PART I

Item 1 Description of Business

Business Development

Veridigm, Inc. (the Company) was incorporated under the name Fonecash, Inc. on August 7, 1997. Since incorporation, the Company's name has changed several times to reflect changes in our business: On May 11, 2005 our name was changed to TotalMed, Inc.; on June 15, 2006 our name was changed to eNotes, Systems Inc. Our name was changed on November 6, 2006 to Veridigm, Inc.

Prior to 2005, the Company (then named Fonecash, Inc.) engaged in the payment processing of transactions for banks and their merchants through its terminals and proprietary system. As part of that operation, the Company was developing a wired and wireless gateway to convert consumers' credit and debit card information collected by mobile merchants into a format that can be processed by banks. The Company intended to act as a payment system service provider between banks, mobile merchants and their customers. The Company intended to charge merchants a fixed transaction fee to process their payments. This business was substantially wound down beginning in the fourth quarter of 2002, principally due to difficulties encountered by the Company's then-current management in raising sufficient capital to fund the Company's business plan. The Company was substantially inactive until 2005. In April, 2005 the Company entered into a Stock Purchase Agreement whereby the Company agreed to acquire all of the issued and outstanding shares of TotalMed Systems, Inc. (TMS) a Florida corporation, from its selling shareholders in exchange for shares of common stock of the Company. Under this agreement, the Company was to have issued 20,000,000 restricted common shares from its treasury, in consideration of the purchase by the Company of all of the issued and outstanding shares of TMS. Of the total 20,000,000 shares, 2,000,000 were to have been issued at closing, and the balance of 18,000,000 shares were to be issued once, and if, TMS achieved a minimum revenue level of $10,000,000 of booked sales contracts within one year of the initial closing.

On April 25, 2006 the Company announced the termination of the transaction with TMS, due to a change in the general business operations of TMS. There was no stock consideration paid by the Company to the shareholders of TMS, and no penalties incurred by the Company to TMS or its selling shareholders.

The Company entered into a Stock Purchase Agreement on April 28, 2006 to acquire all of the issued and outstanding shares of eNotes Systems, Inc. a Florida corporation, from its selling shareholders in exchange for 20,000,000 shares of restricted common stock of the Company. Pursuant to this transaction, on June 15, 2006 the Registrant filed a Certificate of Ownership with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware thereby effecting the merger of the Company and eNotes Systems, Inc., and changing the name of the Company. to eNotes Systems, Inc. Following the completion of this transaction, the Company's present business is focused on developing opportunities in telemedicine, principally in the area of providing imaging delivery software solutions to the medical industry.

In November, 2006 the Company changed its name to Veridigm, Inc., on the basis that this name more accurately reflected the Company's then-current focus on the telemedicine industry.

In and subsequent to the fourth quarter, 2006, management re-evaluated the Company's telemedicine focus and began to look for other business opportunities, with a view to completing some form of merger or acquisition. Subsequent to the fourth quarter, 2006, in March, 2007, the Company entered into a letter agreement with Dimensions, Inc. (Dimensions), an arms length party, relating to the grant by Dimensions of an exclusive license to use certain software and other intellectual property owned by or licensed to Dimensions having application within the gaming industry. It is intended that the Company will incorporate a new subsidiary company to hold the license from Dimensions, and that this subsidiary company will engage in the development and commercialization (through a second subsidiary of the Company) of gaming software. The Company previously intended to engage in the development and commercialization of progressive gaming and related software. The Company has not commenced its previously stated business model or related operations. On December 20, 2007, Veridigm, Inc. announced in an 8K that the Company has decided not to proceed with a Definitive Agreement announced on March 19, 2007 with Dimensions Inc., the project has since been abandoned as reported in the Company's Form 8K on December 20, 2007

On December 10, 2007, the Company entered into a loan agreement and subsequently a consulting agreement with BC 0718806 Ltd. The resulting transactions effectively moved the Company's majority voting control to BC0718806 Ltd. The Company now intends to pursue a business whereby it would provide merchant banking type services to small, private and microcap public companies seeking debt and equity capital and/or to be part of a diversified, resource sharing, business combination. (The "Business Model").

The Company's policy is to calculate the voting capacity on a fully diluted basis. The Company at all times will conduct its activities in such a way that it will not be deemed an "investment company" subject to regulation under the 1940 Act. The Company has to date limited operations and in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 7 (SFAS #7), the Company is considered a Development Stage company.

The Company has never been involved with any bankruptcy, receivership or similar proceeding.

Our Business

The Company now intends to pursue a business whereby it would provide merchant banking type services to small, private and microcap public companies seeking debt and equity capital and/or to be part of a diversified, resource sharing, business combination. (The "Business Model"). The Company may engage in advising distressed private and public companies in special turnaround situations. Specifically, the Company will identify small private and public companies (the "Clients") and assist them with managerial, accounting and financial advice and help the Client refinance and / or raise adequate capital by introducing them to potential investors and lenders. As compensation for the Company's services, the Company proposes to receive revenue to sustain its operations and may also receive shares of the Client (s), which may then be registered by the Client in a future public offering and/or (if Client is a public company) divest shares as applicable market conditions avail. The Company anticipates that shares it receives as compensation will be assessed for valuation at par value. In addition, the Company may acquire business entities and operations by an exchange in common shares or other asset classes. The Company will at all times report shares or other asset classes it receives as compensation on its periodic reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The Company's policy is to calculate the voting capacity on a fully diluted basis. The Company at all times will conduct its activities in such a way that it will not be deemed an "investment company" subject to regulation under the 1940 Act.

The Company has to date limited operations and in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 7 (SFAS #7), the Company is considered a Development Stage company.

Employees

The Company presently has no paid employees. No contractual compensation or salary obligations are in place as of the date of this filing. The Company has no oral or written employment contracts for services.

Perceived Benefits

There are certain perceived benefits to being a reporting company with a class of publicly-traded securities. These are commonly thought to include the following:

the ability to use registered securities to make acquisitions of assets or businesses;

increased visibility in the financial community;

the facilitation of borrowing from financial institutions;

improved trading efficiency;

shareholder liquidity;

greater ease in subsequently raising capital;

compensation of key employees through stock options for which there may be a market valuation;

enhanced corporate image;

presence in the United States capital market.

Sources of Revenues

From inception through December 31, 2007, the Company had revenue of $ 10,840 from the sale of its products or services.

Risk Factors

An investment in our common stock involves a high degree of risk. You should carefully consider the following material risks, together with the other information contained in this report on Form 10KSB, before you decide to buy our common stock. If any of the following risks actually occur, you might lose all or part of your investment.

The Shares are highly speculative and stockholders should carefully consider the following risk factors, which are illustrative of the risks pertaining to the Company, but which should not be construed as representing all of the possible risks to be considered:

The company lacks operations and has losses which are expected to continue into the future.

The Company's operating history is not a useful measure upon which an evaluation of its future success or failure can be made. The Company's ability to achieve and maintain profitability and positive cash flow is dependent upon the ability to:

- acquire operations,
- generate revenues.
- ability to raise the capital necessary to acquire and/or invest in an operations.

Based upon current plans, the Company expects to incur operating losses in future periods. The Company cannot guarantee that it will be successful in generating revenues in the future.

Risk factors related to operations:

Independent Certified Public Accountants' Opinion - Going Concern.

The Company's financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2007, were audited by the Company's independent certified public accountants, whose report includes an explanatory paragraph stating that the financial statements have been prepared assuming the Company will continue as a going concern and that the Company has incurred operating losses since its inception that raise substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern.

The Company has no working capital.

We have no working capital and are dependent upon our officers, directors and major shareholders to provide funds to the Company in order to satisfy our reporting and other obligations as a public company. Our long term success is ultimately dependent on our ability to create a new revenue base through the acquisition of producing properties or negotiating a business combination with a profitable business entity. We have commenced on a limited basis to investigate new business opportunities but there can be no assurance of our success.

There may be unforeseen risks associated with any new business venture.

The Company may be dependent upon existing or new management of the business venture ultimately acquired, and may lack the control necessary to adjust the direction of the venture in the event such operating management fails to cope with business problems. Because the Company may participate in ventures with newly-organized firms or with firms which are attempting to expand through new products, markets or methods of distribution, Veridigm may face additional risks associated with development stage operations.

The Company's Limited Operating History May Prevent it From Achieving Success.

The Company's inception date was August 1997. It has a limited operating history, which may prevent it from achieving success. The Company's has had limited revenues and its operating profits are unproven. It will encounter challenges and difficulties frequently encountered by early-stage companies in new and rapidly evolving markets. The Company may fail to address any of these challenges and the failure to do so would seriously harm the Company's business and operating results. It has limited insights into trends that may emerge and affect the Company's business.

The Company has Incurred Losses and Expects Future Losses

The Company has experienced operating losses in each period since inception and expects to incur losses in the future. On December 31, 2007, the Company had an accumulated deficit of $13,494,481. The Company expects to increase its operating expenses. As a result, the Company will need to achieve revenues and profits. The Company's failure to achieve revenues would seriously harm the Company's business and operating results. In fact, the Company may not have any revenue growth.

Future Operating Results Will Likely Fluctuate

The Company's quarterly operating results will likely vary significantly in the future. As a result, period-to-period comparisons of the Company's operating results will not be meaningful and should not be relied upon as indicators of the Company's future performance. In the future, the Company's operating results may be below the expectations of securities analysts and investors. The Company's failure to meet these expectations would likely depress the market price of the Company's common stock. To date, the Company has not had sufficient operating results to gauge any period-to-period fluctuations.

Independent Certified Public Accountants Opinion - Going Concern.

The Company's financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2007, were audited by the Company's independent certified public accountant, whose report includes an explanatory paragraph stating that the financial statements have been prepared assuming the Company will continue as a going concern and that the Company has incurred operating losses since its inception that raise substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern.

Our majority shareholders may take action without shareholder vote.

Under certain circumstances, our major shareholders, most of whom are also our officers and directors, may authorize or take corporate action without the notice, approval, consent or vote of the remaining stockholders, subject only to their obligation to timely notify the minority stockholders of the action taken.

The Company Must Retain and Attract Key Personnel

The Company's success depends largely on the skills, experience and performance of the members of its senior management and other key personnel. In the future, the Company's growth will depend upon its ability to attract and retain key management personnel.

Reliance on Key Personnel

The Company presently has two key consultants. The event of the loss of services of such key persons could seriously harm the Company's business and would add a significant burden to the Company's future prospects. The Company is heavily dependent on our officers and directors for the successful implementation of our business plans, which are to seek out investment opportunities and acquisition candidates. Officers and directors are not required to devote any specified amount or percentage of its business time to the Company affairs, and to the extent that they spend time, it will be only a minimal amount seeking out acquisition candidates, performing necessary administrative paperwork and keeping Veridigm current in our filing obligations under the Exchange Act. Officers and directors are entitled to reimbursement for any out-of-pocket disbursements incurred on the Company's behalf in the investigation of potential business ventures.

The loss of any of our officers and directors would have an adverse effect on our business.

Our future success depends, to a significant extent, on the continued management of our existing officers and directors. No contractual relationship exists between the Company and our officers and directors, and no key person life insurance has been or is intended to be obtained covering any such person. Current management has a limited amount of time to devote to the operations of the Company. No assurance can be made that any successful acquisition will be negotiated.

There may be potential conflicts of interest.

Our officers and directors may be involved in other ventures and activities and may continue such activities in the future. If a specific business opportunity should become available, conflicts of interest may arise in the selection between the Company and the other ventures of the officers and directors. Since no policy has been formulated for the resolution of such potential conflicts, any conflicts which arise will be settled on a case-by-case basis. There is no guarantee that such a conflict will not result in the Company's inability to participate in particular ventures.

Future Sales of Shares Could Affect the Company's Stock Price

If the Company's stockholders sell substantial amounts of the Company's common stock in the public market, the market price of the Company's common stock could fall. Of the Company's outstanding common stock as of December 31, 2007, approximately 11% is eligible for sale in the public market immediately.

Shareholders Dividends

The Company has declared a common stock Dividend of 18.5% on all issued and outstanding common shares payable to shareholders as of record date set of May 23, 2008.

The Company Needs Future Capital

The Company needs to raise funds, and funds may not be available on favorable terms or at all. Failure to obtain funds on favorable terms could seriously harm the Company's business and operating results. Furthermore, if the Company issues additional equity securities, stockholders will experience dilution, and the new equity securities could have rights senior to those of the holders of the Company's common stock. If the Company cannot raise funds on acceptable terms, it will seriously hamper its growth.

Item 2. Properties

The Company owns no property. Currently, the Company's principal office is located at 17383 Sunset Blvd., Suite B-280, Pacific Palisades, California, 90272. The owner of these premises, a former director of the Company, has provided these premises rent-free to the Company, although it is intended that during the subsequent financial year the Company will relocate its principal office.

Item 3. Legal Proceedings

The Company was served with a summons and complaint for failure to pay the monthly payments on its line of credit with Fleet National Bank. Pursuant to the lawsuit, the Company would be liable to Fleet National Bank for the outstanding principal balance of $107,645 plus attorney's fees. Management has indicated its intentions to defend the action and will repay the principal balance in monthly installments upon receipt of capital contributions from investors.

On April 8, 2002 the Securities and Exchange Commission filed a complaint alleging that a registration statement and amendments, filed with the Commission by the Company in December 2001, January 2002 and March 2002, and signed by the president of the Company, Daniel E. Charboneau, contained material misrepresentations and omissions. On January 6, 2004, a United States District Judge from the District of Columbia entered a default judgment against the Company restraining the Company from further violations of Section 17(a) of the Securities Act of 1933, Sections 10(b) and 13a-13 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rules 10b-5, 12b-20, 13a-1 and 13a-13 thereunder. As part of this order the Court also ordered penalties and interest in the amount of $110,977. The Company intends to work with the Securities and Exchange Commission in an effort to reach an amicable resolution of this matter.

The Company commenced (as sole plaintiff) an action in the Superior Court of California on October 4, 2006 against TotalMed Systems, Inc., a Florida corporation, wherein the Company seeks judgment against TotalMed Systems, Inc. for $108,368.49 in consequence of the alleged breach by TotalMed Systems, Inc. of a Release and Settlement Agreement. The defendant has filed an Answer to the claim on November 27, 2006 and at December 31, the matter was unresolved and before the Courts. No counterclaim against the Company was made. A nonconforming, un-actionable default judgment is held by the Company.

On October 3, 2007, the Company, as well as one officer was named as a co-defendant in a lawsuit initiated by Bryce V. Geoffrey (Geoffrey) in the Supreme Court of British Columbia. Geoffrey's claim is for payment of the sum of $55,653.13 for past legal services provided to the Company, plus interest thereon and costs. The Company has filed a Statement of Defense and the matter is in front of the Courts.

Item 4. - Submission of Matters to a Vote of Security Holders.

No matters were submitted to a vote of security holders during the fourth quarter.

On November 2, 2006 the Company submitted an Information Statement pursuant to Section 14(c) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in respect of an affirmative vote of the majority of the Company's shareholders in lieu of a vote of all shareholders, to change the Company's name from eNotes Systems, Inc. to Veridigm, Inc.

Dividends

The Company has declared an 18.5% stock dividend to all shareholders of record on the dividend date of May 23, 2008.

Securities authorized for issuance under equity compensation plans

The Company has no established equity compensation plans for the issuance of common stock as payment for employees, consultants or other parties. The Company has utilized its common stock for equity compensation from time to time on a transactional basis. In the future, the Company most likely will establish some type of an equity compensation plan to provide incentive to current or future employees and others material to the Company's business.

Recent Sales of Unregistered Securities

During the period ended December 31, 2007, the Company issued the following preferred shares:

1)

1,342,000 preferred shares for the benefit of BC0718806 (B.C)

400,000 preferred shares for the benefit of Icon Research Inc (Fla)

The Company's former President, Alise Mills, received 247,219 (post split - January 2008) shares of restricted common stock for the value accrued of $60,000 for services rendered to the Company in all of her capacities for the year ended December 31, 2007. The value amount per share recorded for this issue was based on the Fair Market Value discounted by 25% to allow for the restriction period.

The Company's Secretary, Rowland Mosser, received 220,025 (post split January 2008) shares of restricted common stock valued at $40,000 for services rendered to the Company in his capacities for the year ended December 31, 2007. The value amount per share recorded for this issue was based on the Fair Market Value discounted by 25% to allow for the restriction period.

Item 6 - Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Plan of Operation

General

The Company has consistently been in development since incorporation in August 1997. It has undergone several changes in its business direction including the most recent refocus during the current financial year on the development of opportunities within the telemedicine sector. Since inception, the Company has not been successful in realizing significant revenues, and accordingly has incurred net losses in each financial years.

Plan of Operation

The Company now intends to pursue a business whereby it would provide merchant banking type services to small, private and microcap public companies seeking debt and equity capital and/or to be part of a diversified, resource sharing, business combination. (The "Business Model"). The Company may engage in advising distressed private and public companies in special turnaround situations. Specifically, the Company will identify small private and public companies (the "Clients") and assist them with managerial, accounting and financial advice and help the Client refinance and / or raise adequate capital by introducing them to potential investors and lenders. As compensation for the Company's services, the Company proposes to receive revenue to sustain its operations and may also receive shares of the Client (s), which may then be registered by the Client in a future public offering and/or (if Client is a public company) divest shares as applicable market conditions avail. The Company anticipates that shares it receives as compensation will be assessed for valuation at par value. In addition, the Company may acquire business entities and operations by an exchange in common shares or other asset classes. The Company will at all times report shares or other asset classes it receives as compensation on its periodic reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The Company's major shareholders have undertaken to make funds available to the Company in amounts sufficient to enable us to satisfy our reporting and other obligations as a public Company.

Given our lack of cash or other assets, Veridigm will be limited in our attempts to locate potential business situations for investigation. We do not know when, or if, we may be able to locate investment opportunities or potential acquisition candidates. Business opportunities, if any arise, are expected to become available to the Company principally from the personal contacts of our officers and directors. Although the current focus of management is to find investment opportunities or merger candidates within the oil industry, we will also consider other ventures and reserve the right to evaluate and to enter into any type of business opportunity, in any stage of development, in any location.

We may seek a business opportunity with a firm which only recently commenced operations, or a developing company in need of additional funds for expansion into new products or markets, an entity seeking to develop a new product or service, or an established business which may be experiencing financial or operating difficulties and is in need of additional capital which is perceived to be easier to raise by a public company. In some instances, a business opportunity may involve the acquisition with a corporation which does not need substantial additional cash but which desires to establish a public trading market for its common stock.

We may purchase assets and establish wholly owned subsidiaries in various businesses or purchase existing businesses as subsidiaries. We anticipate that the selection of a business opportunity in which to participate will be complex and extremely risky. Because of general economic conditions, rapid technological advances being made in some industries, and shortages of available capital, management believes that there are numerous firms seeking the benefits of a publicly traded corporation. Such perceived benefits of a publicly traded corporation may include facilitating or improving the terms on which additional equity financing may be sought, providing liquidity for the principals of a business, creating a means for providing incentive stock options or similar benefits to key employees, providing liquidity (subject to restrictions of applicable statutes) for all shareholders, and other factors. Potentially available business opportunities may occur in many different industries and at various stages of development, all of which will make the task of comparative investigation and analysis of such business opportunities extremely difficult and complex. At the present time, management does not anticipate paying any finder's fee for locating an acquisition prospect.

As part of our investigation of acquisition possibilities, we may meet with executive officers of the business and its personnel, inspect its facilities, obtain independent analysis or verification of the information provided and conduct other reasonable measures, to the extent permitted by the Company's limited resources and management's limited expertise. Generally, we intend to analyze and make a determination based upon all available information without reliance upon any single factor as controlling. We can give no assurance that we will be able to find suitable business opportunities which may desire to combine with Veridigm.

The Company's policy is to calculate the voting capacity on a fully diluted basis. The Company at all times will conduct its activities in such a way that it will not be deemed an "investment company" subject to regulation under the 1940 Act.

The Company has to date limited operations and in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 7 (SFAS #7), the Company is considered a Development Stage company.

Subsequent to the issuance of the Company's financial statements for the quarter ended June 30, 2006, the Company determined that the market price used to compute the beneficial conversion feature on debt converted to common stock was incorrect. The prices used were as of the conversation date, not as of the date the option was granted. Based on the corrected market price the amount charged to interest expense due to the beneficial conversion feature has been reduced by $18,232,731. The additional paid in capital has been reduced by the same amount.

All depreciable assets of the Company were written down to zero in the 2005 financial year, and the Company's current property and assets have a nominal value of $3,471.

Results of Operations

For the period ending December 31, 2007 general and administrative expenses were $3,053,005 as compared to $805,081 for the same period in 2006.

The Company's combined cash and cash equivalents at December 31, 2007 were zero compared to $56,205 for the period ended December 31, 2006.

There is no assurance that the Company will generate a positive internal cash flow for at least the foreseeable future. The Company currently has limited internal and external sources of liquidity. At this time the Company has no material commitment for capital expenditures.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The Company presently has no business operations or activity. At December 31, 2007 the Company had cash reserves of $0. It is actively seeking a potential candidate with whom to merge or acquire. The Company plans to fund its operations during fiscal year 2008 through advances from related parties, and possibly through the sale of the Company's common stock, although there can be no assurance that the Company would be successful in selling its common stock. It is anticipated that any revenue from sales in 2008 would be negligible as the Company has yet to locate a new investment opportunity.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

During the year ended December 31, 2007, the Company did not engage in any off balance sheet arrangements as defined in item 303(c) of the SEC's Regulation S-B.

Contractual Obligations

None.

Inflation

We do not believe that inflation has had a significant impact on our results of operations or financial condition.

Critical Accounting Policies

We have identified our critical accounting policies, the application of which may materially affect the financial statements, either because of the significance of the financials statement item to which they relate, or because they require management's judgment in making estimates and assumptions in measuring, at a specific point in time, events which will be settled in the future.

Estimates

The process of preparing financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires the use of estimates and assumptions regarding certain types of assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses. Such estimates primarily relate to unsettled transactions and events as of the date of the financial statements. Accordingly, upon settlement, actual results may differ from estimated amounts.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The Company's financial instruments as defined by Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 107, "Disclosures about Fair Value of Financial Instruments," include cash, trade accounts receivable, accounts payable and related party payables.

Significant Equipment Purchases and Requirements

None.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT

To the Board of Directors and Stockholders

Veridigm, Inc.

17383 Sunset Blvd, Suite B-280,

Pacific Palisades, California 90270

I have audited the accompanying balance sheets of Veridigm, Inc. (a Delaware corporation in the development stage) as of December 31, 2007 and 2006 (restated), and the related statements of operations, stockholders' deficit and cash flows for the years then ended and for the period August 7, 1997 (inception) to December 31, 2007. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit.

I conducted my audit in accordance with standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that I plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. I believe that my audit provides a reasonable basis for my opinion.

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Veridigm, Inc. as of December 31, 2007 and 2006 (restated), and the result of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended and from August 7, 1997 (inception) to December 31, 2007, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note 6 to the financial statements, the Company's significant net losses raise substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

The Company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. Our audit included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion.

Notes to Financial Statements

Note 1 - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Description of Business and Basis of Presentation

The financial statements presented are those of Veridigm, Inc., (formerly eNotes Systems, Inc. and TotalMed, Inc.) a development stage company (the Company). The Company was incorporated under the laws of the State of Delaware on August 7, 1997. The Company is presently not involved in a business activity and is seeking a merger candidate. The Company has abandoned its business plan as a developer of online gaming software.

The Company has limited operations and in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 7 (SFAS #7), the Company is considered a development stage company.

Merger Transaction

The Company entered into a Stock Purchase Agreement on April 28, 2006 to acquire all of the issued and outstanding shares of eNotes Systems, Inc. a Florida corporation, from its selling shareholders in exchange for 20,000,000 shares of restricted common stock of the Company. Subsequent to the merger, the Company changed its name to eNotes Systems, Inc. The management of the Company resigned from their positions and the management of Veridigm, Inc. was appointed as the new management of the Company.

Use of Estimates in the Preparation of Financial Statements

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reporting amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of reporting cash flows, cash and cash equivalents include checking and money market accounts and any highly liquid debt instruments purchased with a maturity of three months or less.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The fair value of the Company's notes payable to related parties is not practicable to estimate due to the related party nature of the underlying transactions and the indefinite payment terms.

Property and Equipment and Depreciation

Property and equipment are stated at cost. Depreciation for both financial reporting and income tax purposes is computed using combinations of the straight line and accelerated methods over the estimated lives of the respective assets. During the year ended December 31, 2006, the Company purchased computer equipment totaling $5,546. Computer equipment is depreciated over 5 years. Maintenance and repairs are charged to expense when incurred.

When property and equipment are retired or otherwise disposed of, the related cost and accumulated depreciation are removed from the respective accounts and any gain or loss is credited or charged to income.

VERIDIGM, INC.

(FORMERLY ENOTES SYSTEMS, INC.)

(FORMERLY TOTALMED, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES)

(A Development Stage Company)

Notes to Financial Statements

Depreciation expense of $1,775 and $300 was charged to operations for the years ended December 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively.

Income Taxes

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to reverse. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in the statement of operations in the period that includes the enactment date.

Loss Per Share

Basic earnings (loss) per share (EPS) of common stock is computed by dividing net income (loss) attributable to common stockholders by the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding during the period. Diluted EPS reflects the amount of net income (loss) for the period available to each share of common stock outstanding during the reporting period, giving effect to all potentially dilutive shares of common stock from the potential exercise of stock options and warrants and conversions of convertible preferred stocks.

Note 2 - Stockholders' Deficit

Common Stock

On January 7, 2008 there was a reverse stock split of the common stock of the Company on a basis of 809 to 1 with shareholders of record as of December 18, 2007. The number of common shares outstanding as a result of the reverse stock split was 552,171.

On December 14, 2007, the Company issued 378,000,000 pre-split common shares to officers for services provided to the Company, valued at $.0075 per share.

During the year ended December 31, 2006, notes payable to former officers of the Company totaling $745,487 plus accrued interest of $35,799 were converted to 40,483,098 shares of common stock, valued at $.019 per share. The Company issued 3,020,000 shares of common stock to officers for services, 1,020,000 shares of which were valued at $.30 per share and 2,000,000 shares which were valued at $.33 per share.

Two former directors of the company returned 49,516,387 shares of stock to the company on February 1, 2005. On May 11, 2005 there was a reverse stock split of the common stock of the Company on the basis of one share for each 20 shares outstanding with shareholders of record as of March 1, 2005. The number of common shares outstanding as a result of the reverse stock split was 5,202,890. The December 31, 2004 common stock and additional paid in capital balances were restated to reflect the reverse stock split.

On March 1, 2005, prior to the reverse stock split, the loan balance payable to Public Entity Acquisition Corp. (PEACE) of $9,800 was converted to 30,000,000 shares of common stock of the Company, valued at $.0003 per share.

Dividends may be paid on outstanding shares as declared by the Board of Directors from time to time. Each share of common stock is entitled to one vote.

Stock Options

At December 31, 2001 the Company reserved and granted 800,000 shares of common stock for issuance in connection with the stock option plan at an exercise price of $.50 per share. No options have been exercised as of December 31, 2007.

Preferred Stock

The Company has designated 10,000,000 shares as Series A Preferred Stock. The Series A Preferred Stock is not redeemable and is convertible, at the option of the holder, to common stock at a rate of ten to one.

On December 17, 2007, the Company issued 1,342,000 shares of Series A Preferred Stock to a company owned by a director of the Company for services, valued at $.02 per share, and 800,000 shares to a consultant, valued at $.02 per share.

Note 3 Debt to Stock Conversion

In association with the merger transaction entered into with Veridigm, Inc., the Company converted loans payable including accrued interest that were due to the founding officers of the Company to 37,633,098 shares of common stock that were issued to the former management of the Company (TotalMed, Inc.) as well as to the new management of the Company and their designees, during the three months ended June 30, 2006. A beneficial conversion feature existed, as the fair market value of the shares exceeded the conversion rate of $.019 as defined by Emerging Issues

Task Force No. 98-5 "Accounting for Convertible Securities with Beneficial Conversion Features or Contingently Adjustable Conversion Ratios" ("EITF 98-5") and No. 00-27 "Application of Issue No. 98-5 to Certain Convertible Instruments" ("EITF 00-27"). The excess of the fair market value over the conversion rate applied to the number of common shares issued resulted in a charge to interest expense, and increase to net loss of $2,493,161, with the same amount allocated to additional paid-in capital, thereby having no effect on total stockholders' equity.

Note 4 - Income Taxes

There is no provision for income taxes since the Company has incurred net operating losses. At December 31, 2007, the Company has net operating loss carryforwards which may be available to offset future taxable income through 2027 in the amount of $10,450,363. A deferred tax asset has not been recorded for the net operating loss carryforwards due to uncertainties as to the ultimate realization of the deferred tax asset. The tax returns of the Company have not been filed.

Note 5 Notes Payable

Notes payable totaling $223,862 at December 31, 2007 and 2006 consisted of the following:

Line of credit with Fleet Bank in the amount of $107,645, unsecured, guaranteed by the president of the Company, interest at 2.75% above prime, monthly payments equal to 2% of principal balance, was due November 2001. The Company is in default with respect to the terms of this note. Legal action has been taken by the bank as of the date of this report.

Notes to Financial Statements

SBA note payable in the amount of $6,492 to Habib American Bank, unsecured, interest at 2.75% above prime, payable at $1,604 per month including interest, was due September 1, 2002.

A demand note payable in the amount of $30,000 to an individual, unsecured, with interest at 8%, due August 12, 2003. The Company is in default with respect to the terms of this note. No legal action has been taken by the noteholder as of the date of this report.

A demand note payable in the amount of $25,000 to an individual, unsecured, with interest at 6%, due March 24, 2005. The Company is in default with respect to the terms of this note. No legal action has been taken by the noteholder as of the date of this report.

A demand note payable in the amount of $10,000 to an individual, unsecured, with interest at 6%, due March 24, 2005. The Company is in default with respect to the terms of this note. No legal action has been taken by the noteholder as of the date of this report.

Five demand notes payable totaling $19,725 to Public Entity Acquisition Corp. (PEACE), unsecured, with interest at 6%, due at various dates in 2006. The Company is in default with respect to the terms of this note. No legal action has been taken by the noteholder as of the date of this report.

A demand note payable in the amount of $25,000 to an individual, unsecured, with no interest, due February 10, 2007. The Company is in default with respect to the terms of this note. No legal action has been taken by the noteholder as of the date of this report.

Interest expense on notes payable of $19,147 and $20,426 was charged to operations for the years ended December 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively.

Note 6 - Going Concern

The Company's consolidated financial statements have been prepared in conformity with principles of accounting applicable to a going concern. These principles contemplate the realization of assets and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business. As shown in the consolidated financial statements, the Company has incurred significant net losses and as of December 31, 2007, reflects a deficit accumulated during the development stage of $13,494,481. The Company has not commenced its planned principal operations. The Company's continued existence is dependent on its ability to generate sufficient cash flow or raise additional capital to meet its obligations on a timely basis. The Company has been exploring sources to obtain additional equity or debt financing. Without realization of additional capital, it would be unlikely for the Company to continue as a going concern. Accordingly, the Company's continuation as a going concern is in substantial doubt and the financial statements do not include any adjustments that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue in existence.

Note 7 Litigation

On October 3, 2007, the Company, as well as one officer was named as a co-defendant in a lawsuit initiated by Bryce V. Geoffrey (Geoffrey) in the Supreme Court of British Columbia. Geoffrey's claim is for payment of the sum of $55,653.13 for past legal services provided to the Company, plus interest thereon and costs. The Company has filed a Statement of Defense, however management believes the likelihood it will not succeed is probable. Accordingly, a liability of $55,653.13 has been accrued in the financial statements.

Notes to Financial Statements

During the year ended December 31, 2006, the Company advanced $118,750 to TotalMed Systems, Inc. (TSI) under a software distribution agreement, payment of which was made directly by a stockholder to whom a promissory note was issued. Services were not consummated by TSI and a Release and Settlement Agreement was entered into, whereby the Company was to receive a refund of $108,368 by August 31, 2006. The Company has not received such refund as of the date of this report and has commenced a lawsuit against TSI, demanding TSI to return the deposit of $108,368. Management cannot speculate whether the Company will be successful in recovering the refund in full, and has accordingly charged the deposit of $108,368 to operations.

The Company was served with a summons and complaint for failure to pay the monthly payments on its line of credit with Fleet National Bank. Pursuant to the lawsuit, the Company would be liable to Fleet National Bank for the outstanding principal balance of $107,645 plus attorney's fees. Management has indicated its intentions to defend the action and will repay the principal balance in monthly installments upon receipt of capital contributions from investors.

On April 8, 2002 the Securities and Exchange Commission filed a complaint alleging that a registration statement and amendments, filed with the Commission by the Company in December 2001, January 2002 and March 2002, and signed by the president of the Company, Daniel E. Charboneau, contained material misrepresentations and omissions. On January 6, 2004, a United States District Judge from the District of Columbia entered a default judgment against the Company restraining the Company from further violations of Section 17(a) of the Securities Act of 1933, Sections 10(b) and 13a-13 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rules 10b-5, 12b-20, 13a-1 and 13a-13 thereunder. As part of this order the Court also ordered penalties and interest in the amount of $110,977.

Note 8 - Related Party Transactions

Notes Payable

A stockholder made loans to and paid expenses on behalf of the Company and issued promissory notes totaling $948,235 and $923,235 as of December 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively. The notes bear interest at a rate of 10% and are payable in one year from the dates of issuance. Interest expense on the notes payable was $94,748 and $27,187 for the years ended December 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively.

On December 5, 2007, a company owned by a director of the Company issued a promissory note for a loan of $24,000 to cover operating expenses. The note bears interest at a rate of 15.5% and is due on February 1, 2008. Interest expense of $275 was charged to operations for the year ended December 31, 2007.

Note 9- Consulting Agreements

On December 10, 2007, The Company entered into a consulting agreement with 0718806 BC Ltd. (the Consultant), a Canadian corporation owned by A.J. Jamani, the chairman of the board of directors of the Company. The duties of the Consultant are to provide the Company with financial planning, business development, equity capital structure reorganization, and overall corporate strategy reorganization. In consideration of the consulting agreement, the Company issued 1,342,000 shares of Series A preferred stock to the Consultant that includes voting rights giving the Consultant 49% voting control of the Company. The Consultant also designated the Company to issue 400,000 shares of Series A preferred stock to Aiden Demographics Inc and 400,000 shares of series A preferred stock to Icon Research Inc. The consulting agreement is effective for 12 months and either party may terminate the agreement at any time for any reason upon 30 days prior written notice.

Note 10 Development and Joint Venture Agreement

On August 22, 2006, the Company entered into an agreement with Jump Communications, Inc. (Jump) whereby certain services and products would be designed, developed and provided by Jump for the joint venture that was established pursuant to the agreement. Jump has the exclusive rights in perpetuity to certain intellectual property relating to video compression and telephony network switch management that enables the delivery between distant end points of full motion video and data using a variety of delivery media and transmission formats (collectively the Jump System). These technologies are currently marketed by Jump as the Jump System . The Company was required to pay to Jump $250,000 on the first day of each calendar quarter to ensure the exclusive right and license to use the Jump System technology. The Company was to make the $250,000 payment each quarter for two years, at which time, if the joint venture had achieved certain targeted annualized revenues, the payment obligation was to cease; provided; however, if revenues did not meet or fell below such threshold as determined each quarter, the payments would continue or resume, as the case may be. Ownership of intellectual property in the products and services developed for the Company and the joint venture by Jump was to be solely and exclusively owned by Jump.

As of the date of this report, the Company has abandoned the project and management has indicated that the Company is not subject to any further liabilities resulting from the agreement.

A licensing fee of $50,000 and $250,000 was charged to operations for the years ended December 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively.

Note 11 Commitments and Contingencies

The Company provides accruals for all direct costs associated with the estimated resolution of contingencies at the earliest date at which it is deemed probable that a liability has been incurred and the amount of such liability can be reasonably estimated.

Note 12 Subsequent Events

On February 14, 2008, the Company entered into a definitive agreement with Dinostar Inc. ("Dinostar"), a Nevada corporation, whereby the Company acquired Dinostar as a wholly owned subsidiary. The Company received 100% of Dinostar's issued and outstanding common shares of 35,000,000 in exchange for 5,000,000 shares of the Company's common stock.

Notes to Financial Statements

On March 26, 2008, the Company entered into a plan of acquisition with Winevin International Inc. (Winevin), a Nevada corporation, whereby the Company will acquire Winevin as a wholly owned subsidiary. The Company will receive 100% of Winevin's issued and outstanding common shares of 7,363,000 in exchange for 1,564,384 shares of the Company's common stock.

On March 12, 2008, the Company declared a dividend of 18.5% on all issued and outstanding common shares payable ex dividend date May 23, 2008.

Note 13 Restatement of Financial Statements

Subsequent to the issuance of the Company's financial statements for the quarter ended June 30, 2006, the Company determined that the market price used to compute the beneficial conversion feature on debt converted to common stock was incorrect. The prices used were as of the conversation date, not as of the date the option was granted. Based on the corrected market price the amount charged to interest expense due to the beneficial conversion feature has been reduced by $18,232,731. The additional paid in capital has been reduced by the same amount. The following summarizes the effect of the restatement:

Item 8. Changes In and Disagreements With Accountants on Accounting and Financial Disclosure

None.

Item 8A. - Controls and Procedures

As of the end of the period covered by this report, we conducted an evaluation, under the supervision and with the participation of our principal executive officer and principal financial officer, of our disclosure controls and procedures in accordance with Rule 13a-15 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Based on this evaluation, our principal executive officer and principal financial officer concluded that other than as noted herein our disclosure controls and procedures are effective to ensure that information required to be disclosed by the Company, in reports that we file or submit under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in SEC rules and forms. There was no change in our internal control over financial reporting during our most recently completed fiscal quarter that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

MANAGEMENT RESPONSIBILITIES UNDER SECTION 404

With respect to financial reporting and controls, Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act requires management of a publicly traded company to issue an internal control report that explicitly accepts responsibility for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting. Management must also issue an assertion as to whether internal control over financial reporting is effective as of the end of the fiscal year. Further, the assessment is to be made at a specific point in time. Therefore, management's assessment does not cover the entire year.

Management must comply with the following requirements in order for its registered public accounting firm (external auditor) to complete an audit of internal control over financial reporting:

- Accept responsibility for the effectiveness of the entity's internal control over financial reporting;
- Evaluate the effectiveness of the entity's internal control over financial reporting using suitable control criteria;

- Support its evaluation with sufficient evidence, including documentation; and
- Present a written assessment of the effectiveness of the entity's internal control over financial reporting as of the end of the entity's most recent fiscal year.

Management of the Company is responsible for the preparation, consistency, integrity, and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements. The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America applied on a consistent basis and, in management's opinion, are fairly presented. The financial statements include amounts that are based on management's informed judgments and best estimates.

As discussed above, as a subsequent event, the former management has been replaced to new management. In a review of former management's operations it has been, concluded that there was not sufficient maintenance of appropriate internal control over financial reporting at December 31, 2007. In arriving at that conclusion, the criteria established in Internal Control Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO) was considered and it was found that there was not a complete assessment as outlined in Commission Guidance Regarding Management's Report on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting Under Section 13(a) or 15(d) of the Exchange Act .

At this time the Board of Directors exercises its oversight role with respect to the Company's systems of internal control by itself as there is not a separately constituted Audit Committee, which is comprised solely of outside directors at this time. The Board of Directors oversees the Company's systems of internal control and financial reporting to assess whether their quality, integrity, and objectivity are sufficient to protect shareholders' investments.

As an event subsequent to this period, on February 8, 2008, we filed an 8k report with the Exchange indicating that the Company believed that significant material misrepresentations were made by former Officer (s) and Director (s). The misrepresentations and incorrect warranties regarding the Company's debt was misrepresented to attorneys, auditors, investors and the Securities and Exchange Commission by the certification required by Rule 13a-14(b) or Rule 15d-14(b) and section 906 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, 18 U.S.C. Section 1350. As a result, management is re-evaluating the Company's internal control over financial reporting to ensure compliance with all applicable requirements related to the preparation and disclosure of the Company's financial information. Thereafter and up to the date of this filing, the Company has had contact with its accountants and auditor to further reflect on these issues which has resulted in a restatement of a prior to filed 2006 financial statements. Our financials as submitted with this report outline in their notes the reasons for the restatement.

The Company's consolidated financial statements have been audited by Michael F. Albanese, CPA, as independent auditor. As part of its audit, Michael F. Albanese, CPA considered the Company's internal control to plan the audit and determine the nature, timing, and extent of auditing procedures considered necessary to render its opinion as to the fair presentation, in all material respects, of the consolidated financial statements, which is based on independent audits made accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Management's assertion that the Company did not maintain effective internal control over financial reporting for financial presentations in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America has not been audited by Michael F. Albanese, CPA. Management has made available to Michael F. Albanese, CPA all of the available Company's financial records and related data, and information concerning the Company's internal control over financial reporting, and believes that all representations made to Michael F. Albanese, CPA during his audit was valid and appropriate.

This annual report does not include an attestation report of the company's registered public accounting firm regarding internal control over financial reporting. Management's report was not subject to attestation by the company's registered public accounting firm pursuant to temporary rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission that permit the company to provide only management's report in this annual report.

Changes in Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In connection with our evaluation pursuant to paragraph (d) of Rule 240.13a-15 or Rule 240.15d-1, there has been no change in our internal control over financial reporting during our most recent fiscal quarter that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

As a subsequent event to the time period of this filing, the Company has now met with its accountants and auditor to reflect upon its internal financial controls and is taking steps to improve these controls to be in compliance with required standards.
