Exxaro shareholders are referred to the announcement released on SENS on 26 September 2011 and published in the press on 27 September 2011 relating to the proposed transaction between Exxaro and Tronox Incorporated ( Tronox ), which entails the combination of Exxaro's Mineral Sands Operations with the businesses of Tronox under a newly-formed Australian holding company ( New Tronox ) in exchange for approximately 38.5% of the shares in New Tronox (the Proposed Transaction ).

The unaudited pro forma financial effects of the Proposed Transaction on Exxaro have now been finalised and are set out below. The purpose of the financial effects is to illustrate the impact of the transaction on:

attributable and headline earnings per share for the period 1 January 2011 to 30 June 2011; and net asset value and net tangible asset value per share at 30 June 2011, on the assumption that the transaction had been implemented on 30 June 2011.

ASSUMPTIONS IN THE PREPARATION OF THE FINANCIAL EFFECTS

1. Flip up option

The flip-up option has not been included in the calculation of the financial effects because it is expected that the current South African legislation in relation to Black Economic Empowerment will not change in the near future. For this reason it has been assumed that the option will not be exercised in the near future.

2. Impairment reversals

No impairment reversals of the 2006 and 2009 KZN Sands Operations have been taken into account in the financial effects.

3. Accounting for the South African assets

Exxaro will own a direct shareholding of 26% and an indirect shareholding of 38,5% through New Tronox of the total South African Operations. This results in an effective shareholding of 54,49% of the South African Operations. Equity accounting has been applied in the preparation of the financial effects. It is expected that Exxaro will not have the power to govern the financial and operating policies of the operations, so as to benefit from their activities. It has been assumed that the control of the operations will rest with New Tronox, although Exxaro will have significant influence.

4. The determination of fair value

The pro forma equity value of New Tronox used in the preparation of the financial effects is R27,8 billion, based on the volume weighted average price at which Tronox's common shares traded for the 30 trading days to 23 September 2011 (30 day VWAP), being USD130,42 (R1 078,95 using a ZAR/USD exchange rate of 8,27 on 23 September 2011). The implied Exxaro value used was therefore R10,7 billion.

5. Proceeds on disposal

The purchase price will be settled by the issue of shares. These proceeds on disposal are based on the volume weighted average price at which Tronox's common shares traded for the 30 trading days to 23 September 2011 (30 day VWAP), being USD130,42 (R1 078,95 using a ZAR/USD exchange rate of 8,27 on 23 September 2011). The implied Exxaro value used was therefore R10,7 billion.

6. Accounting policies

The pro forma financial effects have been prepared using accounting policies consistent with IFRS and have been presented on the same basis using the accounting policies that Exxaro has adopted in its historical financial information.

7. Tronox reorganisation income

The pro forma financial information excludes Tronox's reorganisation income.

8. Conversion of Tronox Results for the period ended 30 June 2011

Tronox's results used in the preparation of the financial effects have been converted from US GAAP to IFRS and in accordance with the accounting policies of Exxaro.

9. Exchange rates used

Against ZAR	USD	AUD
The following exchange rates were used for the translation of the statements of financial position	6.78	7.28

10. Transaction fees

All transaction fees incurred and forecast have been included in the financial effects.

WITHDRAWAL OF CAUTIONARY ANNOUNCEMENT

In light of the above, Exxaro shareholders are advised that caution is no longer required to be exercised when dealing in Exxaro securities.
