Prospectus
Dated March 27, 2006

NATIONAL PRESTO INDUSTRIES, INC.

Identification of the type of Registrant: The filing of this prospectus is pursuant to the Order for Permanent Injunction of Charles R. Norgle of the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division in Case No. 02 C 5077 dated December 9, 2005, clarified on December 23 in response to the Company's motion for suspension of that order which required the Registrant to register under the Investment Company Act of 1940 ("The Act"). As the Registrant believes that it does not meet the definition of an investment company in Section 3(a)(1) of the Act, the filing is not being made pursuant to the terms and requirements of the Act. As such, most of the data that is to be provided by this document is not applicable.

Title and Amount of Stock Offered: There is no initial public offering. The Registrant's shares have been traded since 1934 when it registered under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934. The registration is being made solely for the reason stated above. The Registrant as of March 3, 2006 had 6,828,095 shares of common stock outstanding. Stock is traded on the New York Stock exchange under the symbol, NPK .

Reliance on this Prospectus: This prospectus is being filed for the reason stated above, not pursuant to the Investment Act of 1940. Registrant is primarily engaged in running three operating businesses, not in investing and is registered solely because it was ordered to do so, as explained above. That which the court deemed to be investing activity is actually cash management; the Registrant's primary activity is in operations, not investment. It has filed an application to deregister. Its shareholders have asked that it continue to administer and nurture its operating businesses and have provided under Section 13 of the Investment Company Act of 1940 an authorization to Registrant to take actions which might be deemed to cause it to cease to be an investment company . Moreover, Registrant's investment to total asset ratio at the time of registration was below the 40% threshold set out in Section 3 of the Investment Company Act of 1940. Registrant believes that these surrounding facts regarding its business make clear that it is not an investment company and that this prospectus, the requirements of which are designed to set out information about an investment company, is not an appropriate source of information for making an investment decision regarding the registrant's securities. Registrant would advise any prospective investor to review financial information and disclosures provided in accordance with operating company GAAP before making any investment decision. Nonetheless, the following statements are being made because they are required by the form of the prospectus: i.) This prospectus sets forth concisely the information about the Registrant that a prospective investor ought to know before investing to the extent it perceives the Registrant as a closed end non-verified management fund. ii) This prospectus should be retained for future reference; iii) The Statement of Additional Information (S.A.I.) incorporated by reference into this prospectus is dated March 27, 2006. The table of contents can be found at page 6. Information about financial statements can be found at page 12.

The Securities and Exchange Commission has not passed upon the adequacy of this prospectus. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense.

There are risks involved in investing in the Registrant's stock. See Risk Factors on page 3.

Date of Document: Both this document and the accompanying Statement of Additional Information are dated March 27, 2006.

Item 3. Fee Table and Synopsis Not applicable. There is no common stock being offered in connection with this prospectus, the prospectus is neither long nor complicated, and the Registrant is not a business development company.

Item 4. Financial Highlights Not available. At present, Registrant has no financial data available of the kind prescribed in Rule 6-03 [17 CFR 210.6-03] of regulation S-X.

Item 5. Plan of Distribution Not applicable there are no securities being offered in connection with this prospectus.

Item 6. Selling Shareholders Not applicable there are no securities being offered in connection with this prospectus.

Item 7. Use of Proceeds Not applicable there are no securities being offered in connection with this prospectus.

Item 8. General Description of the Registrant

General: Registrant was formed on November 10, 1905, under the laws of the State of Wisconsin. The filing of this prospectus is pursuant to the Order for Permanent Injunction of Charles R. Norgle of the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division in Case No. 02 C 5077 dated December 9, 2005, clarified on December 23 in response to the Registrant's motion for suspension of that order which required the Registrant to register under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (The Act). As the Registrant believes that it does not meet the definition of an investment company in Section 3(a)(1) of the Act, the filing is not being made pursuant to the terms and requirements of the Act. Because no redeemable issue has been issued, if it were an investment company, the Registrant would be classified as a closed-end, non-diversified management company.

Objectives and Policies: The Registrant's objective is to support and expand its operating business segments. Funds in excess of those businesses' immediate capital needs are placed in instruments designed to maximize capital preservation and assure liquidity. These objectives may be changed without a shareholder vote. Objectives will be achieved by focusing management and employee effort on its three operating business segments: Housewares/Small Appliances, Defense, and Absorbent Products. Financial instruments currently selected for capital preservation/liquidity are primarily short term instruments which include money market funds, variable rate demand notes with 7 day put options, and highly rated municipal bonds which include bonds escrowed to maturity in U.S. Treasuries. Instrument terms currently range from 0 to 3 years, with a significant number such that full principal can be secured upon demand or within 7 days of a demand. Short term investments are rated VMIG1,P1, SP1+, or if not rated, are VMIG1 equivalent. Longer term instruments are rated A/A or better, or if not rated, are A/A equivalent or better.

Risk Factors: The Registrant's three operating business segments are subject to a number of risk factors, the occurrence of any one or more of which could have a significant adverse impact on the business, financial condition, or results of operations. While some of the more significant, but not all, risks faced by each operating segment are identified below, it should be recognized that there are other risks and circumstances that could also adversely impact the operating results of each segment and the Registrant as a whole. It should be noted that the majority of the Registrant's assets at fair value are its operating assets, not its financial instruments. Moreover, the majority of its earnings is sourced from operations, not interest. Its financial instruments carry little principal risk or interest risk, given their underlying credit strength, their short term nature, and the fact that full principal can be secured upon demand typically for a significant number of the instruments it holds.

Housewares/Small Appliances

This segment operates in a highly competitive and extremely price sensitive environment. Therefore, increased costs that cannot be fully absorbed into the price of products or passed along in the form of price increases to the retail customer can have a significant adverse impact on operating results. Loss of the Division's largest customer, Wal-mart, or a significant reduction in business with this customer, could have a serious adverse impact on overall performance. Similarly, the loss of, or material reduction in, business from any of this Division's other major customers could prove detrimental to this segment's operations. Housewares/Small Appliances is also dependent upon a handful of key suppliers based in the Orient for finished product. The inability of one or more of these manufacturers to provide quality product on a timely basis could be both costly and disruptive. The sales of this Division are also dependent upon the strength of the United States retail markets and consumer spending in general, particularly during the key Christmas selling season. Since all of this segment's finished goods are produced in the Orient, primarily China, this Division could also be adversely affected by changes in trade relations with China, currency fluctuations, or interruptions in international shipments.

Defense

The opportunity for this segment to obtain business is largely dependent upon competitive bidding and U.S. government defense spending. If successful in obtaining a bid, the work awarded is usually subject to a firm fixed price contract that provides little, if any, economic relief for changed conditions or circumstances that are detrimental to the contractor. Thus, contracts that are obtained must be performed on time, with quality product that is produced within previously projected cost parameters. In addition, any contract with the United States Government, whether direct or indirect, is subject to termination for the convenience of the Government, a provision that is unique to government contracts. There is also the risk that contracts with the Government may not be funded or the risk that there will be a change in requirements resulting in significant reductions in overall quantities or a stretch out of previously planned delivery schedules.

Absorbent Products

Edgar Filing: NATIONAL PRESTO INDUSTRIES INC - Form POS AMI

In addition to being highly capital intensive, this business segment utilizes complex technology and equipment that can be time consuming to receive, install, and then become fully operable on a consistent and reliable basis. It is highly competitive with low margins, where volume is critical. Therefore, it becomes essential to develop and operate at a maximum capacity and to achieve high efficiency in order to provide bottom line results. Loss of its largest customer, or a significant reduction in volume from that customer, could adversely impact the Division. Product pricing and overall performance is extremely sensitive to material commodity costs, including such items as wood pulp and petroleum based products. Freight and energy costs can also have a significant impact on overall performance.

Effects of leverage Not applicable No stock is being offered with this prospectus. The Registrant has not issued a senior class of securities.

Other Policies None.

Share Price Data not applicable no stock is being offered with this prospectus.

Business Development Companies not applicable.

Item 9. Management The responsibility of the Board of Directors is to exercise corporate powers and to oversee management of the business of the Registrant. The Registrant has no investment advisers, administrator, affiliated brokerage, dividend paying agent, non-resident managers, or active portfolio manager. The nature of the instruments in which funds in excess of immediate capital needs are placed are consistent with capital preservation and liquidity, and the task is a small part of the treasury function overseen by the Registrant's CFO, Randy Lieble. Day to day activity is limited to cash management based on the needs to provide and invest funds utilized and generated by the operating companies. Mr. Lieble has overall responsibility for this activity, spends less than 3% of his time on it, has been the Registrant's CFO in excess of five years, owned 1,532 shares of the Registrant as of March 8, 2006, and received total compensation during 2005 of $200,575. Registrant has a custodian-depository agreement with State Street Bank & Trust Company (previously Wachovia Bank of North Carolina), 125 Sunnynoll Court, Suite 200, Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Its Transfer Agent is Computershare Investor Services, P O Box 2388, Chicago, IL 60690-2388. It has one control person, Maryjo Cohen. Registrant's major expenses are those incident to its operating businesses, e.g., cost of goods sold, advertising, and business administration. Because Registrant is in existence, it has no organization expenses that will be paid out of its assets and thus no organization expenses to amortize.

Item 10. Capital Stock, Long-Term Debt, and Other Securities Registrant has one class of stock common with no special attributes. There are 12,000,000 shares authorized. Registrant holds 612,423 shares (treasury shares) and there are 6,828,095 shares outstanding. These shares have no special attributes. Each share is entitled to the same dividend, to the extent a dividend is declared, and constitutes one vote. There are no liquidation rights, liability to further calls or assessments, preemptive rights, conversion rights, redemption provisions, sinking fund provisions, or any material obligations or potential liability associated with ownership (not including investment risk). Its charter provides that a majority vote of not less than seventy-five percent is required for extraordinary corporate transactions involving the Registrant such as mergers, reorganizations, sale or transfer of substantially all of its assets or liquidation. It also provides that to the extent a shareholder has secured through a tender offer, more than fifty percent of the Registrant's shares, the most favorable offer must be extended to all shareholders. A copy of the charter is among the exhibits incorporated by reference to the Statement of Additional Information. As there are no securities being offered with this prospectus, there are no tax consequences applicable. Registrant has no long term debt.

Common	12,000,000	612,423	6,828,095

Item 11. Defaults and Arrears on Senior Securities Not applicable. Registrant has no senior securities.

Item 12. Legal Proceedings In July 2002, the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) filed a lawsuit in the federal district court in Chicago, Illinois, against the Registrant alleging the Registrant operated as an unregistered investment company from 1994 through 2002. The case does not involve fraud, deceptive practices, or questionable accounting methods. During the fourth quarter of 2005, the federal district judge granted the SEC's motion for summary judgment and ordered the Registrant to register under the Investment Company Act. The Registrant filed the requisite notice of registration, indicating that the Registrant did not believe that it met the statutory definition of an investment company and as such, the filing was being made pursuant to the court's order, rather than the terms and requirements of the Act. It also indicated that it would shortly be filing an application to deregister. That application was subsequently filed in January 2006. Timing of the SEC staff's review of the application for deregistration is not known at this time. Beginning in January 2006, the Registrant was in discussion with the SEC about the the form of filing for its year ended December 31, 2005. In April 2006, the SEC staff formally advised Registrant's counsel that it would not object if the Registrant filed operating company financial statements under the 1934 Act for the period ended December 31, 2005, so long as that filing was supplemented via footnote with audited pro forma financial statement information consistent with investment company reporting requirements pursuant to Article 6 of Regulation S-X and Form N-CSR. The SEC staff further advised that, if audited pro forma financial information was not available at the filing deadline, unaudited/incomplete investment company financial data should be supplied as an intermediate step, but stated its view that if the Registrant provided unaudited/incomplete financial statements, the Registrant would not be deemed by the SEC staff to have met its disclosure obligations under the federal securities laws. The Registrant has not supplemented its 1934 Act financial statements with unaudited/incomplete financial data upon advice of counsel. In order to provide an audited footnote, the Registrant needed to enter into an additional separate audit engagement with a public accounting firm. The Registrant had been informed that no reputable accounting firm would accept the investment company financial statements that the Registrant was then currently able to prepare as the basis for an audit engagement. The preparation of such statements raises many substantive and methodological questions for which the regulations and current accounting literature provide no clear answers.

In April, 2006, after receiving letters from the SEC staff addressing the absence of the pro forma footnote from the Registrant's 10-K and annual report filed in mid-March, 2006, the Registrant's 1934 Act auditors, Grant Thornton withdrew its opinions pertaining to the year ended December 31, 2005 and shortly thereafter resigned. The Registrant has tentatively selected a new public accounting firm to handle both the 1934 Act operating audit and the audit of the pro forma footnote. The accounting firm has informed the registrant that the firm will require further guidance and clarification from the SEC on matters pertaining to the audits as a condition to the firm's accepting the audit engagement.

The Registrant has filed a notice of appeal from the federal district judge's decision to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the 7th Circuit. Because the appeal was from a summary judgment rather than a trial decision, the findings of the lower court will be reviewed afresh (de novo) by three judges at the appellate level. Both the Company's and the SEC's briefs have been filed. Oral argument is scheduled for September 20, 2006. Although management believes that its position will be upheld on appeal, it can not predict either when the matter will be resolved or what the final outcome will be.

During the process of the appeal and the SEC's consideration of its deregistration application, in addition to complying with the 1940 Act filing requirements, the Company has provided and plans to continue to provide its shareholders and the investment community with operating company financial information prepared in a fashion that is consistent with its historical filings, so that investors will have a meaningful way to monitor the Company's performance.

In addition, the Company is involved in other routine litigation incidental to its operating segments. Management believes the ultimate outcome of this litigation will not have a material affect on the Company's consolidated financial position, liquidity, or results of operations.

Item 16. General Information and History The Registrant believes that it does not meet the definition of an investment company in Section 3(a)(1) of the Investment Company Act (the Act). Accordingly, this filing is not being made pursuant to the terms and requirements of the Act, but instead pursuant to the Order for Permanent Injunction of Charles R. Norgle of the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division in Case No. 02 C 5077 dated December 9, 2005, clarified on December 23 in response to the Registrant's motion for suspension of that order. Currently and for the past 5 years, the Registrant's primary business is made up of three distinct operating segments: Housewares/Small Appliances, Defense, and Absorbent products. Pursuant to the judge's order, Registrant filed the application for registration on December 27, 2005.

Item 17. Investment Objective and Policies The Registrant's objective is to support and expand its operating business segments. Funds in excess of those businesses' immediate capital needs are placed in instruments designed to maximize capital preservation and assure liquidity. Objectives are achieved by focusing management and employee effort on its three operating business segments: Housewares/Small Appliances, Defense, and Absorbent Products. Financial instruments currently selected for capital preservation are primarily short term instruments which include money market funds, variable rate demand notes with 7 day put options, and highly rated municipal bonds which include bonds escrowed to maturity in U.S. Treasuries. The Registrant does not engage in the activities or does not have the instruments in question: issuance of senior securities; short sales; purchases on margin and writing puts/calls; borrowing money, underwriting securities of other issuers, purchase or sale of real estate and real estate mortgage loans except as such purchases support its three operating segments; and making of loans. As such, its current policy is to not engage in the activities or hold such instruments, except as otherwise stated above. Since commodities are used in its operating businesses, Registrant does purchase them at times in advance of actual needs in order to minimize the impact of anticipated price increases.

There are no non-resident directors and no understandings between directors or officers pursuant to which he was selected as a director or officer. As the Registrant has no investment advisers or underwriters, information solicited in connection with officers of such entities serving on the board or material factors for approving investment advisory contracts is either not applicable or does not exist.

The Registrant has three standing committees: Audit, Compensation, and Nominating/Corporate Governance Committees consisting of Messrs. Cardozo, Quinn, and Stienessen, each an independent director as defined by the rules of the New York Stock Exchange. It is the purpose of the Audit Committee to assist the Board of Directors in fulfilling its oversight responsibilities relating to: (1) the integrity of the Registrant's financial statements, (2) the Registrant's compliance with legal and regulatory requirements, (3) the independent auditor's qualifications and independence, and (4) the performance of the Registrant's internal audit function and independent auditors. During 2005, the Audit Committee held five meetings. Mr. Stienessen has been designated as the Audit Committee Financial Expert. The purpose of the Compensation Committee is to discharge the Board's responsibilities relating to executive compensation and other executive compensation matters, including review of the succession plans for the chief executive officer and other senior executives. Activities of the Compensation Committee is to be consistent with the Registrant's overall direction and purpose regarding executive compensation as set forth in its charter. The Compensation Committee had one meeting in 2005. The purpose of the Nominating/Corporate Governance Committee is to identify individuals qualified to become Board members in accordance with the criteria described below, and to take such other action consistent with provisions in its charter. The Nominating/Corporate Governance Committee is also responsible for advising the Board on corporate governance matters, which include developing and recommending to the Board corporate governance principles, overseeing the self evaluation process for the Board and its committees, and such other functions as set forth in its charter. The Nominating/Corporate Governance Committee had one meeting in 2005. In identifying prospective director candidates, the Nominating/Corporate Governance Committee (herein the "Nominating Committee") considers its personal contacts, recommendations from shareholders, and recommendations from business and professional sources, but does not pay a fee to any third party. The Nominating Committee's policy is to consider qualified candidates for positions on the Board recommended in writing by shareholders. Shareholders wishing to recommend candidates for Board membership may submit the recommendations in writing to the Secretary of the Registrant at least ninety (90) days prior to the scheduled annual meeting, with the submitting shareholder's name and address and pertinent information about the proposed nominee similar to that set forth for the nominee named herein. When evaluating the qualifications of potential new Directors, or the continued service of existing Directors, the Nominating Committee considers a variety of criteria, including the individual's reputation for honesty and integrity; respect from leaders and the general citizenry in the community in which the individual resides; the individual's knowledge of business principles and intellectual capacity to quickly grasp and understand the intricacies of the Registrant's businesses; attainment of official status with a leading company, agency, educational institution, or other form of enterprise; accessibility geographically and otherwise for meetings; specialized skills or expertise; diversity of background; independence; financial expertise; freedom from conflicts of interest; ability to understand the role of a Director; and ability to fully perform the duties of a Director. While candidates recommended by shareholders will generally be considered in the same manner as any other candidate, special consideration will be given to existing Directors desiring to stand for re-election given their history of service and their knowledge of the Registrant, as well as the Board's knowledge of their level of contribution resulting from such service. Shareholders wishing to recommend for nomination or nominate a Director should contact the Registrant's Secretary for a copy of the relevant procedure for submitting nominations and a full delineation of the criteria considered by the Nominating Committee when evaluating potential new Directors or the continued service of existing Directors.

100% of Ms. Cohen and Mr. Bartl's compensation were as employees of Registrant. They serve on the board without pay.

 Mr. Stienessen's actual compensation for 2005 was $10,027 as he was not a director for the entire year. Henceforth, his compensation will be at the $25,000/yr rate.

Rule 17j-1(c) applies only to companies whose principle business is to purchase, sell, and hold securities which is not the business of the registrant. Accordingly, it has no code of ethics. Registrant has no policies and procedures used to vote proxies related to portfolio securities as it currently owns no equity securities other than those of its wholly owned subsidiaries and de minimus shares in some of its competitors which it does not vote.

Item 19. Control Persons and Principal Holders of Securities information was provided as of March 8, 2006.

- ³ Includes 288,839 shares owned by charitable trusts and private charitable foundations (other than the Phillips Foundation) of which Mr. Cohen is co-trustee, officer, or director, and as such exercises shared voting and investment powers. Does not include shares held in a voting trust described in the section below captioned "Voting Trust Agreement," for which Mr. Cohen holds voting trust certificates. Pursuant to the voting trust, Mr. Cohen does not have the power to vote or dispose of such shares.

The only equity security of the Registrant owned by its directors and officers is its common stock.

Item 20. Investment Advisory and Other Services Not applicable

Item 21. Portfolio Managers The Registrant does not have a portfolio manager as such. See Item 9, above for additional details and explanation.

Item 22. Brokerage Allocation and Other Practices Not applicable

Item 23. Tax Status Registrant is not qualified and does not intend to qualify under Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code. Its tax status will remain that of an operating company under Title 26, Subchapter A. As such, operating and taxable interest income of the Registrant will be taxed at corporate rates and any dividends the Registrant pays to its shareholders will be taxed as dividends at the personal dividend rate applicable to each shareholder in effect during the year payment. In contrast, a Subchapter M company's earnings are taxed in the year distributed to the investor at the investor's personal income rates.

Item 24. Financial Statements Financial statements prepared in accordance with 210.5-01 through 210.5-04 Regulation S-X can be found in the Registrant's 10-K filing for the year ending 12-31-2005 December 31, 2005 which is incorporated herein by reference. No other financial information is available at present. On April 14, 2006, the SEC staff formally advised Presto's counsel that it did not object if the Company filed operating company financial statements under the 1934 Act for the period ended December 31, 2005, so long as that filing was supplemented via footnote with audited pro forma financial statement information consistent with investment company reporting requirements pursuant to Article 6 of Regulation S-X and Form N-CSR. On April 12 2006, after receiving two letters from the SEC staff addressing the absence of the audited footnote from the Registrant's 10-K and annual report, the Company's 1934 Act auditors, Grant Thornton withdrew its opinions pertaining to the year ended December 31, 2005 and in a letter dated April 25, 2006 resigned. The Registrant has tentatively selected a new public accounting firm to handle both the 1934 Act operating audit and the audit of the pro forma footnote. The accounting firm has informed the registrant that the firm will require further guidance and clarification from the SEC on matters pertaining to the audits as a condition to the firm's accepting the audit engagement. Registrant is thus currently not in a position to state when the pro forma footnote will be available, since it does not know whether the engagement to audit such a footnote will be accepted or when and whether a clean opinion will ultimately be rendered. For additional details on this matter see the Registrant's Form 8-K/A filings dated April 25, 2006 and May 11, 2006.

* This form is being filed pursuant to the Order for Permanent Injunction of Charles R. Norgle of the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division in Case No. 02 C 5077 dated December 9, 2005, clarified on December 23 in response to the Company's motion for suspension of that order which required the Registrant to register under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (The Act). As the Registrant believes that it does not meet the definition of an investment company in Section 3(a)(1) of the Act, the filing is not being made pursuant to the terms and requirements of the Act.
