A message from Indra Nooyi, chairman and CEO - PepsiCo
Dear Associates,

I am delighted to inform you that we have reached a definitive merger agreement with The Pepsi Bottling Group and PepsiAmericas, Inc. transforming PepsiCo into an unbelievable Food and Beverage powerhouse with revenues of almost $60B and pre-tax profits approaching $10B.

"The dogmas of the quiet past are inadequate to the stormy present"
Abraham Lincoln, 1862

While the existing model has served the North American Beverage business well, the dynamics of the North American liquid refreshment beverage business have changed. Retailers have continued to consolidate and new beverage competitors have emerged with a proliferation of products and vastly different economics. Customers and consumers today expect a range of choices that few of us could have imagined a decade ago.

To strengthen our position, we need a more flexible and competitive system that can drive growth across a full range of PepsiCo beverage brands. As an integrated system, we can more efficiently drive cost synergies, invest in marketing and product innovation, incubate new health and wellness offerings, and optimize manufacturing and distribution systems. All of this will allow us to be far more nimble in the market place and capture additional growth and profit opportunities far into the future.

Importantly, the merger will enable us to present a unified face to our customers and take Power of One to a new level. We'll be much better equipped to provide large retail accounts with customized solutions and product bundles and it will be much easier to match products with the right distribution system.

In the months ahead, it will be critically important that we remain focused on customer service, marketplace execution and on the 5 priorities for 2009. I know that you will have many questions about the process and implications of the merger and I can assure you that we will be communicating regularly on how we are managing through the changes.

Please join me in extending a warm welcome to our new associates from PBG and PAS who will be joining us once the transaction closes. I look forward to starting this new and exciting chapter together with our best foot forward.

Indra
