Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

On November 23, 2004, Apria Healthcare Group Inc. entered into a $500 million credit agreement with a syndicate of banks led by Bank of America, N.A. and The Bank of Nova Scotia. The agreement, which is structured as a revolving credit facility, replaces the company's $400 million credit agreement, which consisted of two term loans and a $100 million revolving credit facility. The initial borrowing under the new credit facility totaled $224.8 million, the proceeds of which were used to pay the outstanding balances on the term loans. The increased borrowing capacity will be used for ongoing working capital, capital expenditures and general corporate purposes.

Indebtedness issued under Apria's new credit agreement is secured by a pledge of the capital stock of the company's subsidiaries. The pledge of stock may be released upon the achievement and maintenance of certain credit ratings as assigned by Moody's Investor Services and Standard and Poor's Ratings Group. The credit agreement contains covenants requiring the maintenance of certain financial ratios and various restrictions, including limitations on certain investments and certain additional borrowings.

The credit agreement permits Apria to select one of two variable interest rates: (1) the Eurodollar rate, which is equal to the London Interbank Offered Rate; or (2) the base rate, which is expressed as the higher of (a) the Federal Funds rate plus 0.50% or (b) the Prime Rate. Interest on outstanding revolving credit facility balances is determined by adding a margin to the Eurodollar or base rate in effect at each interest calculation date. Such margins are arranged into four pricing levels that range from .75% to 1.50% for Eurodollar loans and from 0% to .50% for base rate loans. Commitment fees on the unused portion of the revolving credit facility range from .15% to .375%. The applicable pricing level is determined by Apria's credit rating, as reported by either Moody's Investor Services or Standard and Poor's Ratings Group. The margins currently in effect for Eurodollar and base rate loans are 1.0% and 0%, respectively. The current commitment fee is .20%.

Edgar Filing: APRIA HEALTHCARE GROUP INC - Form 8-K

The credit agreement provides for the issuance of letters of credit in amounts up to $20 million in the aggregate. The credit agreement expires November 23, 2009.
