ROYAL CARIBBEAN REPORTS FIRST QUARTER 2004 RESULTS

MIAMI (April 21, 2004) Royal Caribbean Cruises Ltd. (NYSE, OSE: RCL) announced today that net income for the first quarter of 2004 was $95.8 million, or $0.47 per share. This compares to $53.2 million, or $0.27 per share, for the first quarter of 2003. Revenues for the first quarter of 2004 increased 20.6% to $1.1 billion from revenues of $880.2 million in the first quarter of 2003. The increase in revenues was primarily due to a 13.4% increase in capacity coupled with an increase in cruise ticket prices. Gross Yields for the first quarter of 2004 increased 6.3% from the first quarter of 2003. Net Yields, which the company considers a better measure of revenue performance, increased 5.3% from the first quarter of 2003. Gross Yields increased more than Net Yields due to a higher percentage of passengers choosing to book their air transportation through the company.

We are pleased with the first quarter results, and especially our ability to command yield improvements during a period of significant capacity growth for the industry, said Richard D. Fain, chairman and chief executive officer of Royal Caribbean Cruises Ltd. The market is absorbing new capacity well, and we are encouraged with the demand and pricing trends we are seeing for the remainder of the year.

In mid-2003, bookings and pricing began to stabilize and set the stage for a strong 2004 wave season. These expectations came to fruition with strong pricing and volume growth across both the Royal Caribbean International and Celebrity Cruise brands. As a result of the improved booking environment and favorable prior year comparisons, the company currently forecasts that Net Yields for the second quarter of 2004 will increase in the range of 9% to 11% compared to the second quarter of 2003. Prior year political disruptions and limited visibility makes forecasting Net Yields for the second half of the year more difficult. Assuming there are no external shocks and current booking trends continue, the company still expects Net Yields for the full year 2004 will increase in the range of 5% to 7% from the prior year.

1 of 8

Compared to the first quarter of 2003, Gross Cruise Costs and Net Cruise Costs, on a per Available Passenger Cruise Day basis, for the first quarter of 2004 increased 4.9% and 2.6%, respectively. For the full year 2004, the company's forecast of Net Cruise Costs, on a per Available Passenger Cruise Day basis, remains unchanged at an increase of 1% to 2% from the prior year. However, the timing of this increase is not evenly spread throughout the year. Due primarily to higher marketing and fuel expenses, the company estimates that Net Cruise Costs, on a per Available Passenger Cruise Day basis, for the second quarter of 2004 will increase at a rate higher than that experienced in the first quarter of 2004. The increase in marketing expenses for the second quarter is driven by the fact that the company suspended a significant amount of advertising activities at the start of the Iraq war and did not return to normal levels until late in the second quarter of 2003. For the second half of the year, the company expects Net Cruise Costs per Available Passenger Cruise Day to be roughly flat as compared to the same period of 2003.

Based upon these expectations, management continues to anticipate 2004 earnings per share to be in the range of $2.10 to $2.30.

Edgar Filing: ROYAL CARIBBEAN CRUISES LTD - Form 6-K

Earnings per share for the first quarter of 2004 were reduced by approximately $0.01 due to the dilutive impact of the company's May 2001 zero coupon convertible notes, which became convertible for the first time at the end of the first quarter of 2004. These notes are convertible and will remain so for the second, third and fourth quarters provided the share price of the company's common stock closes above $34.68, $35.09 and $35.50, respectively, for 20 out of the last 30 trading days of each quarter. The aforementioned earnings per share estimate assumes that these notes remain convertible throughout the year and dilute earnings per share by approximately $0.06.

2 of 8

In addition to the May 2001 zero coupon convertible notes, the company's February 2001 Liquid Yield Option Notes are not currently convertible but will become so during the second, third and fourth quarters if the share price of the company's common stock closes above $46.08, $46.64 and $47.20, respectively, for 20 out of the last 30 trading days of each quarter. The 2004 earnings per share estimate does not assume that these notes become convertible. In the event that these notes become convertible for the remainder of the year, earnings per share would be further reduced by approximately $0.02.

This month the company will add Jewel of the Seas to its fleet, which is the fourth in the 2,100-passenger Radiance-class series for Royal Caribbean International. The Jewel of the Seas and her sister ships, Radiance of the Seas, Brilliance of the Seas and Serenade of the Seas, have nearly three acres of exterior glass with panoramic elevators facing the sea and almost 600 balcony staterooms each. In addition to myriad entertainment options, Jewel of the Seas also features a wide range of activities and amenities to appeal to guests of all ages from the adults-only Solarium and the luxurious ShipShape Day Spa to the rock-climbing wall and a miniature golf course.

Just three months after Celebrity's announcement of Celebrity Xpeditions, a series of exotic experiences and exceptional excursions in the Galapagos Islands, the Arctic, Moscow and elsewhere, Celebrity and world-renowned entertainment enterprise Cirque du Soleil announced an exclusive, six-year agreement. Celebrity will sponsor Cirque du Soleil touring shows in North America and Europe, offer guests one-of-a-kind pre- and post-cruise experiences, capitalize on a variety of cross-marketing opportunities, and develop an exclusive and unique entertainment concept onboard select ships.

The company has scheduled a conference call at 10 a.m. eastern standard time today to discuss its earnings. This call can be listened to live or on a delayed basis on the company's investor relations web site at www.rclinvestor.com.

Terminology

Available Passenger Cruise Days

Available Passenger Cruise Days represent double occupancy per cabin multiplied by the number of cruise days for the period.

Gross Yields

Gross Yields represent total revenues per Available Passenger Cruise Day.

Net Yields

Net Yields represent total revenues less commissions, transportation and other, and onboard and other expenses per Available Passenger Cruise Day. We utilize Net Yields for revenue management purposes and believe that it is the most relevant measure of our pricing performance. We have not provided a quantitative reconciliation of projected Gross Yields to projected Net Yields due to the significant uncertainty in projecting the costs deducted to arrive at this measure. We utilize Net Yields to manage our business on a day-to-day basis and believe it is a more relevant measure of our performance. As such, we do not believe that reconciling information is meaningful.

Gross Cruise Costs

Edgar Filing: ROYAL CARIBBEAN CRUISES LTD - Form 6-K

Gross Cruise Costs represent total operating expenses and marketing, selling and administrative expenses.

Net Cruise Costs

Net Cruise Costs represent payroll and related, food and other operating expenses and marketing, selling and administrative expenses. In measuring our ability to control costs in a manner that positively impacts net income, we believe changes in Net Cruise Costs to be the most relevant indicator of our performance. We have not provided a quantitative reconciliation of projected Gross Cruise Costs to projected Net Cruise Costs due to the significant uncertainty in projecting the costs deducted to arrive at this measure. We utilize Net Cruise Costs to manage our business on a day-to-day basis and believe it is a more relevant measure of our performance. As such, we do not believe that reconciling information is meaningful.
