financial highlights
summary

Demand for coated paper continued to grow in our major markets in the quarter supported by strong growth in advertising spending. Apparent consumption of coated fine paper increased 9.7% in North America and 9.1% in Europe compared to the same quarter last year. Although apparent consumption in North America grew strongly year on year it showed a typical seasonal decline, compared to the September quarter, of 7.5%.

Prices realised by our North American business continued to improve. In Europe, however, prices did not increase in local currency but reflected a significant increase in US Dollar terms due to the weakening of the US Dollar.

Pulp prices softened in the early part of the quarter, however, softwood pulp prices at the end of the period had returned to levels similar to September 2004 and hardwood pulp prices had increased to slightly higher levels than September 2004. The average price for softwood pulp during the quarter was 9% below the September quarter and for hardwood was slightly higher. A number of factors offset the benefits of the improved market conditions. Raw material input cost pressure continued particularly in respect of wood costs in North America and energy and energy related costs.

The Rand strengthened a further 5% on average to the US Dollar compared to the September 2004 quarter, further squeezing the margins of our South African businesses as a result of lower Rand price realisation and most of the businesses' costs being incurred in Rands. At quarter end the Rand/Dollar exchange rate was R5.65, almost 7% stronger than the average for the quarter and 14% stronger than the end of the prior quarter. It has since lost some ground and is almost back to the average level of the first quarter. Our southern African business has done well to offset the near doubling in the value of the currency since December 2001.

In our 2004 annual report we anticipated that certain of our Southern African operations would incur losses in the new financial year at prevailing exchange rates. Accounting Standard IAS 36 (AC128) - Impairment of Assets requires us to evaluate potential impairment of assets using the quarter end exchange rate. Our Usutu mill reported operating losses in the quarter and is very sensitive to currency movements. At the very strong quarter end rate of R5.65 to the US Dollar, the mill does not meet its cost of capital at the period end cost of capital and projected prices.

We have therefore recorded an impairment charge of US$41 million in the quarter. Plans are in place to improve the mill's productivity in the face of the stronger exchange rate. The mill has a valuable plantation resource and when the currency turns it will have good prospects of returning to profitability.

As anticipated last quarter, mill shut costs, which amounted to some US$20 million, had a further impact on operating profit in the quarter.

Headline earnings per share was 6 US cents, compared to a loss per share of 11 US cents in the equivalent quarter last year. After the asset impairment charge the loss per share for the quarter was 13 US cents. The loss in the equivalent quarter last year included pre-tax charges of US$29 million related to the closure of a paper machine at Westbrook Mill and staff reduction. The gain at the operating profit level from the fair value adjustment on plantations, net after fellings, was US$14 million for the quarter, largely as a result of wood price increases, compared to US$8 million for the equivalent quarter last year.

Net finance costs of US$29 million for the quarter were slightly higher than a year ago. As indicated last quarter, we incurred a US$8 million deferred tax charge on dividends in the quarter, in terms of the new accounting standard for Secondary Tax on Companies (STC). The charge is recorded when the annual dividend is declared. Our STC credits are now recorded as deferred tax assets. The Usutu asset impairment was not tax effected.

Cash generated by operations was US$137 million, 29.2% higher than a year earlier as a result of improved operating conditions.

Working capital increased by US$149 million in the quarter, mainly as a result of a seasonal decrease in payables, additional inventory arising from scheduling problems in North America and the annual prepayment of group insurance.

Capital expenditure was US$78 million in the quarter representing approximately 72% of the depreciation charge for the quarter. We also paid our equity contribution of approximately US$60 million to a new Chinese joint venture in December.

During the quarter a wholly owned subsidiary repurchased 1.25 million Sappi shares at an average price of US$12.66 per share.

Our fine paper business continued to have strong order inflow. Its margins, however, were negatively affected by logistics issues in North America, by low price realisation, although this is improving in North America, by upward pressure on input costs and in southern Africa by the strength of the Rand relative to the US Dollar.

Our European business' total sales volume of 611,000 tons increased only slightly compared to the prior quarter. Compared with the equivalent quarter last year our shipments of coated fine paper grades into Europe grew by 7%, while apparent consumption for the whole market was up 9%. We declined some business, particularly in export markets, because of low margins.

The margin of operating profit to sales improved slightly in the quarter compared to the prior quarter despite flat pricing. In large part this is a result of improved volumes combined with lower purchased pulp costs but offset by increases in other raw material costs.

We continue to combat rising costs through improving efficiency and product design optimisation, and are achieving administration cost efficiency through synergies between certain of our mills.

Our coated fine paper shipments from US mills grew by 10% in the quarter compared to a year ago, in line with demand growth. Pulp sales declined in line with higher internal consumption and as a result of the Somerset pulp mill outage. Compared to the September quarter our business experienced a seasonal decline similar to the seasonal apparent consumption decline. Average prices realised were approximately 9% higher than a year ago partly as a result of the mix of pulp and paper. Further increases in price realisation are expected in the second financial quarter.

The benefits of strong market conditions were offset in the quarter by the anticipated high mill shut costs and high wood, energy and other raw material costs. The shut and repair costs were approximately US$12 million in the quarter and the effect of higher prices on wood, energy and other raw material costs was approximately US$16 million compared to a year ago.

A number of problems relating to scheduling and inventory management manifested themselves in high delivery costs in the quarter. The issues have been clearly identified and action plans are in place to reduce these and other costs. We expect these plans to result in cost reductions of US$30 million in the balance of the year and we see the potential for reductions at an annualised run rate of US$50 million by the end of the year, compared to our first financial quarter.

Our South African fine paper business' sales volume for the quarter increased 8% compared to a year ago. The strength of the Rand continues to result in a margin squeeze. Nevertheless, our profit improvement projects which include pricing, material usage and productivity improvements, contributed to a good performance.

\ Operating profit for the quarter ended December 2004 reduced by US$41 million in respect of asset impairment*

Our Forest Products business performed well despite the massive pressure from the relative strength of the Rand. Demand for our products in both the southern African and international markets was strong and our volumes of pulp and paper sold increased slightly compared to a year ago. Our chemical cellulose business in particular had strong demand.

Prices realised in local currency terms continue to be impacted by the strength of the Rand relative to the US Dollar, which continues to squeeze margins.

We have effective programmes to reduce fixed and variable costs. As a result total costs per ton in local currency were 5.4% below the equivalent quarter last year.

Usutu Mill, which exports all of its output of unbleached pulp and is particularly sensitive to currency movements, reported operating losses. At the December end rate of R5.65 per US Dollar, projections for the mill indicate an impaired asset. The mill, which has a valuable plantation resource, has plans in place to improve efficiency and productivity. The recent announcement of the closure of the Usutu's second largest competitor representing 5% of the market for unbleached pulp, is expected to have a favourable impact on operating rates and therefore the pricing of unbleached pulp.

The market outlook for our major products is positive. Demand for coated fine paper continues to grow on the back of good economic growth and increased advertising spending in the major markets and on the supply side there is limited new capacity on the horizon. This positive demand and supply scenario is leading to higher operating rates, which will support price increases in our major markets.

We will continue to experience headwinds as a result of a strong Rand relative to the US Dollar and high energy and other raw material costs including high wood costs in North America. To counteract these pressures we have active profit improvement plans in each of our businesses, with a particular focus on improving the efficiency of our logistics in North America.

Although we are faced with a buoyant Rand and cost increases, we are positive about the outlook for the balance of this year and we expect our headline earnings per share for the second financial quarter to be similar to the earnings per share reported in the equivalent quarter last year.

1. Basis of preparation

The annual financial statements are prepared in conformity with South African Statements of Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (SA GAAP). These quarterly results have been prepared in compliance with AC 127 (Interim financial reporting) and are based on accounting policies which are consistent with those used in the annual financial statements. The same accounting policies have been followed as in the annual financial statements for September 2004, except for the new accounting standard AC 501 - Accounting for "Secondary Tax on Companies (STC)" - which became effective from the beginning of the current financial year. This has resulted in the recognition of a deferred tax asset for unused tax credits to the extent that they will be utilised in the future.

The adoption of the new accounting policy resulted in an increase in shareholders' equity of US$38 million at September 2004 (September 2003: increase of US$38 million). The effect on net profit for the current quarter is a decrease of US$8 million (September 2004 quarter: no effect; December 2003 quarter: decrease of US$3 million). Where appropriate, comparative figures have been restated.

The preliminary results for the quarter have been reviewed in terms of South African Auditing Standards by the group's auditors, Deloitte & Touche. Their unqualified review report is available for inspection at the company's registered offices.

2. Comparative figures

Certain comparative amounts have been reclassified between deferred tax and current tax. This had no effect on reported net income or shareholders' equity.

Earnings before interest (net finance costs), tax, depreciation and amortisation.

EBITDA for the quarter ended December 2004 reduced by US$ 41 million in respect of asset impairments.

In connection with the U.S. Securities Exchange Commission ("SEC") rules relating to "Conditions for Use of Non-GAAP Financial Measures", we have reconciled EBITDA to net profit rather than operating profit. As a result our definition retains other income/expenses as part of EBITDA.

We use EBITDA as an internal measure of performance and believe it is a useful and commonly used measure of financial performance in addition to operating profit and other profitability measures under SA GAAP. EBITDA is not a measure of performance under SA GAAP. EBITDA should not be construed as an alternative to operating profit as an indicator of the company's operations in accordance with SA GAAP. EBITDA is also presented to assist our shareholders and the investment community in interpreting our financial results. This financial measure is regularly used as a means of comparison of companies in our industry by removing certain differences between companies such as depreciation methods, financing structures and taxation regimes. Different companies and analysts may calculate EBITDA differently, so making comparisons among companies on this basis should be done very carefully.
