DESCRIPTION OF THE COMPANY

SOURCE CAPITAL, INC., is a major diversified, publicly traded investment company with total net assets approximating $552,000,000. Its investment portfolio includes a wide range of securities with primary emphasis on common stocks.

Source Capital has Common and Preferred shares outstanding, both of which are traded on The New York Stock Exchange. Each of the 1,969,212 outstanding Preferred shares has a prior claim of $27.50 on assets and $2.40 per year on income. The balance of the Company's assets and income are available to the 8,299,387 shares of Common Stock outstanding.

Source Capital's investment objective is to seek maximum total return for Common shareholders from both capital appreciation and investment income to the extent consistent with protection of invested capital and provision of sufficient income to meet the dividend requirements of Preferred shareholders.

Source Capital is not a mutual fund. Thus, it does not repurchase its own shares on demand and does not need to structure its portfolio securities to provide for possible redemptions. As a publicly traded investment company, Source Capital's Common and Preferred shares are bought and sold on The New York Stock Exchange, and the Company is not involved in the transaction.

Source Capital's investment approach emphasizes primarily equity and equity-related investments in seeking to achieve its growth objective for its Common shareholders. The desirability of equity versus fixed-income investments has been increasingly debated in recent years. Source Capital's position is that without assuming undue risk and recognizing the fixed claim of its Preferred Stock, properly selected stocks offer the better long-term opportunity for overall investment return as well as long-term protection from the large but uncertain threat of inflation. Source Capital's equity investments have been directed toward companies with highly liquid, relatively unleveraged balance sheets, and a demonstrated long-term ability to earn above-average returns on invested capital. Source Capital's equity investment portfolio is based on fundamental judgments of long-term returns attainable from income and appreciation in the securities of such companies and is not derived from overall economic forecasts or stock market predictions.

The Company has adopted a flexible distribution policy. This policy is designed to pay Common shareholders quarterly distributions at a rate that is substantially in excess of net investment income. The rate will be adjusted periodically in response to sustained changes in the net asset value, market conditions and changes to investment company regulations and tax laws. Only a portion of such distributions is paid from net investment income. The remainder is paid from any net realized capital gains and/or paid-in capital, as determined by each year's results. To the extent the Company realizes net long-term capital gains for any year in excess of the amounts distributed under the Company's distribution policy, such excess will be distributed to shareholders. All distributions are taxable to shareholders as dividend income or capital gain distributions since the Company has accumulated earnings and profits from prior years.

LETTER TO SHAREHOLDERS

TO OUR SHAREHOLDERS:

Source Capital's total net assets increased from $536,928,646 to $552,171,711 during the second quarter. Net asset value per Common share amounted to $60.01 at June 30, 2004, compared with $58.35 at March 31, 2004, and $56.62 at year-end 2003. These changes in net asset value were net of cash distributions of $1.00 paid in both the first and second quarters.

Edgar Filing: SOURCE CAPITAL INC /DE/ - Form N-CSRS

INVESTMENT RESULTS, 2004 FIRST HALF

For the six months ended June 30, 2004, the net asset value per share of Source Capital's Common Stock increased by 9.7%, as adjusted for reinvestment of distributions paid during the period, while total net assets rose 9.1%. These returns compare with a 6.2% increase in the Russell 2500 Index, a measure of small to medium capitalization stock performance. The foregoing changes were calculated on the basis of reinvesting all dividends and distributions.

INVESTMENT RESULTS, 2004 SECOND QUARTER

In the most recent quarter, Source Capital's net asset value per share of Common Stock increased 4.7%, as adjusted for reinvestment of the $1.00 distribution paid during the period, while total net assets rose 4.4%, both on a reinvestment basis. In comparison, the Russell 2500 Index increased 0.3% during the quarter, also on a reinvestment basis.

DISTRIBUTIONS TO COMMON SHAREHOLDERS

A regular quarterly distribution of $1.00 per share was paid on June 15, 2004, to shareholders of record on May 28, 2004. In February 2004, the Board of Directors adopted a flexible distribution policy. This new policy allows the Board of Directors to continue to consider changes in net asset value when establishing the quarterly distribution rate, but also provides the flexibility to consider other factors such as current market conditions and changes to investment company regulations and tax laws. It is the intention of the Board of Directors to continue paying quarterly distributions at a rate that is substantially in excess of net investment income as evidenced by the current annual distribution rate of $4.00.

PREFERRED DIVIDENDS

The regular Preferred dividend of $0.60 per share was paid on June 15, 2004, to shareholders of record on May 28, 2004. The changes in the Company's total net assets since year-end 2003 have resulted in changes in the Preferred shares' asset coverage from 963% at December 31, 2003, to 992% at March 31, 2004, and 1,020% at June 30, 2004. Net investment income provided Preferred dividend coverage of 57% for the second quarter and 89% for the six months, compared with 68% and 77% for the corresponding periods of 2003.

MARKET PRICE OF SOURCE CAPITAL SHARES

The market price of Source Capital Common Stock increased from $59.38 to $65.02 during the first half of 2004. As this $5.64 increase in market price was more than the $3.39 rise in the underlying net asset value, the market premium to net asset value of 4.9% at year-end 2003 increased to 8.4% at June 30, 2004. The market price of Source Capital Preferred Stock decreased to $33.16 at June 30, 2004, from $33.81 at year-end 2003.

COMMENTARY

The stock market has continued to advance in 2004, though at a modest rate when compared to the big gains of last year. In addition, small-cap stocks continue to outperform, with the Russell up twice as much as the 3% gain in the S&P 500 as of June 30.

Source had an especially strong second quarter, with the net asset value up

Edgar Filing: SOURCE CAPITAL INC /DE/ - Form N-CSRS

4.7%, compared to just a nominal gain in the benchmark Russell 2500. For the year-to-date period, Source is up 9.7%, comfortably ahead of both the Russell 2500 and the larger-cap S&P 500 and Nasdaq. For the longer three- and five-year periods, Source has significantly outperformed each of these indexes.

	PERIODS ENDED JUNE 30, 2004

* Annualized Returns

SANDISK first entered Source's portfolio in early 2001 and continues to be a significant holding. It is a leading designer, manufacturer, and distributor of flash memory products. Flash is used primarily in portable consumer electronic devices such as digital cameras, multimedia phones, MP3 players and USB flash drives. Consumers generally encounter flash memory in the form of a removable card. These are available in a confusing array of different formats, with names like Memory Stick, Compact Flash, Secure Digital (SD) cards, Smart Media, or xD cards, all of which perform similar functions. Because the products that use it are growing so rapidly, flash memory has been a dynamic industry with growth rates exceeding 50% annually.

Flash has a number of significant advantages over other types of data storage (like disk drives, CDs, or DRAM). These include:

- Non-volatile--doesn't need continuous power to retain its data
- Can be written and erased many times
- Durable--has no moving parts
- Small size
- Low power requirements

SanDisk is, in many respects, the leading company in the flash memory industry. It has a number of important competitive strengths that, we believe, will help it maintain its strong position.

SanDisk manufactures flash memory chips in a joint venture with Toshiba, which holds the #2 market share position world wide, behind Samsung. The joint venture is currently building a new fab (tech-speak for a factory which makes semiconductors). The new plant will greatly expand the joint venture's capacity and ensure its continued low-cost position.

SanDisk has an extremely strong intellectual property position, holding many basic flash memory patents. It will receive close to $200 million this year in royalties and license fees, including a substantial sum from Samsung.

SanDisk has the strongest position at retail, selling all flash memory formats, with the best recognized brand in an industry with, admittedly, relatively low brand recognition. The Company has recently started an advertising campaign to further enhance its brand strength.

SanDisk's competitive position is further reinforced by its financial strength. It has over $1 billion in net cash (after deducting debt), or $7 per share.

The SanDisk story is not without some risks, unfortunately. In the short term these center on margin pressures, mostly the result of price reductions and extra costs associated with manufacturing transitions. In the longer term, there are worries about new market entrants, including Micron, Hynix, and Infineon, and the possibility that they will commoditize the business, making it impossible for any participant to earn decent returns.

We agree that these concerns, especially the risk of too many competitors destroying margins, are well worth worrying about. We believe, however, that the competitive strengths outlined will provide strong defense and protect SanDisk's position.

- Just as Samsung is paying royalties to SanDisk, we expect that the new market entrants will have to do the same, though there are no announced agreements so far, adding to their costs while increasing SanDisk's profits.
- The traditional flash manufacturers, Samsung, Toshiba, and SanDisk, are generations ahead in manufacturing technology, and we expect this to enable them to maintain their low-cost position.
- SanDisk's increasing brand strength, and its unique ability to be a single source to retailers of all flash memory formats, will serve to maintain its position as the leading company at the retail end of the business.

As of the end of the quarter, SanDisk was selling at about 15x estimated 2004 earnings of $1.50 per share. This PE would be closer to 11x if we adjusted for SanDisk's cash position. Its operating margin is about 25% and return on equity close to 20%, despite the large cash position. These represent quite high returns and a modest valuation.

During 2003, SanDisk was a major contributor to Source's strong investment performance, rising from $10 a share at the start of the year to a November high of $43, as we sold over 70% of Source's position, before backing off to $31 at year-end.

This price decline has continued during 2004. On June 30, SanDisk was $22, fifty percent below its high in late 2003. When combined with our continued enthusiasm for SanDisk's business, this lower price has made the stock more attractive, and we have increased our position by about 40% over the past few months. At over 3% of net assets, SanDisk is again one of Source's more significant positions.

Respectfully submitted,

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

June 30, 2004

NOTE A--SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The Company is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 as a diversified, closed-end management investment company. The investment objective of the Company is to seek maximum total return for Common shareholders from both capital appreciation and investment income to the extent consistent with protection of invested capital and provision of sufficient income to meet the dividend requirements of Preferred shareholders. The significant accounting policies followed by the Company in the preparation of its financial statements include the following:

1. SECURITIES VALUATION--Securities, including any outstanding written call options, listed or traded on a national securities exchange are valued at the last sale price. Securities traded on the NASDAQ National Market System are valued at the NASDAQ Official Closing Price. If there was not a sale that day, securities are valued at the mean between the most recent bid and asked prices. Securities that are unlisted and debt and convertible securities listed on a national securities exchange for which the over-the-counter market more accurately reflects the securities' value, in the judgment of the Company's officers, are valued at the mean between the most recent bid and asked prices or other ascertainable market value. Short-term investments with maturities of 60 days or less are valued at cost plus interest earned, which approximates market value. Restricted securities and securities for which market quotations are not readily available are valued at fair value as determined in good faith by, or under the direction of, the Board of Directors.

2. FEDERAL INCOME TAX--No provision for federal taxes is considered necessary because the Company has elected to be taxed as a "regulated investment company" under the Internal Revenue Code and intends to maintain this qualification and to distribute each year all of its taxable net investment income and taxable net realized gain on investments to its shareholders in accordance with the minimum distribution requirements of the Code.

3. USE OF ESTIMATES--The preparation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

4. OTHER--Securities transactions are accounted for on the date securities are purchased or sold. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date. Interest income and expenses are recorded on an accrual basis. Dividends payable by the Company on the Preferred Stock are recorded on an accrual basis and distributions payable on the Common Stock are recorded on the ex-dividend date. The distribution allocation at June 30, 2004, is preliminary and may be revised based on operating results for the entire year. The ratios of expenses and net income to average net assets do not reflect the effect of payments to Preferred shareholders.

NOTE B--CAPITAL STOCK

The Preferred Stock is entitled in liquidation to $27.50 per share plus accrued dividends and may be called for redemption, at the discretion of the Company, at $27.50 per share plus accrued dividends. Dividends may not be declared on the Common Stock if Preferred dividends are in arrears or if the Preferred Stock would not thereafter have an asset coverage of 200% or more. At June 30, 2004, the asset coverage of the Preferred Stock was 1,020%.

The Company issued 50,188 shares of Common Stock under its Reinvestment Plan for Common and Preferred shareholders during the six months ended June 30, 2004.

NOTE C--ADVISORY FEES AND OTHER AFFILIATED TRANSACTIONS

Pursuant to an investment advisory agreement, the Company pays First Pacific Advisors, Inc. ("Investment Adviser"), monthly investment advisory fees calculated at an annual rate of 0.725% for the first $100 million of total net assets, 0.700% for the next $100 million of total net assets, and 0.675% for any total net assets in excess of $200 million. The Agreement obligates the Investment Adviser to reduce its fee to the extent necessary to reimburse the Company for any annual expenses (exclusive of interest, taxes, the cost of any supplementary statistical and research information, legal expenses related to portfolio securities, and extraordinary expenses such as litigation) in excess of 1 1/2% of the first $30 million and 1% of the remaining average total net assets of the Company for the year.

For the six months ended June 30, 2004, the Company paid aggregate fees of $50,000 to all Directors who are not affiliated persons of the Investment Adviser. During the six months ended June 30, 2004, the Company incurred legal fees of $1,704 payable to O'Melveny & Myers LLP, counsel for the Company. A Director of the Company is a retired partner and a retired of counsel employee of that firm. The Officers of the Company are also officers of the Investment Adviser.

NOTE D--PURCHASES AND SALES OF SECURITIES

Cost of purchases of investment securities (excluding short-term corporate notes with maturities of 60 days or less) aggregated $58,167,302 for the six months ended June 30, 2004. Cost of investment securities owned at June 30, 2004, was the same for federal income tax and financial reporting purposes. Gains and losses are based on the specific certificate identification method.

Edgar Filing: SOURCE CAPITAL INC /DE/ - Form N-CSRS

Gross unrealized appreciation and depreciation for all investments at June 30, 2004, for federal income tax purposes was $203,193,860 and $14,602,177, respectively.
