenance programs and professional services. As a multiple element arrangement, total fees are allocated to each element based on vendor-specific objective evidence of fair value for each element or using the residual method, when applicable. Vendor-specific objective evidence is generally based on the price charged when an element is sold separately. Allocated fees are recognized separately for each element when it is delivered and there are no further contractual obligations with relation to that element. Perpetual software license revenue is generally recognized upon shipment to the customer. Software maintenance revenue is recognized ratably over the contract period. Vendor-specific objective evidence for software maintenance is determined based on contract renewal price for such maintenance. Rights to unspecified software upgrades (on a when-and-if available basis) are included in software maintenance. Professional service revenue is recognized when services are rendered. Revenues are recognized net of sales returns and allowances.

Pharmacy management and other service revenue is recognized as the services are rendered according to the contracts established. A fee is charged under such contracts through a capitated fee, a dispensing fee, a monthly management fee or an actual costs-incurred arrangement. Under certain contracts, fees for services are guaranteed by the Company not to exceed stipulated amounts or have other risk-sharing provisions. Revenue is adjusted to reflect the estimated effects of such contractual guarantees and risk-sharing provisions.

Medical Products Manufacturing

This segment records self-manufactured medical product revenue when title transfers to its customers which generally occurs upon delivery. Revenues are recorded net of sales returns and allowances.

Multiple Segments or Business Units

Arrangements involving multiple segments or business units, containing no software or software which is incidental to the functionality of the product or service, and those arrangements involving a single segment or business unit and multiple deliverables are accounted for in accordance with EITF Issue No. 00-21, Revenue Arrangements with Multiple Deliverables. If the deliverable meets the criteria of a separate unit of accounting, the arrangement revenue is allocated to each element based upon its relative fair value and recognized in accordance with the applicable revenue recognition criteria for each element.

Savings Guarantees

Some of the Company's customer contracts include a guarantee of a certain amount of savings through utilization of the Company's services. Revenue associated with a guarantee in which the form of consideration is cash or credit memos is not recorded until the guaranteed savings are fully recognized. For guarantees with consideration paid in the form of free products or services, the cost of products sold related to those sales is increased by the amount of the guarantee.

Sales Returns and Allowances. Revenue is recorded net of sales returns and allowances. The Company recognizes sales returns as a reduction of revenue and cost of products sold for the sales price and cost, respectively, when products are returned. The customer return policies generally require that the product be physically returned, subject to restocking fees, and only allow customers to return products that can be added back to inventory and resold at full value, or that can be returned to vendors for credit. Product returns are generally consistent throughout the year, and typically are not specific to any particular product or customer. Amounts recorded in revenue and cost of products sold under this accounting policy closely approximate what would have been recorded under SFAS No. 48, Revenue Recognition When Right of Return Exists. Applying the provisions of SFAS No. 48 would not materially change the Company's financial position and results of operations. Sales returns and allowances were approximately $1.8 billion, $1.5 billion and $1.5 billion in fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005, respectively.

Distribution Service Agreement and Other Vendor Fees. The Company's pharmaceutical supply chain business within the Healthcare Supply Chain Services' Pharmaceutical segment accounts for fees received from its distribution service agreements and other fees received from vendors related to the purchase or distribution of the vendor's inventory as a reduction in cost of products sold, in accordance with EITF Issue No. 02-16, "Accounting by a Customer for Certain Consideration Received from a Vendor."

Shipping and Handling. Shipping and handling costs are included in selling, general and administrative expenses in the consolidated statements of earnings. Shipping and handling costs include all delivery expenses as well as all costs to prepare the product for shipment to the end customer. Shipping and handling costs totaled $305.8 million, $274.3 million and $275.7 million for fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005, respectively. Shipping and handling revenue received was immaterial for all periods presented.

Research and Development Costs. Costs incurred in connection with development of new products and manufacturing methods are charged to expense as incurred. Research and development expenses were $102.8 million, $96.8 million and $87.2 million for fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005, respectively.

Translation of Foreign Currencies. Financial statements of the Company's subsidiaries outside the U.S. generally are measured using the local currency as the functional currency. Adjustments to translate the assets and liabilities of these foreign subsidiaries into U.S. dollars are accumulated in a separate component of shareholders' equity utilizing period-end exchange rates, net of tax. Foreign currency transaction gains and losses calculated by utilizing weighted average exchange rates for the period are included in the consolidated statements of earnings in interest expense and other and were immaterial for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2007, 2006 and 2005.

Interest Rate and Currency Risk Management. The Company accounts for derivative instruments in accordance with SFAS No. 133, as amended, "Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activity." Under this standard, all derivative instruments are recorded at fair value on the balance sheet and all changes in fair value are recorded to net earnings or shareholders' equity through other comprehensive income, net of tax.

The Company uses forward currency exchange contracts and interest rate swaps to manage its exposures to the variability of cash flows primarily related to the foreign exchange rate changes of future foreign currency transaction costs and to the interest rate changes on borrowing costs. These contracts are designated as cash flow hedges.

The Company also uses interest rate swaps to hedge changes in the value of fixed rate debt due to variations in interest rates. Both the derivative instruments and underlying debt are adjusted to market value through interest expense and other at the end of each period. The Company uses foreign currency forward contracts to protect the value of existing foreign currency assets and liabilities. The remeasurement adjustments for any foreign currency denominated assets or liabilities are included in interest expense and other. The remeasurement adjustment is offset by the foreign currency forward contract settlements which are also classified in interest expense and other. The interest rate swaps are designated as fair value hedges.

The Company's derivative contracts are adjusted to current market values each period and qualify for hedge accounting under SFAS No. 133, as amended. Periodic gains and losses of contracts designated as cash flow hedges are deferred in other comprehensive income until the underlying transactions are recognized. Upon recognition, such gains and losses are recorded in net earnings as an adjustment to the carrying amounts of underlying transactions in the period in which these transactions are recognized. For those contracts designated as fair value hedges, resulting gains or losses are recognized in net earnings offsetting the exposures of underlying transactions. Carrying values of all contracts are included in other assets or liabilities.

The Company's policy requires that contracts used as hedges must be effective at reducing the risk associated with the exposure being hedged and must be designated as a hedge at the inception of the contract. Hedging effectiveness is assessed periodically. Any contract not designated as a hedge, or so designated but ineffective, is adjusted to market value and recognized in net earnings immediately. If a fair value or cash flow hedge ceases to qualify for hedge accounting or is terminated, the contract would continue to be carried on the balance sheet at fair value until settled and future adjustments to the contract's fair value would be recognized in earnings immediately. If a forecasted transaction was no longer probable to occur, amounts previously deferred in other comprehensive income would be recognized immediately in earnings. Additional disclosure related to the Company's hedging contracts is provided in Note 14.

Earnings per Common Share. Basic earnings per Common Share (Basic EPS) is computed by dividing net earnings (the numerator) by the weighted average number of Common Shares outstanding during each period (the denominator). Diluted earnings per Common Share is similar to the computation for Basic EPS, except that the denominator is increased by the dilutive effect of stock options, restricted shares and restricted share units computed using the treasury stock method.

Recent Financial Accounting Standards. In February 2006, the FASB issued SFAS No. 155, Accounting for Certain Hybrid Financial Instruments an amendment of SFAS No. 133 and SFAS No. 140, Accounting for Transfers and Servicing of Financial Assets and Extinguishments of Liabilities. This Statement permits fair value remeasurement for any hybrid financial instrument that contains an embedded derivative that would otherwise be required to be bifurcated from its host contract. The election to measure a hybrid financial instrument at fair value, in its entirety, is irrevocable and all changes in fair value are to be recognized in earnings. This Statement also clarifies and amends certain provisions of SFAS No. 133 and SFAS No. 140. This Statement is effective for all of the Company's financial instruments acquired, issued or subject to a remeasurement event on or after July 1, 2007. The adoption of this Statement is not expected to have a material impact on the Company's financial position or results of operations.

In July 2006, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation (FIN) No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes. This Interpretation prescribes a comprehensive model for the financial statement recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of uncertain tax positions taken or expected to be taken in income tax returns. This Interpretation is effective for the Company at July 1, 2007. The cumulative effects, if any, of applying this Interpretation will be recorded as an adjustment to retained earnings as of the beginning of the period of adoption. The Company is currently assessing the impact of adopting this Interpretation.

In September 2006, the FASB issued SFAS No. 157, Fair Value Measurements. This Statement defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value in GAAP and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. This Statement is effective for the Company on July 1, 2008, and interim periods within fiscal 2009. The Company is in the process of determining the impact of adopting this Statement.

In September 2006, the FASB issued SFAS No. 158, Employers' Accounting for Defined Benefit Pension and Other Postretirement Plans an amendment of FASB Statements No. 87, 88, 106, and 132(R). This Statement requires an entity to recognize in its statement of financial position an asset for a defined benefit postretirement plan's overfunded status or a liability for a plan's underfunded status, measure a defined benefit postretirement plan's assets and obligations that determine its funded status as of the end of the employer's fiscal year, and recognize changes in the funded status of a defined benefit postretirement plan in comprehensive income in the year in which the changes occur. This Statement requires balance sheet recognition of the funded status for all pension and postretirement benefit plans effective for fiscal years ending after December 15, 2006. 2. BUSINESS COMBINATIONS

Fiscal 2007. On June 21 and 27, 2007, the Company completed the initial and subsequent tender offers for the outstanding common stock of Viasys, a Conshohocken, Pennsylvania-based provider of products and services directed at the critical care ventilation, respiratory diagnostics and clinical services, neurological, vascular, audio, homecare, orthopedics, sleep diagnostics and other medical and surgical products markets. Through the tender offers, a total of approximately 29.3 million shares of Viasys common stock were validly tendered for $42.75 per share, which represented approximately 88% of all outstanding shares of Viasys. On June 28, 2007, the Company acquired from Viasys a number of additional shares so that it would hold more than 90% of the outstanding shares on a fully diluted basis. The same day, Viasys merged with a subsidiary of the Company to complete the transaction.

The cash transaction was valued at approximately $1.5 billion, including the assumption of approximately $54.2 million of debt. Viasys employees with outstanding stock options elected to either receive a cash payment or convert their options into options to purchase the Company's Common Shares. Certain Viasys employees elected to convert their options, which resulted in those employees receiving the right to purchase a total of approximately 0.1 million Common Shares of the Company.

The preliminary valuation of the acquired assets and liabilities resulted in goodwill of approximately $1.0 billion and identifiable intangible assets of $442.0 million. The Company valued intangible assets related to trade names, patents and customer relationships. The valuation is not yet finalized and subject to adjustment as the Company assesses the value of the pre-acquisition contingencies and certain other matters. The detail by category is as follows (in millions):

| Category | Amount | Average Life (Years) |
|----------------------------------|---------------|---------------------------------|
| Trade names | $ 111.0 | 15 |
| Patents | 151.0 | 15 |
| Customer relationships | 180.0 | 10 |
| Total intangible assets acquired | $ 442.0 | |

During fiscal 2007, the Company recorded a charge of $83.9 million related to the write-off of IPR&D costs associated with the Viasys acquisition. The portion of the purchase price allocated to IPR&D represents the estimated fair value of the research and development projects in-process at the time of the acquisition. These projects had not yet reached technological feasibility, were deemed to have no alternative use and, accordingly, were immediately charged to special items expense at the acquisition date in accordance with FIN No. 4, Applicability of FASB Statement No. 2 to Business Combinations Accounted for by the Purchase Method.

Restructuring Charges

During fiscal 2005, the Company launched a global restructuring program with a goal of increasing the value the Company provides its customers through better integration of existing businesses and improved efficiency from a more disciplined approach to procurement and resource allocation. The Company expects the program to be implemented in three phases and be substantially completed by the end of fiscal 2009.

The first phase of the program, announced in December 2004, focuses on business consolidations and process improvements, including rationalizing facilities worldwide, reducing the Company's global workforce, and rationalizing and discontinuing overlapping and under-performing product lines. The second phase of the program, announced in August 2005, focuses on longer-term integration activities that will enhance service to customers through improved integration across the Company's segments and continued streamlining of internal operations. The third phase of the program, announced in April 2007, focuses on moving the headquarters of the Company's Healthcare Supply Chain Services Medical segment and certain corporate functions from Waukegan, Illinois to the Company's corporate headquarters in Dublin, Ohio.

In addition to the global restructuring program, from time to time the Company incurs costs to implement smaller restructuring efforts for specific operations within its segments. The restructuring plans focus on various aspects of operations, including closing and consolidating certain manufacturing operations, rationalizing headcount, and aligning operations in the most strategic and cost-efficient structure.

Such amounts are estimates and will be expensed as special items when incurred.

These short-term investments are classified as available-for-sale on the Company's consolidated balance sheet. The interest rate earned on the Company's current investments resets every 28 or 35 days and the investments are automatically reinvested unless the Company provides notice of intent to liquidate to the broker. The Company's investments in these securities are recorded at cost, which approximates fair market value due to their variable interest rates. The underlying maturities of the current investments range from one to 33 years. The bonds are issued by municipalities and other tax exempt entities. Most are backed by letters of credit from the banking institutions that brokered the debt placements or another financial institution. All of the current investments have ratings of at least Aaa or AAA.

An account is considered past due on the first day after its due date. In accordance with contract terms, the Company generally has the ability to charge customer service fees or higher prices if an account is considered past due. The Company continuously monitors past due accounts and establishes appropriate reserves to cover potential losses. The Company will write-off any amounts deemed uncollectible against the established allowance for doubtful accounts.

The Company provides financing to various customers. Such financing arrangements range from approximately 90 days to 10 years, at interest rates that generally are subject to fluctuation. The Company has formed special purpose entities with the sole purpose of buying receivables or sales-type leases from various legal entities of the Company and selling those receivables or sales-type leases to certain multi-seller conduits administered by banks or other third-party investors. See Note 19 for additional disclosure regarding off-balance sheet financing.

During fiscal 2001, the Company entered into an agreement to periodically sell trade receivables to a special purpose accounts receivable and financing entity (the Accounts Receivable and Financing Entity) which is exclusively engaged in purchasing trade receivables from, and making loans to, the Company. The Accounts

Receivable and Financing Entity, which is consolidated by the Company, issued $250 million and $400 million in preferred variable debt securities to parties not affiliated with the Company during fiscal 2004 and 2001, respectively. As part of an amendment to certain of the facility terms of the preferred debt securities in October 2006, the Company repaid $500.0 million of the principal balance. See Note 10 for additional information.

6. LEASES

Sales-Type Leases. The Company's sales-type leases are for terms generally ranging up to five years. Lease receivables are generally collateralized by the underlying equipment. The components of the Company's net investment in sales-type leases are as follows as of June 30, 2007 and 2006 (in millions):

| | 2007 | 2006 |
|---|-------------|-------------|
| Future minimum lease payments receivable | $ 1,330.9 | $ 1,174.0 |
| Unguaranteed residual values | 24.8 | 24.3 |
| Unearned income | (174.4) | (146.9) |
| Allowance for uncollectible minimum lease payments receivable | (5.8) | (6.6) |
| Net investment in sales-type leases | $ 1,175.5 | $ 1,044.8 |
| Less: current portion | 354.8 | 290.1 |
| Net investment in sales-type leases, less current portion | $ 820.7 | $ 754.7 |

Future minimum lease payments to be received pursuant to sales-type leases during the next five fiscal years and thereafter are as follows (in millions):

| | 2008 | 2009 | 2010 | 2011 | 2012 | Thereafter | Total |
|------------------------|-------------|-------------|-------------|-------------|-------------|-------------------|--------------|
| Minimum lease payments | $ 409.6 | $ 372.6 | $ 286.7 | $ 183.7 | $ 75.0 | $ 3.3 | $ 1,330.9 |

7. INVENTORIES

A substantial portion of inventories (approximately 73% and 75% at June 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively) are stated at the lower of cost, using the LIFO method, or market. These inventories are included within the core distribution facilities within the Company's Healthcare Supply Chain Services - Pharmaceutical segment (core distribution facilities) and are primarily merchandise inventories. The Company believes that the average cost method of inventory valuation provides a reasonable approximation of the current cost of replacing inventory within the core distribution facilities. As such, the LIFO reserve is the difference between (a) inventory at the lower of LIFO cost or market and (b) inventory at replacement cost determined using the average cost method of inventory valuation. In fiscal 2007, the Company did not record any LIFO reserve reductions. In 2006, the Company recorded LIFO reserve reductions of $26.0 million.

The remaining inventory is primarily stated at the lower of cost, using the FIFO method, or market. If the Company had used the average cost method of inventory valuation for all inventory within the core distribution facilities, inventories would not have changed in fiscal 2007 or fiscal 2006. In fact, primarily due to continued deflation in generic pharmaceutical inventories, inventories at LIFO were $55.8 million and $1.0 million higher than the average cost value as of June 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively. However, the Company's policy is not to record inventories in excess of its current market value.

Inventories recorded on the Company's consolidated balance sheets are net of reserves for excess and obsolete inventory which were $95.8 million and $112.2 million at June 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively. The Company reserves for inventory obsolescence using estimates based on historical experiences, sales trends, specific categories of inventory and age of on-hand inventory.

During the third quarter of fiscal 2006, the Company committed to plans to sell the HMS Disposal Group and IPD, thereby meeting the held for sale criteria set forth in SFAS No. 144. The remaining portion of the healthcare marketing services business remains within the Company. In accordance with SFAS No. 144 and EITF Issue No. 03-13, the net assets of these businesses are presented separately as held for sale and the operating results of these businesses are presented within discontinued operations. In accordance with SFAS No. 144, the net assets held for sale of each business were recorded at the net expected fair value less costs to sell, as this amount was lower than the business's net carrying value.

Impairment charges of $30.0 million and $171.0 million were recorded in fiscal 2007 and 2006, respectively, within discontinued operations for the HMS Disposal Group. In the third quarter of fiscal 2007, the Company completed the sale of the HMS Disposal Group. The net assets held for sale of the HMS Disposal Group at June 30, 2006 are included within the Corporate segment.

During the fourth quarter of fiscal 2005, the Company decided to close its sterile pharmaceutical manufacturing business in Humacao, Puerto Rico as part of its global restructuring program and committed to sell the assets of the Humacao operations, thereby meeting the held for sale criteria set forth in SFAS No. 144. During the fourth quarter of fiscal 2005, the Company recognized an impairment charge to write the carrying value of the Humacao assets down to fair value, less costs to sell. During the first quarter of fiscal 2006, the Company subsequently decided not to transfer production from Humacao to other Company-owned facilities, thereby meeting the criteria for classification of discontinued operations in accordance with SFAS No. 144 and EITF Issue No. 03-13. An impairment charge of $5.2 million was recorded in fiscal 2007 as a result of recording the net assets held for sale to the net expected fair value less costs to sell. Humacao's net assets at June 30, 2007 and 2006 are included within the Corporate segment.

In connection with the acquisition of Syncor, the Company acquired certain operations of Syncor that were discontinued. Prior to the acquisition, Syncor announced the discontinuation of certain operations, including the medical imaging business and certain overseas operations. The Company continued with these plans and added additional international and non-core domestic businesses to the discontinued operations. In accordance with SFAS No. 144 and EITF Issue No. 03-13, the results of operations of these businesses were presented as discontinued operations. The Company sold all of the remaining Syncor discontinued operations prior to the end of fiscal 2005.

During the second quarter of fiscal 2005, the Company recorded a gain of approximately $18.7 million related to the sale of the radiation management services business within the Company's Healthcare Supply Chain Services - Pharmaceutical segment. This business unit was not previously classified as discontinued operations because it did not qualify in accordance with SFAS No. 144 and EITF Issue No. 03-13 until the second quarter of fiscal 2005. The assets and liabilities were not classified as held for sale and the results of operations related to this business were not classified as discontinued operations as the amounts were not significant.

The 4.00%, 5.65%, 5.80%, 5.85%, 6.00%, 6.25% and 6.75% Notes and the Floating Rate Notes due 2009 represent unsecured obligations of the Company. The 7.30% Notes and the 7.80% and 7.00% Debentures represent unsecured obligations of Allegiance Corporation (a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company), which are guaranteed by the Company. These obligations are not subject to a sinking fund and are not redeemable prior to maturity. Interest is paid pursuant to the terms of the obligations. These notes and guarantees of the Company are structurally subordinated to the liabilities of the Company's subsidiaries, including trade payables of $9.2 billion.

In October 2006, the Company sold $350.0 million aggregate principal amount of floating rate notes due 2009 (the 2009 Notes) and $500.0 million aggregate principal amount of fixed rate notes due 2016 (the 2016 Notes) in a private offering. The 2009 Notes mature on October 2, 2009 and interest on these notes will accrue at a floating rate equal to the three-month LIBOR plus 0.27% payable quarterly. The 2016 Notes mature on October 15, 2016 and interest on the 2016 Notes accrue at 5.80% per year payable semi-annually. The Company also agreed for the benefit of the holders to register the 2009 and 2016 Notes under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the Securities Act), pursuant to a registered exchange offer so that such Notes may be sold in the public market. Because the Company did not meet certain deadlines for completion of the exchange offer, the interest rates on the 2009 and 2016 Notes increased by 25 basis points as of June 1, 2007 and will increase by an additional 25 basis points as of August 30, 2007 if the exchange offer is not completed prior to that date. Upon the completion of the exchange offer, such additional interest on the 2009 and 2016 Notes will no longer be payable. The maximum amount of additional interest which the Company must pay prior to the completion of the exchange offer for the 2009 and 2016 Notes is 50 basis points per year. The Company used the proceeds from the sale of the 2009 and 2016 Notes to repay $500.0 million of the Company's preferred debt securities, $127.4 million of 7.30% Notes due 2006, $53.1 million outstanding under a short-term credit facility of a subsidiary guaranteed by the Company and for general corporate purposes.

In a second private offering in June 2007, the Company sold $300.0 million aggregate principal amount of fixed rate notes due 2012 (the 2012 Notes) and $300.0 million aggregate principal amount of fixed rate notes due 2017 (the 2017 Notes). The 2012 Notes mature on June 15, 2012 and the 2017 Notes mature on June 15, 2017. Interest on the 2012 Notes and the 2017 Notes accrue at 5.65% and 6.00%, respectively, per year payable semi-annually. If the Company experiences specific types of change of control, it may be required to offer to purchase the 2012 and 2017 Notes at 101% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to the date of repurchase. The Company also agreed for the benefit of the holders to register the 2012 and 2017 Notes under the Securities Act pursuant to a registered exchange offer so that such Notes may be sold in the public market. If the Company does not meet certain deadlines for completion of the exchange offer, the interest rates on the 2012 and 2017 Notes will increase by 25 basis points as of February 4, 2008 and will increase by an additional 25 basis points as of March 4, 2008 if the exchange offer is not completed prior to that date. Upon the completion of the exchange offer, such additional interest on the 2012 and 2017 Notes would no longer be payable. The maximum amount of additional interest which the Company would have to pay prior to the completion of the exchange offer for the 2012 and 2017 Notes is 50 basis points per year. The Company used the net proceeds from the sale of the 2012 and 2017 Notes to fund a portion of the purchase price of the Viasys acquisition and for other general corporate purposes.

As part of the Company's acquisition of Alaris in fiscal 2004, the Company assumed $195.3 million of 7.25% Senior subordinated notes due 2011. During fiscal 2005, the Company paid off $183.6 million of the Senior subordinated notes. On July 2, 2007, the Company exercised the option to call the Senior subordinated notes resulting in the repayment of the remaining balance of $11.2 million.

During fiscal 2001, the Company entered into an agreement to periodically sell trade receivables to a special purpose accounts receivable and financing entity, which is exclusively engaged in purchasing trade receivables from, and making loans to, the Company (the Accounts Receivable and Financing Entity). The Accounts Receivable and Financing Entity, which is consolidated by the Company as it is the primary beneficiary of the variable interest entity, issued $250.0 million and $400.0 million in preferred variable debt securities to parties not affiliated with the Company during fiscal 2004 and 2001, respectively. These preferred debt securities are classified as long-term obligations, less current portion and other short-term obligations in the Company's consolidated balance sheet. The Company amended certain of the facility terms of the Company's preferred debt securities in October 2006. As part of this amendment, the Company repaid $500.0 million of the principal balance with a portion of the proceeds of the October 2006 offering described above and added a minimum net worth covenant whereby the minimum net worth of the Company cannot fall below $5.0 billion at any time. The amendment eliminated a minimum adjusted net worth covenant (adjusted tangible net worth could not fall below $2.5 billion) and certain financial ratio covenants. After the repayment, the Company had $150.0 million outstanding under its preferred debt securities. At June 30, 2007 and 2006, the Accounts Receivable and Financing Entity owned approximately $594.7 million and $580.8 million, respectively, of receivables that are included in the Company's consolidated balance sheet. The effective interest rate as of June 30, 2007 and 2006 was 5.94% and 5.90%, respectively. Other than for loans made to the Company or for breaches of certain representations, warranties or covenants, the Accounts Receivable and Financing Entity does not have any recourse against the general credit of the Company.

In addition to cash, at June 30, 2007 and 2006, the Company's sources of liquidity included a $1.5 billion and $1.0 billion commercial paper program, respectively, backed by a $1.5 billion and $1.0 billion revolving credit facility for the respective years. The Company initiated a $1.0 billion commercial paper program in August 2006, which replaced its former $1.5 billion commercial paper program. The Company increased the commercial paper program to $1.5 billion on February 28, 2007. The Company had no outstanding borrowings from the commercial paper program at June 30, 2007 or 2006. In January 2007, the Company amended certain terms of the revolving credit facility. As part of the amendment, the amount of the facility was increased from $1.0 billion to $1.5 billion and the term was extended to January 24, 2012. At expiration, this facility can be extended upon mutual consent of the Company and the lending institutions. This revolving credit facility exists largely to support issuances of commercial paper as well as other short-term borrowings for general corporate purposes and remained unused at June 30, 2007 and 2006, except for $79.2 million and $57.8 million, respectively, of standby letters of credit issued on behalf of the Company. Additionally, at June 30, 2006, the Company maintained a $150.0 million extendible commercial note program with no outstanding borrowings at June 30, 2006. The Company terminated the $150.0 million extendible commercial note program in February 2007.

The Company also maintained other short-term credit facilities and an unsecured line of credit that allowed for borrowings up to $131.1 million and $307.2 million at June 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively. At June 30, 2007 and 2006, $29.0 million and $161.8 million, respectively, were outstanding under uncommitted facilities, of which $25.1 million at June 30, 2006 related to the PTS Business. The June 30, 2007 and 2006 outstanding balance under uncommitted facilities included $4.1 million and $136.6 million, which was classified in other obligations at June 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively. The remaining $20.2 million and $21.8 million balance of other obligations at June 30, 2007, and 2006, respectively, consisted primarily of additional notes, loans and capital leases. Additionally, in March 2007, the Company entered into a $500.0 million unsecured committed short term loan facility, which was terminated in April 2007.

A reconciliation of the provision / (benefit) based on the federal statutory income tax rate to the Company's effective income tax rate from continuing operations is as follows for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2007, 2006 and 2005:

|--|-------------|-------------|-------------|
| Provision at Federal statutory rate | 35.0% | 35.0% | 35.0% |

| Other | 4.1 | 2.1 | 1.4 |
| Effective income tax rate | 32.9% | 33.2% | 35.9% |

A provision of the AJCA created a temporary incentive for U.S. corporations to repatriate undistributed income earned abroad by providing an 85% dividends received deduction for certain dividends from non-U.S. subsidiaries. During the fourth quarter of fiscal 2005, the Company determined that it would repatriate $500.0 million of accumulated non-U.S. earnings in fiscal 2006 pursuant to the repatriation provisions of the AJCA, and accordingly the Company recorded a related tax liability of $26.3 million as of June 30, 2005. The maximum repatriation available to the Company was $500.0 million under the repatriation provisions of the AJCA. During fiscal 2006, the Company repatriated $494.0 million of qualifying accumulated foreign earnings in accordance with its plan adopted during fiscal 2005. An additional tax liability of $0.4 million was recorded during fiscal 2006 due to new state legislation with respect to the AJCA, bringing the Company's total tax liability related to the repatriation recorded through June 30, 2006 to $26.7 million. Uses of repatriated funds included domestic expenditures related to non-executive salaries, capital asset investments and other permitted activities.

As of June 30, 2007, the Company had $2.4 billion of undistributed earnings from non-U.S. subsidiaries that are intended to be permanently reinvested in non-U.S. operations. Because these earnings are considered permanently reinvested, no U.S. tax provision has been accrued related to the repatriation of these earnings. It is not practicable to estimate the amount of U.S. tax that might be payable on the eventual remittance of such earnings. At June 30, 2007, a liability of $4.0 million was established related to the estimated cost of repatriating $18.0 million of undistributed earnings from Viasys non-U.S. subsidiaries.

Deferred income taxes arise from temporary differences between financial reporting and tax reporting bases of assets and liabilities, and operating loss and tax credit carryforwards for tax purposes. The components of the deferred income tax assets and liabilities as of June 30, 2007 and 2006 are as follows (in millions):

At June 30, 2007, the Company had gross federal, state and international loss and credit carryforwards of $361.0 million, $1.1 billion and $147.0 million, respectively, the tax effect of which is an aggregate deferred tax asset of $178.2 million. The significant increase in loss carryforwards during fiscal 2007 is attributable to a tax capital loss on the PTS Business divestiture estimated at $127.1 million. This capital loss carryforward has a full $127.1 million valuation allowance and can be carried forward five years. This PTS Business capital loss estimate and related valuation allowance are subject to change based on results of the U.S. federal capital loss disallowance rules review that will be conducted before the June 2007 tax returns are filed. Substantially all of the remaining carryforwards are available for at least three years or have an indefinite carryforward period. Approximately $155.6 million of the valuation allowance at June 30, 2007 applies to certain federal, international, and state and local carryforwards that, in the opinion of management, are more likely than not to expire unutilized. However, to the extent that tax benefits related to these carryforwards are realized in the future, the reduction in the valuation allowance would be applied against income tax expense.

With few exceptions, the Company is no longer subject to U.S. federal or non-U.S. income tax audits by tax authorities for fiscal years ending before June 30, 2001. The years subsequent to fiscal 2000 contain matters that could be subject to differing interpretations of applicable tax laws and regulations as it relates to the amount and/or timing of income, deductions and tax credits. The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) currently has ongoing examinations of open years from 2001 through 2005. Although the outcome of tax audits is always uncertain, the Company believes that adequate amounts of tax and interest have been provided for any adjustments that are expected to result for these years. While it is not currently possible to predict the impact of settlements or other IRS audit activity on income tax expense or cash flows during the next 12 months, the Company does not expect any significant impact on financial position.

In the first quarter of fiscal 2008, the Company is required to adopt the provisions of FIN No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes. FIN No. 48 clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes recognized in the financial statements in accordance with SFAS No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes. This standard also provides that a tax benefit from an uncertain tax position may be recognized when it is more likely than not that the position will be sustained upon examination, including resolutions of any related appeals or litigation processes, based on the technical merits. The amount recognized is measured as the largest amount of tax benefit that is greater than 50% likely of being realized upon settlement. This interpretation also provides guidance on measurement, derecognition, classification, interest and penalties, accounting in interim periods, disclosure and transition. The Company is currently assessing the impact of adopting FIN No. 48 on its consolidated financial statements.

Rental expense relating to operating leases (including those referenced in Note 19) was approximately $117.1 million, $91.7 million and $99.8 million in fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005, respectively. Sublease rental income was not material for any period presented herein.

Legal Proceedings

Shareholder Litigation against Cardinal Health

Since July 2, 2004, multiple purported class action complaints were filed by putative purchasers of the Company's securities against the Company and certain of its current and former officers and directors, asserting claims under the federal securities laws. All of these actions were filed in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio, where, on December 15, 2004, they were consolidated into a single proceeding referred to as In re Cardinal Health, Inc. Federal Securities Litigation (the "Cardinal Health federal securities litigation"). On January 26, 2005, the Court appointed the Pension Fund Group as lead plaintiff. On April 22, 2005, the lead plaintiff filed a consolidated amended complaint naming the Company, certain current and former officers and employees and the Company's external auditors as defendants.

The Cardinal Health federal securities litigation purports to be brought on behalf of all purchasers of the Company's securities during various periods beginning as early as October 24, 2000 and ending as late as July 26, 2004. The consolidated amended complaint alleges, among other things, that the defendants violated Section 10(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"), and Rule 10b-5 promulgated thereunder and Section 20(a) of the Exchange Act by issuing a series of false and/or misleading statements concerning the Company's financial results, prospects and condition. The alleged misstatements relate to the Company's accounting for recoveries relating to antitrust litigation against vitamin manufacturers, classification of revenue in the Company's pharmaceutical supply chain business (formerly referred to as the pharmaceutical distribution business) as either operating revenue or revenue from bulk deliveries to customer warehouses, and other accounting and business model transition issues, including reserve accounting. The alleged misstatements are claimed to have caused an artificial inflation in the Company's stock price during the proposed class period. The consolidated amended complaint seeks unspecified money damages and other unspecified relief against the defendants.

On March 27, 2006, the Court granted a Motion to Dismiss with respect to the Company's external auditors and a former officer and denied the Motion to Dismiss with respect to the Company and the other individual defendants. On December 12, 2006, the parties stipulated that the case could proceed as a class action with a class comprised of all persons other than Company officers or directors who purchased or otherwise acquired the Company's stock during the class period.

The Company entered into a memorandum of understanding effective on May 24, 2007 to settle the Cardinal Health federal securities litigation. Under the memorandum of understanding, the Cardinal Health federal securities litigation will be terminated for a payment of $600 million. The Company established a reserve of $600 million for the quarter ended March 31, 2007 and transferred the $600 million into an escrow account on May 25, 2007. The Company has entered into a stipulation of settlement with counsel for the plaintiffs, which was filed with the Court on July 27, 2007. On July 31, 2007, the Court entered an Order preliminarily approving the settlement.

The defendants in the Cardinal Health federal securities litigation continue to deny the violations of law alleged in the litigation, and the settlement reached is solely to eliminate the uncertainties, burden and expense of further protracted litigation. The final settlement is subject to certain conditions, including notice to the class of plaintiffs in the Cardinal Health federal securities litigation and court approval. At this time, there can be no assurance that all of the conditions for settlement will be met or that the settlement will receive final court approval.

ERISA Litigation against Cardinal Health

Beginning in July 2004, multiple purported class action complaints were filed against the Company and certain of its officers, directors and employees by purported participants in the Cardinal Health Profit Sharing, Retirement and Savings Plan (now known as the Cardinal Health 401(k) Savings Plan, or the Plan). All of these actions were filed in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio, where, on December 15, 2004, they were consolidated into a single proceeding referred to as In re Cardinal Health, Inc. ERISA Litigation (the Cardinal Health ERISA litigation). On January 14, 2005, the Court appointed lead counsel and liaison counsel for the Cardinal Health ERISA litigation. On April 29, 2005, the lead plaintiffs filed a consolidated amended ERISA complaint naming the Company, certain current and former directors, officers and employees, the Company's Employee Benefits Policy Committee and Putnam Fiduciary Trust Company as defendants.

The Cardinal Health ERISA litigation purports to be brought on behalf of participants in the Plan. The consolidated amended complaint alleges that the defendants breached certain fiduciary duties owed under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA), generally asserting that the defendants failed to make full disclosure of the risks to the Plan's participants of investing in the Company's stock, to the detriment of the Plan's participants and beneficiaries, and that Company stock should not have been made available as an investment alternative for the Plan's participants. The misstatements alleged in the Cardinal Health ERISA litigation significantly overlap with the misstatements alleged in the Cardinal Health federal securities litigation. The consolidated amended complaint seeks unspecified money damages and equitable relief against the defendants and an award of attorney's fees.

On March 31, 2006, the Court granted the defendants' Motion to Dismiss the consolidated complaint with respect to Putnam Fiduciary Trust Company (the former trustee of the Plan) and with respect to plaintiffs' claim for equitable relief. The Court denied the remainder of the Motion to Dismiss filed by the Company and certain defendants. On September 8, 2006, the plaintiffs filed a Motion for Class Certification, seeking certification of a class of Plan participants who bought or held Company shares in their Plan accounts between October 24, 2000 and July 2, 2004.

In May 2007, the Company reached an understanding with the counsel for the plaintiffs regarding a proposed settlement of the Cardinal Health ERISA litigation under which the litigation would be terminated for a payment by the Company of $40 million. As a result, the Company recorded a reserve of $40 million for the quarter ended June 30, 2007. On June 21, 2007, the Company entered into a class action settlement agreement with counsel for the plaintiffs. The settlement agreement provides that the Cardinal Health ERISA litigation will be terminated for a payment by the Company to the Plan of $40 million, with the net proceeds of the settlement to be apportioned to the Plan accounts of participants who bought or held Company shares in their Plan accounts between October 24, 2000 and July 2, 2004.

The defendants in the Cardinal Health ERISA litigation continue to deny the violations of law alleged in the litigation, and the settlement reached is solely to eliminate the uncertainties, burden and expense of further protracted litigation. The final settlement is subject to certain conditions, including notice to the class of plaintiffs in the Cardinal Health ERISA litigation, approval by an independent fiduciary on behalf of the Plan and court approval. The Court granted preliminary approval of the settlement on June 28, 2007 and the Company transferred the $40.0 million into an escrow account on June 29, 2007. At this time, there can be no assurance that all of the conditions for settlement will be met or that the settlement will receive final court approval.

Derivative Actions

On November 8, 2002, a complaint was filed by a purported shareholder against the Company and its directors in the Court of Common Pleas, Delaware County, Ohio, as a purported derivative action. Doris Staehr v. Robert D. Walter et al., No. 02-CV-11-639. On or about March 21, 2003, after the defendants filed a Motion to Dismiss the complaint, an amended complaint was filed alleging breach of fiduciary duties and corporate waste in connection with the alleged failure by the Board of Directors of the Company to renegotiate or terminate the Company's proposed acquisition of Syncor, and to determine the propriety of indemnifying Monty Fu, the former Chairman of Syncor. The defendants filed a Motion to Dismiss the amended complaint, and the plaintiffs subsequently filed a second amended complaint that added three new individual defendants and included new allegations that, among other things, the defendants improperly recognized revenue in December 2000 and September 2001 related to settlements with certain vitamin manufacturers. The defendants filed a Motion to Dismiss the second amended complaint, and on November 20, 2003, the Court denied the motion. On May 31, 2006, the plaintiffs filed a third amended complaint, which now mirrors most of the substantive allegations of the consolidated amended complaint filed in the Cardinal Health federal securities litigation. The complaint seeks money damages and equitable relief against the defendant directors and an award of attorney's fees. Discovery has been proceeding.

Since July 1, 2004, three complaints have been filed by purported shareholders against the members of the Company's Board of Directors, certain of the Company's current and former officers and employees and the Company as a nominal defendant in the Court of Common Pleas, Franklin County, Ohio, as purported derivative actions (collectively referred to as the Cardinal Health Franklin County derivative actions). These cases include Donald Bosley v. David Bing et al., No. 04 CV A07-7167, Sam Weitschner v. Dave Bing et al., No. 04 CV C08-8970, and Green Meadow Partners, LLP v. David Bing et al., No. 04 CV H09-9891. The Cardinal Health Franklin County derivative actions allege, among other things, that the individual defendants failed to implement adequate internal controls for the Company and thereby violated their fiduciary duty of good faith, GAAP and the Company's Audit Committee charter. The complaints in the Cardinal Health Franklin County derivative actions seek money damages and equitable relief against the defendant directors and an award of attorney's fees. On November 22, 2004, the Cardinal Health Franklin County derivative actions were transferred to be heard by the same judge. On June 20, 2006, the plaintiffs filed a consolidated amended complaint that raises many of the same substantive allegations as the consolidated amended complaint filed in the Cardinal Health federal securities litigation and the Weed complaint discussed below.

On September 27, 2006, a derivative complaint was filed by a purported shareholder against certain members of the Human Resources and Compensation Committee of the Company's Board of Directors, certain of the Company's current and former officers and the Company as a nominal defendant in the Court of Common Pleas, Franklin County, Ohio, as a purported derivative action. Barry E. Weed v. John F. Havens, et al., No. 06 CV H09 12620. The complaint alleges that the individual defendants breached their fiduciary duties with respect to the timing of the Company's option grants in August 2004 and that the officer defendants were unjustly enriched with respect to such grants. The complaint seeks money damages, disgorgement of options, equitable relief and costs and disbursements of the action, including attorney's fees.

On June 29, 2007, the Company and other parties to litigation described below entered into a memorandum of understanding to settle the Staehr derivative action, the Cardinal Health Franklin County derivative actions and the Weed derivative action (collectively, the Derivative Actions). In addition to the plaintiffs and the Company, the parties to the memorandum of understanding include all individual named defendants in the Derivative Actions, consisting of the following current and former executives and directors: David Bing, George H. Conrades, John F. Finn, Robert L. Gerbig, John F. Havens, J. Michael Losh, John B. McCoy, Richard C. Notebaert, Michael D. O'Halleran, David W. Raisbeck, Jean G. Spaulding, Matthew D. Walter, Robert D. Walter, William E. Bindley, Regina E. Herzlinger, Melburn G. Whitmire, George L. Fotiades, James F. Millar, Mark W. Parrish, Richard J. Miller, Ronald K. Labrum and Anthony J. Rucci.

Under the memorandum of understanding, in full and final settlement of all claims in the Derivative Actions, the individual defendants will cause proceeds from their applicable directors and officers insurance policies totaling $70 million to be paid to the Company, less an amount not more than $12 million as is approved by court order for plaintiffs' attorneys' fees and costs. See the discussion below under the heading "Insurance Coverage for Shareholder/ERISA Litigation against Cardinal Health and Derivative Actions" for more information regarding the insurance proceeds. Upon final court approval of the settlement, the Company expects to recognize its net proceeds from the settlement as income within special items in its consolidated statement of earnings.

The memorandum of understanding further provides that the Company and its board of directors will adopt a corporate governance enhancement requiring the audit committee of the board to meet in executive session with the Company's Chief Financial Officer and Chief Legal Officer no less than annually. Also under the memorandum of understanding, each plaintiff in the Derivative Actions and the Company will grant each of the individual defendants and employees, agents and representatives of the Company a comprehensive release and covenant not to sue, as broad as permissible under the law, that with certain narrow exceptions will cover all claims by or on behalf of the Company that are or could have been asserted in the Derivative Actions that arise out of or in connection with or are related to any of the acts, matters or transactions referred to in the Derivative Actions.

The individual defendants in the Derivative Actions continue to deny the violations of law alleged in those actions, and the settlement will acknowledge that the individual defendants are entering into the settlement solely to eliminate the uncertainties, burden and expense of further protracted litigation. The settlement is subject to completion of definitive documentation and other conditions, including notice to shareholders, approval by all necessary courts and formal, final dismissal of all the Derivative Actions. At this time, there can be no assurance that those conditions will be met or that the settlement will receive final court approval.

In connection with the settlement and in order to consolidate the Cardinal Health Franklin County derivative actions, on July 18, 2007, plaintiffs in these actions filed a joint complaint in the Court of Common Pleas of Delaware County, Ohio that was nearly identical to the consolidated amended complaint plaintiffs had previously filed in the Court of Common Pleas of Franklin County, Ohio. Under procedures discussed with the Delaware County Court, the Company expects that after defendants answer the Delaware County complaint, the Franklin County complaint will be dismissed.

On August 1, 2007, the plaintiff in the Weed derivative action filed a complaint in the Court of Common Pleas for Delaware County, Ohio that was substantially identical to plaintiff's pending Franklin County complaint. The Company expects that after defendants answer the Delaware County complaint, the plaintiff will dismiss the Franklin County action and seek to proceed on a consolidated basis in Delaware County with the Cardinal Health Franklin County derivative actions and the Staehr derivative action both described above.

Insurance Coverage for Shareholder/ERISA Litigation against Cardinal Health and Derivative Actions

Some insurance coverage is available to the Company and individuals who were named as defendants in the legal proceedings described under the headings Shareholder Litigation against Cardinal Health and Derivative Actions. On October 12, 2006, a complaint was filed by the Federal Insurance Company (Federal) against the Company and certain of its current and former members of the board of directors, officers and/or employees in the Court of Common Pleas, Franklin County, Ohio. Federal Insurance Company v. Cardinal Health, Inc., et al., No. 06CVH1013447. Among other things, the complaint sought a determination from the Court of Federal's rights and obligations, if any, under successive directors' and officers' liability insurance policies issued by Federal with respect to the Cardinal Health federal securities litigation and various state-court shareholder derivative lawsuits. The complaint also sought a declaration that no coverage exists with respect to the Cardinal Health ERISA litigation under successive fiduciary liability insurance policies issued by Federal. On January 26, 2007, the Company and the individual defendants filed their respective answers and counterclaims and sought to add additional insurers as counterclaim defendants, leave for which was granted on March 14, 2007. The Company expects to file amended counterclaims against two additional insurance companies. As a result of the settlements described in the following paragraph, Federal, along with the three other settling insurance companies, have been or will be dismissed from the lawsuit.

The Company has entered into settlement agreements with Federal and three other insurance companies. Under these agreements, the four insurance companies have agreed to pay an aggregate amount of $94 million, which would be available as appropriate for the benefit of the Company and the individuals who are defendants in the Cardinal Health federal securities litigation and the Derivative Actions. From the $94 million, $70 million will be used in connection with settling the Derivative Actions. In addition, approximately $4 million of the proceeds was paid to the Company during the fiscal year ended June 30, 2007 to defray previously incurred legal expenses. The Company will not receive or record the remaining $20 million of insurance proceeds unless and until definitive settlement agreements have been finalized and executed and allocation of such proceeds among the defendants has been determined. The Company believes that it has additional insurance coverage available from other carriers to partially satisfy its defense costs and liabilities in these matters, but any such additional coverage is likely to be immaterial in amount.

Shareholder/ERISA Litigation against Syncor

Eleven purported class action lawsuits have been filed against Syncor and certain of its officers and directors, asserting claims under the federal securities laws. All of these actions were filed in the United States District Court for the Central District of California, where they were consolidated into a single proceedings referred to as In re Syncor International Corp. Securities Litigation (the "Syncor federal securities litigation"). The lead plaintiff filed a third amended consolidated complaint on December 29, 2004. The Syncor federal securities litigation purport to be brought on behalf of all purchasers of Syncor shares during various periods, beginning as early as March 30, 2000 and ending as late as November 5, 2002, all prior to the Company's acquisition of Syncor. The litigation alleges, among other things, that the defendants violated Section 10(b) of the Exchange Act and Rule 10b-5 promulgated thereunder and Section 20(a) of the Exchange Act by issuing a series of press releases and public filings disclosing significant sales growth in Syncor's international business, but omitting mention of certain allegedly improper payments to Syncor's foreign customers, thereby artificially inflating the price of Syncor shares. The consolidated complaint seeks unspecified money damages and other unspecified relief against the defendants. Syncor filed a Motion to Dismiss the third amended consolidated complaint on January 31, 2005. On April 15, 2005, the Court granted the Motion to Dismiss with prejudice and the lead plaintiff appealed this decision to the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit. On June 12, 2007, the Ninth Circuit entered an order reversing, in part, the District Court's dismissal of the plaintiffs' claims and remanding the case to the District Court. The order reversed the dismissal of the claims against Syncor and certain individual defendants, including its former Chairman and CEO, and affirmed the dismissal of all other defendants. Syncor filed a Petition for Rehearing on June 26, 2007, which is pending.

A purported class action complaint, captioned Pilkington v. Cardinal Health, et al., was filed on April 8, 2003 against the Company, Syncor and certain officers and employees of the Company by a purported participant in the Syncor Employee Savings and Stock Ownership Plan. A related purported class action complaint, captioned Donna Brown, et al. v. Syncor International Corp, et al., was filed on September 11, 2003 against the Company, Syncor and certain individual defendants. Another related purported class action complaint, captioned Thompson v. Syncor International Corp., et al., was filed on January 14, 2004 against the Company, Syncor and certain individual defendants. Each of these actions was brought in the United States District Court for the Central District of California. A consolidated complaint was filed on February 24, 2004 against Syncor and certain former Syncor officers, directors and/or employees alleging that the defendants breached certain fiduciary duties owed under ERISA based on the same underlying allegations of improper and unlawful conduct alleged in the federal securities litigation. The consolidated complaint seeks unspecified money damages and other unspecified relief against the defendants. On April 26, 2004, the defendants filed Motions to Dismiss the consolidated complaint. On August 24, 2004, the Court granted in part and denied in part defendants' Motions to Dismiss. The Court dismissed, without prejudice, all claims against two individual defendants, all claims alleging co-fiduciary liability against all defendants, and all claims alleging that the individual defendants had conflicts of interest precluding them from properly exercising their fiduciary duties under ERISA. A claim for breach of the duty to prudently manage plan assets against Syncor was not dismissed, and a claim for breach of the alleged duty to monitor the performance of Syncor's Plan Administrative Committee against defendants Monty Fu and Robert Funari was not dismissed. On January 10, 2006, the Court entered summary judgment in favor of all defendants on all remaining claims. Consistent with that ruling, on January 11, 2006, the Court entered a final order dismissing this case and the lead plaintiff appealed this decision to the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit.

It is not currently possible to estimate the amount of loss or range of possible loss that might result from an adverse judgment or a settlement of the proceedings described under the heading Shareholder/ERISA Litigation against Syncor. However, the Company currently does not believe that the impact of these proceedings will have a material adverse effect on the Company's results of operations or financial condition. The Company currently believes that there will be some insurance coverage available under the Company's and Syncor's insurance policies. Such policies are with financially viable insurance companies, and are subject to self-insurance retentions, exclusions, conditions, any potential coverage defenses or gaps, policy limits and insurer solvency.

ICU Litigation

Prior to the completion of the Company's acquisition of Alaris, on June 16, 2004, ICU Medical, Inc. (ICU) filed a patent infringement lawsuit against Alaris in the United States District Court for the Southern District of California. In the lawsuit, ICU claims that the Alaris SmartSite® family of needle-free valves and systems infringes upon ICU patents. ICU seeks monetary damages plus permanent injunctive relief to prevent Alaris from selling SmartSite products. On July 30, 2004, the Court denied ICU's application for a preliminary injunction finding, among other things, that ICU had failed to show a substantial likelihood of success on the merits. During July and August 2006, the Court granted summary judgment to Alaris on three of the four patents asserted by ICU and issued an order interpreting certain claims in certain patents in a manner that could impair ICU's ability to enforce those patents against Alaris. On January 22, 2007, the Court granted summary judgment in favor of Alaris on all of ICU's remaining claims and declared certain of their patent claims invalid. On June 28, 2007, the Court ordered ICU to pay Alaris $4.8 million of attorneys' fees and costs. These decisions are subject to appeal. The Company intends to continue to vigorously defend this action. It is currently not possible to estimate the amount of loss or range of possible loss that might result from an adverse judgment or settlement of this proceeding. However, the Company currently does not believe that this proceeding will have a material adverse effect on the Company's results of operations or financial condition.

SEC Investigation and U.S. Attorney Inquiry

On October 7, 2003, the Company received a request from the SEC, in connection with an informal inquiry, for historical financial and related information, which was subsequently converted into a formal investigation. The SEC's request sought a variety of documentation, including the Company's accounting records for fiscal 2001 through fiscal 2003, as well as notes, memoranda, presentations, e-mail and other correspondence, budgets, forecasts and estimates. On June 21, 2004, as part of the SEC's formal investigation, the Company received an SEC subpoena that included a request for the production of documents relating to revenue classification, and the methods used for such classification, in the Company's pharmaceutical supply chain business as either Operating Revenue or Bulk Deliveries to Customer Warehouses and Other. In addition, the Company learned that the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York had also commenced an inquiry. On October 12, 2004, the Company received a subpoena from the SEC requesting the production of documents relating to compensation information for specific current and former employees and officers of the Company. The Company was notified in April 2005 that certain current and former employees and directors received subpoenas from the SEC requesting the production of documents.

In connection with the SEC's informal inquiry, the Company's Audit Committee commenced its own internal review in April 2004, assisted by independent counsel. This internal review was prompted by documents contained in the production to the SEC that raised issues as to certain accounting and financial reporting matters, including, but not limited to, the establishment and adjustment of certain reserves and their impact on the Company's quarterly earnings. The Audit Committee and its independent counsel also reviewed the revenue classification issue that was the subject of the SEC's June 21, 2004 subpoena and other matters identified in the course of the Audit Committee's internal review. During September and October 2004, the Audit Committee reached certain conclusions with respect to findings from its internal review. In connection with the Audit Committee's conclusions reached in September and October 2004, the Company made certain reclassification and restatement adjustments to its fiscal 2004 and prior historical consolidated financial statements. The Audit Committee's conclusions were disclosed, and the reclassification and restatement adjustments were reflected, in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2004 (the "2004 Form 10-K") and subsequent public reports filed by the Company.

Following the conclusions reached by the Audit Committee in September and October 2004, the Audit Committee began the task of assigning responsibility for the financial statement matters described above which were reflected in the 2004 Form 10-K, and, in January 2005, took disciplinary actions with respect to the Company's employees who it determined bore responsibility for these matters, other than with respect to the accounting treatment of certain recoveries from vitamin manufacturers for which there was a separate Board committee internal review that has been completed (discussed below). The disciplinary actions ranged from terminations or resignations of employment to required repayments of some or all of fiscal 2003 bonuses from certain employees to letters of reprimand. These disciplinary actions affected senior financial and managerial personnel, as well as other personnel, at the corporate level and in the then four business segments. The Audit Committee has completed its determinations of responsibility for the financial statement matters described above which were reflected in the 2004 Form 10-K, although responsibility for matters relating to the Company's accounting treatment of certain recoveries from vitamin manufacturers was addressed by a separate committee of the Board as discussed below.

In connection with the SEC's formal investigation, a committee of the Board of Directors, with the assistance of independent counsel, separately initiated an internal review to assign responsibility for matters relating to the Company's accounting treatment of certain recoveries from vitamin manufacturers. In the 2004 Form 10-K, as part of the Audit Committee's internal review, the Company reversed its previous recognition of estimated recoveries from vitamin manufacturers for amounts overcharged in prior years and recognized the income from such recoveries as a special item in the period in which cash was received from the manufacturers. The SEC staff had previously advised the Company that, in its view, the Company did not have an appropriate basis for recognizing the income in advance of receiving the cash. In August 2005, the separate Board committee reached certain conclusions with respect to findings from its internal review and determined that no additional disciplinary actions were required beyond the disciplinary actions already taken by the Audit Committee, as described above.

On July 26, 2007, the Company announced a settlement with the SEC that concludes, with respect to the Company, the SEC investigation. In connection with the settlement, the SEC filed a complaint against the Company in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York. The complaint alleges violations of several provisions of the federal securities laws, including the anti-fraud provisions, relating principally to the Company's financial reporting and disclosures. The Company agreed, without admitting or denying the allegations of the complaint, to consent to entry of a final judgment to be entered by the Court. The final judgment, which was entered by the Court on August 2, 2007, among other things, enjoined the Company from future violations of the federal securities laws and required the Company to pay a civil penalty of $35 million and retain an independent consultant to review certain company policies and procedures. The Company has paid the civil penalty and retained the independent consultant. The Company had reserved $35 million relating to the settlement of this matter in the quarters ended June 30, 2005 and December 31, 2005.

In July 2007, the Company was informed by the U.S. Attorney's Office that its investigation had been closed.

The settlement with the SEC does not resolve the investigation by the SEC of the activities of certain current and former members of the Company's management, which investigation is ongoing. In January 2007, the Company learned that its Executive Chairman of the Board, as well as four former officers and employees, received Wells notices from the staff of the SEC. Under SEC procedures, a Wells notice indicates that the SEC staff has made a preliminary decision to recommend that the SEC commence a civil or administrative action against the recipient of the notice. The recipient of a Wells notice has the opportunity to respond to the SEC staff before the staff makes its formal recommendation on whether any civil action should be brought by the SEC. The Company is continuing to cooperate with the SEC in this investigation. The outcome of the continuing SEC investigation and any related legal and administrative proceedings could include the institution of administrative or civil injunctive proceedings involving current or former Company employees, officers and/or directors, as well as the imposition of fines and other penalties, remedies and sanctions upon such persons.

Alaris SE Pump Recall

On August 15, 2006, the Company initiated a voluntary field corrective action of its Alaris® SE pump as a result of information indicating that the product had a risk of key bounce associated with keypad entries that could lead to over-infusion of patients. On August 23, 2006, the United States filed a complaint in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of California to effect the seizure of Alaris SE pumps and the Company suspended production, sales, repairs and installation of the pumps after approximately 1,300 units were seized by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (the FDA).

On February 8, 2007, a Consent Decree for Condemnation and Permanent Injunction (the Consent Decree) between the Company and the FDA was entered by the District Court to resolve the seizure litigation. The Consent Decree outlines the steps the Company must take to resume manufacturing and selling Alaris SE pumps in the United States. The steps include submitting a plan to the FDA outlining corrections for the Alaris SE pumps currently in use by customers, submitting a reconditioning plan for the seized Alaris SE pumps, and engaging an independent expert to inspect Alaris SE pump facilities and certify the Company's infusion pump operations. The corrective action and reconditioning plans must be approved by the FDA prior to implementation by the Company. On March 30, 2007, the Company received the FDA's approval of its corrective action plan for the Alaris SE pumps currently in use by customers. On April 19, 2007, the Company received the FDA's approval of its reconditioning plan for the Alaris SE pumps that were seized.

There have been approximately 140,000 Alaris SE pumps distributed worldwide during the past 12 years and the product line currently represents less than 1% of annual revenue for the Clinical Technologies and Services segment. The Company recorded a $13.5 million charge related to this matter during the third quarter of fiscal 2006. The Company has begun taking the steps necessary to comply with the terms of the Consent Decree and does not believe that compliance with the Consent Decree will materially affect its results of operations or financial condition. However, there can be no assurance that additional costs or penalties will not be incurred, the effect of which could be material to the Company's results of operations.

State Attorneys General Investigation related to Repackaged Pharmaceuticals

In October 2005, the Company received a subpoena from the Attorney General's Office of the State of Illinois. The subpoena stated that the Illinois Attorney General's Office is examining whether the Company presented or caused to be presented false claims for payment to the Illinois Medicaid program relating to repackaged pharmaceuticals. The Company received a letter in May 2007 that was sent jointly from the Illinois and New York Attorney General's Offices on behalf of a National Association of Medicaid Fraud Control Units team. The letter alleges that the Company has caused Medicaid reimbursements to be paid for repackaged pharmaceuticals without paying the required Medicaid rebate and alleges that certain of the Company's repackaging business practices violate the Medicaid rebate statute. The letter requests the Company to change these business practices, asks for additional information and asserts potential theories for damages. The Company is providing requested information to the state attorney general offices and is participating in ongoing discussions with these offices regarding this matter, including whether changes to business practices are required. The Company cannot currently predict the outcome of this investigation or its ultimate impact on the Company's business and cannot estimate the amount of loss or range of possible loss.

Other Matters

In addition to the matters described above, the Company also becomes involved from time-to-time in other litigation and regulatory matters incidental to its business, including, without limitation, personal injury claims, employment matters, commercial disputes, intellectual property matters, inclusion of certain of its subsidiaries as a potentially responsible party for environmental clean-up costs, and litigation in connection with acquisitions. The Company intends to vigorously defend itself against such other litigation and does not currently believe that the outcome of any such other litigation will have a material adverse effect on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

The healthcare industry is highly regulated and government agencies continue to scrutinize certain practices affecting government programs and otherwise. From time to time, the Company receives subpoenas or requests for information from various government agencies, including from state attorneys general, the SEC and the U.S. Department of Justice relating to the business, accounting or disclosure practices of customers or suppliers. The Company generally responds to such subpoenas and requests in a timely and thorough manner, which responses sometimes require considerable time and effort, and can result in considerable costs being incurred, by the Company. The Company expects to incur additional costs in the future in connection with existing and future requests.

13. GUARANTEES

The Company has contingent commitments related to certain operating lease agreements (see Note 19). These operating leases consist of certain real estate used in the operations of the Company. In the event of termination of these operating leases, which mature in June 2013, the Company guarantees reimbursement for a portion of any unrecovered property cost. At June 30, 2007, the maximum amount the Company could be required to reimburse was $120.9 million. In accordance with FIN No. 45, "Guarantor's Accounting and Disclosure Requirements for Guarantees, Including Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others", the Company recorded a liability of $2.9 million as of June 30, 2007 related to these agreements. The Company's maximum amount to be reimbursed decreased significantly during fiscal 2007 due to the Company's decision to repurchase certain buildings, equipment and land of approximately $51.2 million which were previously under lease agreements. Of this total amount repurchased, $44.2 million related to the PTS Business.

In the ordinary course of business, the Company, from time to time, agrees to indemnify certain other parties under agreements with the Company, including under acquisition and disposition agreements, customer agreements and intellectual property licensing agreements. Such indemnification obligations vary in scope and, when defined, in duration. In many cases, a maximum obligation is not explicitly stated and, therefore, the overall maximum amount of the liability under such indemnification obligations cannot be reasonably estimated. Where appropriate, such indemnification obligations are recorded as a liability. Historically, the Company has not, individually or in the aggregate, made payments under these indemnification obligations in any material amounts. In certain circumstances, the Company believes that its existing insurance arrangements, subject to the general deduction and exclusion provisions, would cover portions of the liability that may arise from these indemnification obligations. In addition, the Company believes that the likelihood of a material liability being triggered under these indemnification obligations is not significant.

In the ordinary course of business, the Company, from time to time, enters into agreements that obligate the Company to make fixed payments upon the occurrence of certain events. Such obligations primarily relate to obligations arising under acquisition transactions, where the Company has agreed to make payments based upon the achievement of certain financial performance measures by the acquired business. Generally, the obligation is capped at an explicit amount. The Company's aggregate exposure for these obligations, assuming the achievement of all financial performance measures, is not material. Any potential payment for these obligations would be treated as an adjustment to the purchase price of the related entity and would have no impact on the Company's results of operations.

In the ordinary course of business, the Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical segment of the Company, from time to time, extends loans to its customers which are subsequently sold to a bank. The bank services and administers these loans as well as any new loans the Company may direct. In order for the bank to purchase such loans, it requires the absolute and unconditional obligation of the Company to repurchase such loans upon the occurrence of certain events described in the agreement including, but not limited to, borrower payment default that exceeds 90 days, insolvency and bankruptcy. In the event of default, in addition to repurchasing the loans, the Company must repay any premium that was received in advance of the bank's collection of the loan. At June 30, 2007 and 2006, notes in the program subject to the guarantee of the Company totaled $36.7 million and $35.1 million, respectively. At June 30, 2007 and 2006, accruals for premiums received in advance of the bank's collection of notes were $0.8 million and $0.6 million, respectively.

14. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Interest Rate Risk Management. The Company is exposed to the impact of interest rate changes. The Company's objective is to manage the impact of interest rate changes on cash flows and the market value of its borrowings. The Company utilizes a mix of debt maturities along with both fixed-rate and variable-rate debt to manage changes in interest rates. In addition, the Company enters into interest rate swaps to further manage its exposure to interest rate variations related to its borrowings and to lower its overall borrowing costs.

At June 30, 2007, the Company held no pay-fixed interest rate swaps. During fiscal 2007, the Company held six pay-fixed interest rate swaps to hedge the variability of cash flows related to forecasted transactions. Four of these contracts matured through 2012 (2012 Contracts) and the other two contracts matured through 2016 (2016 Contracts). These contracts were all terminated during fiscal 2007, resulting in cash receipts totaling $3.4 million for the 2012 Contracts and cash payments totaling $3.4 million for the 2016 Contracts. The ineffective portion of the 2012 Contracts, totaling a gain of $0.1 million, was recorded in interest expense and other during fiscal 2007. The ineffective portion of the 2016 Contracts, totaling a loss of $0.1 million, was recorded in interest expense and other during fiscal 2007. The remaining amounts that relate to the portion of the contracts that were effective were recorded to other comprehensive income during fiscal 2007, and an adjustment is being recognized in interest expense and other in conjunction with the occurrence of the originally forecasted transactions.

At June 30, 2006, the Company held no pay-fixed interest rate swaps. The pay-fixed interest rate swaps held at June 30, 2005 were terminated in September 2005 as the forecasted transactions related to the swaps did not occur at that time, and thus, a portion of each of the contracts became ineffective. The termination of these contracts resulted in a cash receipt of $1.2 million. The ineffective portion of the contracts, totaling less than a $0.1 million loss, was recorded in interest expense and other during fiscal 2006. During fiscal 2006, the Company held two other pay-fixed interest rate swaps to hedge the variability of cash flows related to forecasted transactions. These contracts matured through 2010 and 2017, respectively. These contracts were also terminated resulting in a cash receipt of $12.7 million. The ineffective portion of the contracts, totaling a gain of $2.7 million, was recorded in interest expense and other during fiscal 2006. The remaining amounts that relate to the portion of the contracts that were effective were recorded to other comprehensive income during fiscal 2006, and an adjustment is being recognized in interest expense and other in conjunction with the occurrence of the originally forecasted transactions.

The Company also holds pay-floating interest rate swaps to hedge the change in fair value of the fixed-rate debt related to fluctuations in interest rates. These contracts are classified as fair value hedges and mature through June 2017. The gain/(loss) recorded on the pay-floating interest rate swaps is directly offset by the change in fair value of the underlying debt. Both the derivative instrument and the underlying debt are adjusted to market value at the end of each period with any resulting gain/(loss) recorded in interest expense and other.

The following table shows the notional amount hedged and fair value of the interest rate swaps outstanding at June 30, 2007 and 2006 included in other assets/liabilities (in millions). The net gains/(losses) for pay-floating interest rate swaps recognized through interest expense and other during fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005 were approximately $(11.2) million, $(6.4) million, and $22.7 million, respectively.

The Company had net deferred gains on pay-fixed interest rate swaps of $0.9 million and $0.8 million recorded in other comprehensive income at June 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively. During fiscal 2007, the Company incurred losses of $0.3 million. During fiscal 2006, the Company incurred gains of less than $0.1 million. During fiscal 2005 the Company recognized losses of approximately $0.7 million within interest expense and other related to these interest rate swaps.

The counterparties to these contracts are major financial institutions and the Company does not have significant exposure to any one counterparty. Management believes the risk of loss is remote and in any event would not be material.

Currency Risk Management. The Company conducts business in several major international currencies and is subject to risks associated with changing foreign exchange rates. The Company's objective is to reduce earnings and cash flow volatility associated with foreign exchange rate changes to allow management to focus its attention on its business operations. Accordingly, the Company enters into various contracts that change in value as foreign exchange rates change to protect the value of existing foreign currency assets and liabilities, commitments and anticipated foreign currency revenue and expenses. The gains and losses on these contracts offset changes in the value of the underlying transactions as they occur.

At June 30, 2007 and 2006, the Company held forward contracts expiring through June 2008 and June 2007, respectively, to hedge probable, but not firmly committed, revenue and expenses. These hedging contracts are classified as cash flow hedges and, accordingly, are adjusted to current market values through other comprehensive income until the underlying transactions are recognized. Upon recognition, such gains and losses are recorded in operations as an adjustment to the recorded amounts of the underlying transactions in the period in which these transactions are recognized. The principal currencies hedged are the Canadian dollar, European euro, Mexican peso, Thai baht, British pound, and Australian dollar.

The Company also held other forward contracts expiring through December 2013 at June 30, 2007 and 2006 to manage its foreign exchange exposure of foreign currency assets and liabilities subject to revaluation. These instruments do not meet the requirements for hedge accounting treatment and are adjusted to current market values through interest expense and other.

The following table represents the notional amount hedged and the value of the forward contracts outstanding at June 30, 2007 and 2006 included in other assets or liabilities (in millions):

| | | June 30, 2007 | June 30, 2006 |
|-------------------|------------------|--------------------------|--------------------------|
| Forward contracts | cash flow hedge: | | |
| Notional amount | | $ 300.2 | $ 264.2 |
| Assets | | 1.8 | 1.8 |

| | | |
| Assets | | 0.8 |

- (1) Forward contracts – other – refers to forward contracts used to manage the Company’s foreign exchange exposure of intercompany financing transactions and other balance sheet items subject to revaluation which do not meet the requirements for hedge accounting treatment. The amount of net losses related to these instruments recognized through interest expense and other during fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005 were approximately $19.5 million, $9.7 million, and $12.4 million, respectively. The income/(loss) recorded on these instruments is substantially offset by the remeasurement adjustment on the foreign currency denominated asset or liability.

The settlement of the derivative instrument and the remeasurement adjustment on the foreign currency denominated asset or liability are both recorded in interest expense and other at the end of each period.

At June 30, 2007, the Company had net deferred losses related to forward contract cash flow hedges of $3.5 million as compared to net deferred losses of $4.6 million at June 30, 2006. These gains and losses were recorded in other comprehensive income. During fiscal 2007, the Company recognized losses of approximately $2.9 million within net earnings related to these forward contracts. During fiscal 2006, the Company recognized gains of approximately $6.9 million within net earnings related to these forward contracts. The Company did not recognize any material gains/(losses) related to contracts that were not effective or forecasted transactions that did not occur during fiscal 2007 and 2006.

The counterparties to these contracts are major financial institutions and the Company does not have significant exposure to any one counterparty. Management believes the risk of loss is remote and in any event would not be material.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments. The carrying amounts of cash and equivalents, trade receivables, accounts payable, notes payable-banks, other short-term borrowings and other accrued liabilities at June 30, 2007 and 2006, approximate their fair value because of the short-term maturities of these items.

Cash balances are invested in accordance with the Company's investment policy. These investments are exposed to market risk from interest rate fluctuations and credit risk from the underlying issuers, although this is mitigated through diversification.

The estimated fair value of the Company's long-term obligations was $3,475.5 million and $2,783.6 million as compared to the carrying amounts of $3,473.3 million and $2,787.6 million at June 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively. The fair value of the Company's long-term obligations is estimated based on either the quoted market prices for the same or similar issues and the current interest rates offered for debt of the same remaining maturities or estimated discounted cash flows.

The following is a summary of the fair value gain/(loss) of the Company's derivative instruments, based upon the estimated amount that the Company would receive (or pay) to terminate the contracts as of June 30, 2007 and 2006 (in millions). The fair values are based on quoted market prices for the same or similar instruments.

|------------------------------------|----------------------------|-----------------------------------|----------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| | Notional Amount | Fair Value Gain/(Loss) | Notional Amount | Fair Value Gain/(Loss) |
| Foreign currency forward contracts | $ 1,117.8 | $ (21.8) | $ 1,044.1 | $ (17.5) |
| Interest rate swaps | 1,250.0 | (68.7) | 877.8 | (75.0) |

15. SHAREHOLDERS' EQUITY

At June 30, 2007 and 2006, the Company's authorized capital shares consisted of the following: 750 million common shares, without par value (Class A common shares); 5 million Class B common shares, without par value (Class B common shares); and 0.5 million non-voting preferred shares, without par value. The Class A common shares and Class B common shares are collectively referred to below as Common Shares. Holders of Common Shares are entitled to share equally in any dividends declared by the Company's Board of Directors and to participate equally in all distributions of assets upon liquidation. Generally, the holders of Class A common shares are entitled to one vote per share and the holders of Class B common shares are entitled to one-fifth of one vote per share on proposals presented to shareholders for vote. 17. SEGMENT INFORMATION

The Company's operations are principally managed on a products and services basis. As discussed above in Note 1, during the first quarter of fiscal 2007, the Company realigned its operations into the following reportable segments: Healthcare Supply Chain Services Pharmaceutical; Healthcare Supply Chain Services Medical; Clinical Technologies and Services; Pharmaceutical Technologies and Services and Medical Products Manufacturing. This change in segment reporting resulted from a realignment of the individual businesses to better correlate the operations of the Company with the needs of its customers. The factors for determining the reportable segments included the manner in which management evaluates the performance of the Company combined with the nature of the individual business activities. In accordance with SFAS No. 131, Disclosures about Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information, all prior period segment information was reclassified to conform to this new financial reporting presentation.

During the second quarter of fiscal 2007, the Company committed to plans to sell the PTS Business thereby meeting the held for sale criteria set forth in SFAS No. 144. The Company completed the sale of the PTS Business during the fourth quarter of fiscal 2007. In accordance with SFAS No. 144 and EITF Issue No. 03-13, the assets and liabilities of the PTS Business are presented separately as held for sale in prior periods and the operating results are presented within discontinued operations for all periods. As a result of the sale of the PTS Business, the Company's remaining reportable segments are: Healthcare Supply Chain Services – Pharmaceutical; Healthcare Supply Chain Services – Medical; Clinical Technologies and Services; and Medical Products Manufacturing. Prior period results were adjusted to reflect this change. See Note 8 for additional information.

The Healthcare Supply Chain Services – Pharmaceutical segment provides logistics services to the pharmaceutical industry, distributing products and providing services to retail, alternate care and hospital pharmacies. These services include a pharmaceutical repackaging and distribution program for independent and chain drug store customers as well as alternate care customers in the mail order business. This segment also operates centralized nuclear pharmacies, provides third-party logistics support services, distributes therapeutic plasma to hospitals, clinics and other providers located in the United States and manufactures and markets generic pharmaceutical products for sale to hospitals, clinics and pharmacies in the United Kingdom. This segment also operates a specialty pharmacy and franchises and operates apothecary-style retail pharmacies.

The Healthcare Supply Chain Services – Medical segment provides integrated supply chain and logistics solutions to healthcare customers in the United States and Canada. These solutions include sterile and non-sterile kitting and distribution of medical surgical products into hospitals, surgery centers, laboratories and physician offices.

The Clinical Technologies and Services segment develops, manufactures, leases and sells medical technologies products for hospitals and other healthcare providers, including intravenous medication safety and infusion therapy delivery systems, software applications, needle-free disposables and related patient monitoring equipment and dispensing systems that automate the distribution and management of medications in hospitals and other healthcare facilities. The segment also develops, manufactures, leases and sells dispensing systems for medical supplies and provides pharmacy services and clinical intelligence solutions.

The Medical Products Manufacturing segment develops, manufactures and sources medical and surgical products for distribution to hospitals, physician offices, surgery centers and other healthcare providers.

The following table includes revenue for each reportable segment and reconciling items necessary to agree to amounts reported in the condensed consolidated financial statements for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2007, 2006 and 2005 (in millions):

Segment SG&A expenses include allocated corporate expenses for shared functions, including corporate management, corporate finance, financial shared services, human resources, information technology, legal and legislative affairs and the integrated sales organization. Corporate expenses are allocated to the segments based upon headcount, level of benefit provided and ratable allocation. Information about interest income and expense and income taxes is not provided at the segment level. In addition, special items, impairment charges and other and investment spending are not allocated to the segments (see below for an explanation of investment spending). See Note 3 for further discussion of the Company's special items and impairment charges and other. The accounting policies of the segments are the same as those described in the summary of significant accounting policies.

In addition, equity-based compensation has been allocated to the segments based upon the forecasted equity-based compensation expense for the respective segment plus one-fourth of the forecasted equity-based compensation expense for corporate. Prior period information has been adjusted to reflect these changes in methodology.
- (2) Equity-based compensation expense was $138.1 million, $207.8 million and $8.5 million, respectively, for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2007, 2006 and 2005.
- (3) During the first quarter of fiscal 2006, the Healthcare Supply Chain Services - Pharmaceutical segment recorded a charge of $31.8 million reflecting credits owed to certain vendors for prior periods. - (4) During the third quarter of fiscal 2007, the Company revised the method used to allocate certain shared costs between the Healthcare Supply Chain Services – Medical segment and the Medical Products Manufacturing segment to better align costs with the segment that receives the related benefits. Prior period information has been reclassified to conform to this new presentation.
- (5) During fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005, corporate operating earnings include special items, impairment charges and other and certain other Corporate investment spending described below:
- (a) Special items: Corporate operating earnings include special items of $772.0 million, $80.5 million and $141.5 million for fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005, respectively (see Note 3 for discussion of special items).

18. EMPLOYEE EQUITY AND SAVINGS PLANSEmployee Equity Plans

The Company maintains several stock incentive plans (collectively, the Plans) for the benefit of certain of its officers, directors and employees. Prior to fiscal 2006, employee options granted under the Plans typically vested in full on the third anniversary of the grant date and were exercisable for periods up to ten years from the date of grant at a price equal to the fair market value of the Common Shares underlying the option at the date of grant. Employee options granted under the Plans during fiscal 2007 and 2006 generally vest in equal annual installments over four years and are exercisable for periods up to seven years from the date of grant at a price equal to the fair market value of the Common Shares underlying the option at the date of grant. Under the Plans the Company currently utilizes for equity award grants, the Company was authorized to grant up to 19.5 million shares as of June 30, 2007, of which 6.9 million shares have been granted.

During the first quarter of fiscal 2006, the Company adopted SFAS No. 123(R), Share-Based Payment, applying the modified prospective method. This Statement requires all equity-based payments to employees, including grants of employee options, to be recognized in the consolidated statement of earnings based on the grant date fair value of the award. Under the modified prospective method, the Company is required to record equity-based compensation expense for all awards granted after the date of adoption and for the unvested portion of previously granted awards outstanding as of the date of adoption.

The fair values of options granted after the Company adopted this Statement were determined using a lattice valuation model and all options granted prior to adoption of this Statement were valued using a Black-Scholes model. The Company believes the lattice model provides for better estimates as it has the ability to take into account employee exercise patterns based on changes in the Company's stock price and other variables and it provides for a range of input assumptions. In anticipation of the adoption of SFAS No. 123(R), the Company did not modify the terms of any previously-granted options.

The fair values of restricted shares and restricted share units is determined by the number of shares granted and the grant date market price of the Company's Common Shares. The compensation expense recognized for all equity-based awards is net of estimated forfeitures and is recognized using the straight-line method over the awards' service period. In accordance with SAB No. 107, the Company classified equity-based compensation within selling, general and administrative expenses to correspond with the same line item as the majority of the cash compensation paid to employees.

In accordance with FASB Staff Position No. FAS 123(R)-3, Transition Election Related to Accounting for the Tax Effects of Share-Based Payment Awards, issued in November 2005, the Company elected the specified shortcut method to calculate its beginning pool of additional paid-in capital related to equity-based compensation. This accounting policy election had no impact on the Company's financial statements.

The following table illustrates the impact of equity-based compensation on reported amounts for the fiscal years ended June 30, 2007 and 2006 (in millions, except per share amounts):

| | 2007 | | 2006 | |
|---------------------------------------|---------------------|---------------------|---------------------|---------------------|

| | Equity-Based | | Equity-Based | |

| Net diluted earnings per Common Share | 4.77 | (0.28) | 2.33 | (0.37) |

- (1) The total equity-based compensation expense for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2007 and 2006 includes gross stock appreciation rights (SARs) expense of approximately $4.0 million and $36.9 million, respectively. The SARs were granted on August 3, 2005 to the Company's then Chairman and Chief Executive Officer. Equity-based compensation expense was recognized from the vesting of the SARs upon issuance with an exercise price below the then-current price of the Company's common Shares. In quarters subsequent to issuing the SARs, the fair value has been remeasured using a Black-Scholes model and will continue to be remeasured each quarter until the unexercised SARs are exercised. Any increase in fair value is recorded as equity-based compensation. Any decrease in the fair value of the SARs is only recognized to the extent of the expense previously recorded.

In the fourth quarter of fiscal 2007, 0.6 million of the 1.0 million SARs outstanding were exercised. Based upon the terms of the agreement, the benefit will be deferred until six months following the termination of employment and will be credited with interest at the Prime Rate from the date of exercise until the payment date.

The total equity-based compensation expense for the year ended June 30, 2007 and 2006 also includes gross restricted share and restricted share unit expense of approximately $36.2 million and $22.0 million, respectively, gross employee option expense of approximately $88.4 million and $138.5 million, respectively, and gross employee stock purchase plan expense of approximately $9.5 million and $10.4 million, respectively.

- (3) Equity-based compensation charged to discontinued operations was approximately $24.0 million and $22.2 million, net of tax benefits of $12.5 million and $11.9 million during fiscal 2007 and 2006, respectively.
- (4) Fiscal 2006 equity-based compensation expense includes approximately $15.3 million related to the acceleration of the vesting conditions for all unvested equity awards held by the Company's Executive Chairman of the Board. The acceleration of the equity-based compensation resulted from the second amended and restated employment agreement, dated April 17, 2006, which relinquished the service period related to his outstanding unvested equity awards.

2007 and June 30, 2006 are approximately $493.8 million and $462.9 million, respectively. The aggregate intrinsic value of options exercisable at June 30, 2007 and June 30, 2006 are approximately $228.1 million and $216.2 million, respectively. The weighted average fair value of options granted during fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005 are $21.29, $18.79, and $16.89, respectively. Total equity-based compensation expense, net of estimated forfeitures, related to unvested stock options not yet recognized as of June 30, 2007 and 2006 was $103.0 million and $131.3 million, respectively.

The fair values of the options granted to the Company's employees and directors during fiscal 2007 and fiscal 2006 were estimated on the date of grant using a lattice valuation model. The lattice valuation model incorporates ranges of assumptions that are disclosed in the table below. The risk-free rate is based on the United States Treasury yield curve at the time of the grant. The Company analyzed historical data to estimate option exercise behaviors and employee terminations to be used within the lattice model. The Company calculated separate option valuations for three separate groups of employees with similar historical exercise behaviors. The expected life of the options granted was calculated from the option valuation model and represents the length of time in years that the options granted are expected to be outstanding. The range of expected lives in the table below results from the separate groups of employees identified by the Company based on their option exercise behaviors. Expected volatilities are based on implied volatility from traded options on the Company's Common Shares and historical volatility over a period of time commensurate with the contractual term of the option grant (7 years). The following table provides the range of assumptions used for options valued during fiscal 2007 and 2006:

|-------------------------|---------------|---------------|
| Risk-free interest rate | 4.5% - 5.1% | 3.3% - 5.1% |
| Expected life in years | 5.7 - 7.0 | 5.6 - 7.0 |
| Expected volatility | 27.0% | 20.9% - 27.0% |
| Dividend yield | 0.50% - 0.69% | 0.32% - 0.55% |

The fair value of the options granted to Company employees and directors during fiscal 2005 were estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model with the following assumptions for grants:

| | 2005 |
|-------------------------|-------------|
| Risk-free interest rate | 3.5% |
| Expected life in years | 5 |
| Expected volatility | 38.0% |
| Dividend yield | 0.27% |

The Company's restricted shares and share units are expensed over the awards' service period, generally three years. CARDINAL HEALTH, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIESNOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (Continued)*Fair Value Disclosures Prior to adopting SFAS No. 123(R)

Prior to the first quarter of fiscal 2006, the Company accounted for equity-based awards in accordance with APB No. 25, and related interpretations. Except for costs related to restricted shares, restricted share units, stock appreciation rights and an insignificant number of amended options requiring a new measurement date, no compensation expense was recognized in net earnings, as all options granted had an exercise price equal to the market value of the underlying stock on the date of grant. The following tables illustrate the effect on net earnings (in millions) and earnings per share for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2005 if the Company adopted the fair value recognition provisions of SFAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation :

| Equity-based employee compensation expense, included in net earnings, net of related tax effects | 6.3 |

(1) The total equity-based employee compensation expense was adjusted to include net employee stock purchase plan expense of $7.5 million for fiscal 2005.

(2) The Company used the treasury stock method when calculating diluted earnings per Common Share as presented in the table above. Under the treasury stock method, diluted shares outstanding were adjusted for the weighted-average unrecognized compensation component if the Company had used SFAS No. 123.

Employee Savings Plan

Substantially all of the Company's domestic non-union employees are eligible to be enrolled in Company-sponsored contributory profit sharing and retirement savings plans, which include features under Section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and provide for Company matching and profit sharing contributions. The Company's contributions to the plans are determined by the Board of Directors subject to certain minimum requirements as specified in the plans. The total expense for employee retirement benefit plans was $107.8 million, $112.5 million and $73.7 million for fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005, respectively.

19. OFF-BALANCE SHEET ARRANGEMENTS

The Company periodically enters into certain off-balance sheet arrangements, primarily receivable sales and operating leases, in order to maximize diversification of funding and return on assets. The receivable sales, as described below, also provide for the transfer of credit risk to third parties.

CARDINAL HEALTH, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIESNOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (Continued)Lease Receivable-Related Arrangements

A subsidiary of the Company has agreements to transfer ownership of certain equipment lease receivables, plus security interests in the related equipment, to the leasing subsidiary of a bank. In order to qualify for sale treatment under SFAS No. 140, Accounting for Transfers and Servicing of Financial Assets and Extinguishments of Liabilities, the Company formed wholly-owned, special purpose, bankruptcy-remote subsidiaries (the Pyxis SPEs) of its subsidiary, Cardinal Health Solutions, Inc. (Pyxis), and each of the Pyxis SPEs formed wholly-owned, qualified special purpose subsidiaries (the QSPEs) to effectuate the removal of the lease receivables from the Company's consolidated financial statements. In accordance with SFAS No. 140, the Company consolidates the Pyxis SPEs and does not consolidate the QSPEs. Both the Pyxis SPEs and QSPEs are separate legal entities that maintain separate financial statements from the Company and Pyxis. The assets of the Pyxis SPEs and QSPEs are available first and foremost to satisfy the claims of their respective creditors.

Other Receivable-Related Arrangements

Cardinal Health Funding, LLC (CHF) was organized for the sole purpose of buying receivables and selling undivided interests in those receivables to multi-seller conduits administered by third-party banks or other third-party investors. CHF was designed to be a special purpose, bankruptcy-remote entity. Although consolidated in accordance with GAAP, CHF is separate legal entity from the Company, and the Company's subsidiary that sells and contributes the receivables to CHF. The sale of receivables by CHF qualifies for sales treatment under SFAS No. 140 and accordingly the receivables are not included in the Company's consolidated financial statements.

At June 30, 2007 and 2006, the Company had a committed receivables sales facility program available through CHF with capacity to sell $800.0 million in receivables. Recourse is provided under the program by the requirement that CHF retain a percentage subordinated interest in the sold receivables. In October 2006, the Company repurchased the aggregate $550.0 million of receivable interests under its committed receivables sales facility program. On October 31, 2006, the Company renewed the receivables sales facility program for a period of one year. During the third quarter of fiscal 2006, the Company sold and subsequently repurchased $150.0 million of receivable interests under this receivable sales facility program. The Company did not have any receivable interest sales outstanding under its receivables sales facility program at June 30, 2007 and had $550.0 million of receivable interest sales at June 30, 2006. The Company provided a security interest in its residual interest in the receivables of $265.5 million at June 30, 2006, as required under this program.

Cash Flows from all Receivable-Related Arrangements

The Company's net cash flow increase / (decrease) related to receivable interest transfers for fiscal 2007, 2006 and 2005 were as follows (in millions):

| | 2007 | 2006 | 2005 |
|---|------|----------|----------|
| Proceeds received on transfer of receivables interests | $ | $ 150.0 | $ 550.0 |
| Cash collected in servicing of related receivable interests | 1.0 | 2.2 | 3.9 |
| Proceeds received on subordinated interests | | | 1.9 |

| | | | |
|--|------------|------------|----------|
| Cash inflow to the Company | $ 1.0 | $ 152.2 | $ 555.8 |
| Repurchase of receivable interests | (550.0) | (150.0) | |
| Cash collection remitted to the bank | (99.6) | (161.2) | (224.6) |
| Cash collection remitted to QSPE | | | (1.9) |
| Net benefit to the Company's Cash Flow | $ (648.6) | $ (159.0) | $ 329.3 |

Pyxis and CHF were required to repurchase any receivables or interests sold only if it was determined the representations and warranties with regard to the related receivables were not accurate on the date sold.

CARDINAL HEALTH, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIESNOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (Continued)Operating Leases

The Company has entered into an operating lease agreement with a third-party bank for the construction of various facilities and equipment. The lease agreement matures in June 2013. In the event of termination, the Company is required (at its election) to either repurchase the facility or vacate the property and make reimbursement for a portion of any unrecovered property cost. The maximum portion of unrecovered property costs that the Company could be required to reimburse was $120.9 million at June 30, 2007. As of June 30, 2007, the amount expended to acquire and/or construct the facilities was $151.2 million. The agreement provides for maximum funding of $245.0 million, which is currently greater than the estimated cost to complete the construction projects. The required lease payments equal the interest expense for the period on the amounts drawn.

During fiscal 2007, the Company repurchased certain buildings, equipment and land of approximately $51.2 million which were previously under operating lease agreements. Of this total amount repurchased, approximately $44.2 million related to the PTS Business. Lease payments under the agreements are based primarily upon LIBOR and are subject to interest rate fluctuations. As of June 30, 2007, the weighted average interest rate on the agreements approximated 6.25%. The Company's estimated minimum annual lease payments under the agreements at June 30, 2007 were approximately $9.5 million.
