Santiago, Chile. May 4, 2016.- Sociedad Química y Minera de Chile S.A. (SQM) (NYSE: SQM; Santiago Stock Exchange: SQM-B, SQM-A) provided further information about its Minera Exar joint venture with Lithium Americas Corp.

In March of this year, SQM and Lithium Americas announced a joint venture to develop the Caucharí-Olaroz lithium project in the Jujuy province of Argentina. The project's production capacity is targeted at 40,000 tons per year of lithium carbonate equivalent. Under the current project timeline, the companies expect to begin plant commissioning and production by 2019. Total capital expenditures for the project are estimated to range between US$500 million and US$600 million, depending on final design criteria and project staging.

This week the companies met with Argentinian authorities, including the Secretary of Mining in Buenos Aires and the Governor of Jujuy, the Production Minister and the President of JEMSE in the province of Jujuy.

SQM has been diligently working on this project since the beginning of April 2016 and hopes to be able to start construction by the first half of 2017. SQM is committed to successfully developing the Minera Exar project in order to meet the world's lithium needs, complementing its existing lithium operations in Chile.
