BARCLAYS PLC

Barclays to acquire Indonesia's Akita

Barclays has entered into an agreement to acquire PT Bank Akita ("Akita"). Akita is a small, privately-owned bank with ten outlets in three major cities in Indonesia. As at July 2008, Akita had total assets of IDR 959 billion (ca. £51m).

The acquisition of Akita is in line with Barclays stated strategy of increasing its exposure over time to emerging markets with good growth characteristics. The transaction is expected to complete in early 2009, after receipt of appropriate regulatory approvals.

Forward Looking Statements

This announcement contains certain forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 21E of the US Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and Section 27A of the US Securities Act of 1933, as amended, with respect to certain of the Group's plans and its current goals and expectations relating to its future financial condition and performance.

By their nature, forward-looking statements involve risk and uncertainty because they relate to future events and circumstances, including, but not limited to, UK domestic and global economic and business conditions, market related risks such as changes in interest rates and exchange rates, the policies and actions of governmental and regulatory authorities, changes in legislation and the impact of competition- a number of which factors are beyond the Group's control. As a result, the Group's actual future results may differ materially from the plans, goals, and expectations set forth in the Group's forward-looking statements. Any forward-looking statements made by or on behalf of Barclays speak only as of the date they are made. Barclays does not undertake to update forward-looking statements to reflect any changes in Barclays expectations with regard thereto or any changes in events, conditions or circumstances on which any such statement is based. The reader should, however, consult any additional disclosures that Barclays has made or may make in documents it has filed or may file with the SEC.
